MAKING HIS WAY ALONG PUGET SOUND.

Tacoma Visited and the Citizens Greet the Nation's Chief.

Distinguished Guests in the Reception Party—Grand Army and Spanish War Veterans Among the Masses That Listen to His Speech—Departure for Portland—Entry into the State of Washington at Klamath.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TACOMA (Wash.) May 22.—Under a favoring blue sky, the President's train rolled into the Northern Pacific depot promptly at 4 o'clock this afternoon. A multitude thronged the streets about the station, and rent the air with cheers.

Mayor Campbell entered the car and welcomed the President. Little time was lost in the official reception. While the introductions to the committee were made, the guns of the revenue cutter McCulloch, lying in the harbor, gave a salute of twenty-one guns.

As the President emerged from the canopy of flags at the station and entered the carriage, accompanied by Gov. McBride, Mayor Campbell and Secretary Loeb, the crowd broke into cheers, which the President promptly acknowledged. Fifteen carriages swung into line, while an escort of mounted police and cavalry formed a guard of honor.

At Division avenue the escort of G.A.R. and Spanish-American veterans dropped out of the parade, and the President was given a ride through the residence section, passing many of the public-school buildings where the children were grouped, and gave him an enthusiastic reception.

Aside from the Presidential party, the distinguished guests in carriages included, among others, Senator A. G. Foster and Senator Levi Ankeny of Washington; Senator Mitchell of Oregon, Congressmen Cushman, Jones and Humphrey of Washington, Brig.-Gen. Funston, Capt. Hoeker, commandant of the naval station at Bremerton; President Mellen of the Northern Pacific, Capt. Bostwick, U.S.N.; Capt. Coulson, commander of the revenue cutter McCulloch, and a number of mayors of neighboring cities.

While the drive about the city was in progress, the crowd thronged Wright Park, where the President was to address the people. About the grand stand were massed the G.A.R. and Spanish-American veterans, while a cordon of police kept the way clear. To the beautiful attractions of the park had been added the embellishments of lavish decorations of flags, bunting and triumphal arches. The bright columns of women and children, and the vivid green of the shrubbery combined to make a brilliant scene of life and color. Cheers burst forth as the President stepped upon the platform. He bowed his head and took his seat in a magnificent chair made of elks' horns, a gift to him.

Mayor Campbell introduced the President, who was greeted with a burst of cheering, which he smilingly acknowledged. Looking down at the Spanish-American veterans, the President said he understood a man who was in his regiment in Cuba was in the grounds, and he invited him to come upon the platform.

The Mayor presented Otto Winter, who was a Texas trooper in the Cuban campaign. The President shook his hand cordially, and expressed pleasure at meeting his comrade. The President asked the committee as a personal favor that Winter accompany the party on the steamer tomorrow on the ride on the sound. The President's friendly remarks to the G.A.R. men and the Spanish American veterans were particularly pleasing incidents at the park. His address at the park, which was highly characteristic, was received with frequent shouts of approval and applause.

On leaving the park, the Masonic Grand Lodge of Washington, together with the Grand Commandery, Knights-Templar, and the commanderies of Tacoma and Seattle, 300 swords in line, escorted the President to the site of the Masonic Temple, where the President laid the corner-stone. All the surrounding buildings were occupied by eager sightseers, every available window and roof swarming with humanity.

A thousand Masons and Templars participated in the impressive ceremonies. The President made a few remarks, saying:

"Brothers: I shall say but one word. It has been a great pleasure to me to take part in the laying of this corner-stone; and I trust that the building erected thereon will be in every deed, as in name, devoted to friendship and virtue, and all of those purposes which we hold dear. I ask that each man here do so conduct himself that the principles which we profess may be real and vitalizing influences in our lives, in our relations with one another and with the outside world."

At the conclusion of the ceremonies, the President, amid great cheering, reentered his carriage and was conveyed to the Tacoma Hotel.

Senator Foster gave a dinner in honor of the President at the hotel tonight, and the press representatives with the party were also given a dinner.

When the President stepped down from the platform to lay the corner-stone, he shook hands with the Mason who handed him the trowel, and as the President began to spread the cement some one asked: "Are you a union man?"

The President quickly replied: "Why, I'm working over-time on this," which raised a great laugh.

The President was presented by the Grand Lodge with a silver trowel in an ebony case as a souvenir of the occasion.

ANACONDA RECOGNIZED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BUTTE (Mont.) May 22.—Arrangements were perfected today by the Presidential Reception Committee whereby the citizens of Anaconda, to the number of over two thousand, will be given a place on the reception programme. The President will stop in the line of march for five minutes and address the Copper City people, who will present him with a loving cup of copper, gold and silver, inlaid with Montana gems.

BOUND FOR PUGET SOUND.

DEPARTURE FOR PORTLAND.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PORTLAND (Or.) May 22.—The President and party left here at 8 o'clock this morning over the Northern Pacific for Puget Sound. The President was loudly cheered by the crowds of people along the route, from the hotel to the station.

ENTRY AT KLAMATH.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

KLAMATH (Wash.) May 22.—The President entered the State of Washington at Klamath this morning. He was met here by Gov. McBride, who welcomed him to the State. The President responded in a brief address. The engine that pushed the President's car onto the ferryboat, on which it crossed the Columbia River from Oregon, had a live bear cub attached to a pole on the tender. The President was greatly interested in the little fellow on board the engine, and patted its head. The bear failed to appreciate the honor that was paid him, however, and while the train was being shunted onto the ferry signified his disapproval by uttering baby bear growls.

ARRIVAL AT CHEHALIS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHEHALIS (Wash.) May 22.—The President's special arrived at Chehalis promptly on schedule time. A crowd of 10,000 people had assembled, and as the train pulled into the depot, the President was greeted with cheers. Mayor Francis Donahue met the President as he alighted, and escorted him directly to an elevated passageway leading to McKinley stump, a mammoth fir stump which had been beautifully adorned, and which stands near the depot. The President was greeted by members of the local committee, including Mr. and Mrs. William Hazzard, parents of Lieutenants Hazzard, who were with Gen. Funston at the capture of Aguinaldo. The President spoke to the crowd for fifteen minutes.

FIRST GLIMPSE OF SOUND.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

OLYMPIA, (Wash.), May 22.—The President caught his first glimpse of Puget Sound at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, as the train entered Olympia, the capital city of Washington. Although other stops had been made in Washington, it was in Olympia that the official reception to this State was accorded the President.

The Governor's staff, ex-Governors, State officers, and reception committees, in addition to 5000 persons from out of the city, were gathered to greet the President. From the depot to the capitol building, a long line of troops from the National Guard were deployed, and the President and party were driven in the office of Gov. McBride. Gov. McBride and Mayor Lord occupied seats in the President's carriage, which had been decorated with the State's flower, the rhododendon, and evergreens.

At the office of Gov. McBride, an informal reception of ten minutes was had. From the main entrance of the capitol building, a platform had been constructed. One hundred and fifty people were seated on the platform, and from its outer edge the President addressed briefly the people gathered in the Capitol Park. At the close of the President's address, the party were driven for ten minutes through the residence portion of the city to the Masonic Temple, which was built over fifty years ago. After a few minutes spent in the temple, the party, at 2:30 o'clock, left for Tacoma.

HARRIMAN DISPOSES OF MUCH MILEAGE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Since the beginning of 1903, the Harriman interest has sold outright 540 miles of Oregon Short Line and a half-interest in the Houston and Texas Central, 692 miles; Texas and New Orleans, 304 miles, and Houston, East and West Texas, 231 miles. In addition, the San Antonio and Arkansas Pass road, 437 miles, will be sold within a few weeks. The grand total of the mileage upon which a hold has been relinquished is therefore 2654 miles. This development is the most complete surprise that has occurred in the railroad year of 1903. Hitherto it has been an axiom that the Southern Pacific must hold the Gulf safe, and that therefore the Harriman lines were not for sale. Yet within three months Harriman has sold mileage enough to make a small system. The reasons are about as follows:

First—To avoid the construction of parallel lines so powerful as to insure the ruin of the Harriman road.

Second—For the concentration of effort on east and west traffic for the Southern Pacific, practically under a guaranty that the Rock Island will not attempt to interfere with this, but will confine itself to north and south trunk-line traffic.

Third—The interference of the Texas Legislature with the economical operation of all Texas railroads, and especially the Harriman lines. Possibly the shifting of the headquarters of trans-Pacific trade from San Francisco to Puget Sound ports, necessitating the direction of Harriman's effort in this direction, unless the Union Pacific is to go backward.

WAR WITH FREIGHT MEN.

RAILROADS ARE LINING UP.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The railroads are lining up for a war with the freight handlers.

"Not a penny of increase will be granted; the railroads are getting ready to combat the demand made upon them for a 25 per cent increase of wages. It means fight—the merchants will do well to keep out of it."

This was the note of warning which emanated from an unquestionable source in La Salle street today, with the time set for the new working agreement of the Interior Warehousemen and Freight-handlers' Union to go into effect, only eight days away. It means that with the city already embroiled in a labor war more complicated than at any time previously in the history of trades-unionism, Chicago is fearing a freight-handlers' strike, which will be more serious than the strike which demoralized business, tied up all shipping and resulted in fierce rioting a year ago.

The Northwestern Railroad is hiring farm hands and men in all the towns along its lines, it is said, to be ready to hurry them to Chicago in the event of a freight-handlers' strike. Other railroads are believed to be taking similar steps. All indications are that the railroads will not agree to any compromise.

The managers of the union are ready to accept arbitration, according to President Curran, but the railroad managements are not ready to yield in the smallest part to their employes' demands. These demands provide for the following scale:

	Present.	Proposed.
Checkers, per month ...	$40.00	$75.00
Stevedores, per day	1.85	2.31
Deliverymen, per mo. ..	55.00	66.75
Callers, per day	1.80	2.25
Truckers, per day	1.70	2.12½

They also want agreements for a ten-hour day, time and a half overtime, and no discrimination against union men.

ST. PAUL'S PREPARATIONS

TO ABSORB THE M. K. AND T.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It was reported in Wall street today that the St. Paul Railroad is preparing to absorb the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad, and that this intention is really the cause of the proposed issue of the new St. Paul stock. It was regarded as a significant fact that a block of 10,000 shares of St. Paul was, Thursday afternoon, transferred to Standard Oil interests by a Wall-street banking house which bought the stock in the open market. The Rockefellers probably have control of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, jointly with James Henry Smith.

The Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway is owned by John D. Rockefeller, and has been long a profitless venture. The road runs from Kansas City to the Gulf, and would undoubtedly be a valuable feeder in the Southwest to the St. Paul system.

Railway Shops Burned.

NORFOLK (Va.) May 22.—The Seaboard Air Line shops were burned tonight, the loss amounting to $750,000 or more. The destruction of the shops and roundhouse is complete.

SWEPT UP SOLOMON.

Terrific Cyclone in Kansas Valley.

Family of H. C. Harvey Goes Into Cellar and Falling House Injures the Man.

Town of Bala Struck and Nearly All of the Houses Therein Go From Foundations.

Report that Mulvane Has Been Laid Waste—Another Blast Near Ashland.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ABILENE (Kan.) May 22.—A cyclone swept up the Solomon Valley at 4 o'clock this afternoon, then turned east and passed between Talmage and Manchester. About two miles north of the former it struck the buildings on the farm of H. C. Harvey, a former representative in the Legislature. The family went to the cellar, and the falling house injured Harvey seriously, and perhaps fatally. All the buildings were ruined.

On the Williams farm, the house and buildings were destroyed; on Edward Gibson's farm, the buildings, except the house, were wiped out. The storm then coursed northeast, killing cattle and destroying some barns, until it broke, near Industry.

TOWN OF BALA STRUCK.

DAMAGE IN CLAY COUNTY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) May 22.—A dispatch from Clay Center says that at 5:30 o'clock today a cyclone struck the little town of Bala, in Riley county. Two little girls named Dash were killed. The storm struck part of Clay county, but as far as known nobody was killed.

At Bala, nearly all the houses in town were blown away. Telegraph wires were blown down and much other damage was done. The cyclone cleared a path forty rods wide, moving just east of Broughton and west of Gatesville, in Clay county. A Union Pacific train at Wakefield narrowly escaped being caught in the storm. Heavy rain and hail followed the cyclone.

HAILSTORM AT SALINA.

BAD STORM REPORTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SALINA (Kan.) May 22.—The worst hailstorm in the history of Salina visited this place tonight. Nearly every window in the town was broken. The hail broke through corrugated iron roofs on the business houses, and the rain pouring in, damaged thousands of dollars' worth of property.

After the hail, a severe windstorm came up, taking the roof off the Methodist Church and doing damage to other small buildings. A bad storm is reported from the vicinity of Niles and Pennington, northwest of Salina, but no definite news is obtainable.

MULVANE LAID WASTE.

IMPOSSIBLE TO GET NEWS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) May 22.—It is reported that Mulvane, west of here, is laid waste by a cyclone. It is impossible at this time to get any news, as the town is isolated by all the wires being down. The Santa Fé general offices here have a report from their western division to the effect that telegraph poles for a short distance this side of Newton are broken off, and that there is no way of getting at the fact regarding the storm.

ANOTHER NEAR ASHLAND.

MUCH PROPERTY DESTROYED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ASHLAND (Kan.) May 22.—A cyclone more severe than that of yesterday, passed through this county this afternoon. Nobody was hurt, but much property was destroyed. Fifteen head of horses belonging to David K. Linger were carried a long distance by the wind and then killed. The Santa Fé report says that there is no doubt but that a wide stretch of country in the vicinity of Newton was in the path of the storm, and it is impossible to work any of the wires entering there from any direction.

CYCLONE STRIKES VERMILLION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

VERMILLION (Kan.) May 22.—A cyclone struck here this evening. The Missouri Pacific depot was entirely demolished, many business houses were unroofed, and the Presbyterian Church almost ruined. Many residences were lifted off their foundations and others torn to pieces. Nobody was seriously injured.

VETERANS MARCH AGAIN.

NEW ORLEANS, May 22.—The last feature of the Confederate reunion was the great parade held this afternoon. The entire line of march was five miles in length, and as the parade was conducted beneath a hot sun, a few of the older veterans found the way a trifle long. The great majority, however, finished the march. Carriages containing Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, Mrs. E. K. Caby Smith, Mrs. Braxston Bragg, Mrs. Thomas J. Semmes, Judge and Mrs. John D. Reagan were in the parade.

CONDIT ENDS HIS LIFE.

WATSONVILLE, May 22.—W. F. Condit, a prominent young orchardist of this valley, committed suicide this morning by shooting himself in the stomach with a single-barrel shotgun. He had been mentally unbalanced for some time.

WASHINGTON.

GENERAL STAFF IN OPERATION.

Most of Them Detailed to the War College.

Committees Appointed to Revise Various Regulations.

Selection of Site and Time for the Combined Maneuvers is Under Consideration.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There was a provision in the bill authorizing the establishment of General Staff Corps in the army, to the effect that it should not go into operation until after August 15. As a matter of fact, the General Staff is now in full swing in everything except name. It is rather a peculiar situation that most of the officers are officially detailed to duty in connection with the War College, whereas that subject is rarely mentioned. Of course, the actual machinery of the General Staff will not be exposed to the public view until after August 15, but the various wheels are revolving already.

About two weeks ago Secretary Root ordered forty-two officers to report to Gen. Young for preliminary work in connection with the General Staff. Gen. Young is slated to succeed Gen. Miles as lieutenant-general, and will be the first chief of the General Staff Corps. It is intended to have Gen. Young act as president of the War College in the interim. Most of the forty-two officers thus detailed have arrived here, and are going through the course of sprouts mapped out by Secretary Root and Gen. Young for organization of the General Staff. The latter has appointed a number of committees, with instructions to revise the various regulations and methods to suit the conditions as they will exist after August 15.

The army regulations are being overhauled by a special committee of officers of the General Staff. Wherever the clause "Commanding General of the Army" or reference to that officer occurs, it is being droped out, and in its place the words "Chief of Staff" are being inserted. After August 15, orders of officers not to be by "command of the Commanding General of the Army.' The Chief of Staff will have duties similar to those now performed by Gen. Miles, but in addition will have vastly more power and greater opportunity. Acting by authority of the President or Secretary of War, he will conduct and superintend the carrying-out of the great policies of the service, and will also look after the details of operation of all branches of the army.

The regulations are being revised, so that rules for procedure on the part of the Chief of Staff and members of this staff may all be laid down for the new organization of the army. The general infantry drill regulations and manual of small-arm regulations are being revised in the same manner. Secretary Root has already called on the General Staff to help him out in the solution of the difficult problem in connection with the army administration. In several cases presented to him where there was no precedent to guide him, he has referred the matter to a select committee of General Staff officers. In this way he has secured expert and technical advice on subjects relating to supplies for army storehouse facilities, transportation of munitions of war, etc.

At the request of Secretary Root, the committee is now considering the selection of a site and time for combined maneuvers of the regular troops and militia during the coming summer.

ANTI-ADULTERATION.

IMPORTANT CASE ON HAND.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The State Department is cooperating with the Agricultural and Treasury departments to carry out the terms of the anti-adulteration clause of the Agricultural Appropriation Act passed by the last Congress, and it will not be surprising if the results are of exceeding importance and involve something akin to retaliation on the part of the European countries. The test case, the foundation for which has been laid in the Agricultural and Treasury departments, will be based on importations of adulterated German Rhine wines.

The State Department has received from the Agricultural Department a request for a copy of the record of the proceedings in the case of Dr. Schnape Von Hope, one of the largest wine makers in Neirstein, who was arrested in Germany for adulterating wine. A great deal of this wine comes from America, and the Agricultural and Treasury departments wish to secure the legal evidence upon which it may be excluded.

FREIGHT TO PHILIPPINES.

TWO BIDS ACCEPTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Col. Patten, acting Quartermaster-General of the army, today decided to accept two bids for carrying freight from the Pacific Coast to the Philippines. The bids were the same on miscellaneous freights and passengers. The contracts will be made with the Pacific Mail Steamship Company for San Francisco freight, and with the Boston Steamship Company for freight from Seattle. The rate is $4.25 from either point to Manila; officers, $125 each, with subsistence; soldiers, $40 to $50, according to the number when subsisted en route, and $30 to $40, according to the number, when fed by the government; animals, $110 per head from San Francisco, and $100 per head from Seattle, when subsisted by the companies, and $85 and $75, respectively, when subsistence is furnished by the United States.

The action today does not mean that the transport service of the government will be discontinued, but the contracts are made for such freight as may not be carried by the transports.

EUROPEAN SQUADRON.

DEPARTMENT PLANS SUSPENDED

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The various changes in the European squadron have caused a suspension of the plans of the Navy Department respecting the foreign movements of the ships which now compose it. Yesterday three protected cruisers, the Albany, Cincinnati and Raleigh, sailed from Villefranche for the Asiatic station, where, with the New Orleans, they are to form a separate division of the Asiatic fleet.

The departure of these three ships decreased the European squadron to the flagship Chicago, and the gunboat Machias, last reported at Marseilles. Soon, however, they will be reinforced by the San Francisco, which has sailed from Santiago for Lisbon. Under the changed conditions, it will depend on the President himself whether this squadron will go to Kiel.

TRACEWELL MAKES ANSWER.

IN RE POSTOFFICE CHARGES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Capt. Henry A. Castle, auditor for the Postoffice Department, and Comptroller Tracewell of the Treasury had an interview with Postmaster-General Payne today regarding the postoffice investigation. Tracewell submitted his answer to the Postmaster-General's recent request for supplemental information regarding the Tulloch charges. This answer will be made public tomorrow. Postmaster-General Payne today declined, with some warmth, to say whether the circumstances surrounding the deficit in the free delivery service warranted the removal of Machen, the general superintendent, who was relieved recently.

Payne said that, in his opinion, the question was impertient. He was questioned by the newspaper correspondents regarding the discrepancy between the $20,000 reported by Machen as the deficit and the $227,300 subsequently reported by the inspectors. He replied that promptly on the receipt of the report from Machen that there was a deficit of $20,000, he gave instructions that this deficit should not be increased, and that expenditures should be curtailed so as to eliminate it, if possible, by the end of the fiscal year, June 30 next.

"Then," added the Postmaster-General, "I immediately got the report that the deficit was $227,000. A subordinate official has no authority to create a deficit without the authority of his superior officer. I care not what the subordinate officer may be. If he knew, May 1, that this was a $20,000 deficit and that very day apointed a large number of carriers which would largely increase the deficit, the action was objectionable."

Payne said that he had not yet sent any communication to Machen. It developed today that, May 5, First Assistant Postmaster-General Wynne, through his staff clerk, John J. Ivoley, asked Machen whether there was, under his (Machen's) division, any other items than that of map-making work in which the appropriation was likely to be exhausted before the end of the fiscal year. The letter also called for a statement of the probable condition of the service at the close of the year. Machen then reported a deficit of $20,000 in the item of the rural free delivery, and, it is alleged, indicated that there was surplus in the city free delivery appropriation. May 7, by order of the Postmaster-General, Wynne sent a peremptory order to General Superintendent Machen, directing that no more maps of the rural free-delivery service, a work which is paid for by the piece, should be received or paid for until after July 1, and inhibiting the establishment of any additional rural routes prior to that day. It is charged that Machen did not obey the second order.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

Alleged Fraud it Bad.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Postmaster-General Payne has ordered the immediate resumption of service on the suspended rural free delivery mail route at Gallatin, Tenn. The resignation of John C. Allwood, the negro carrier who was intimidated and refused to resume work, has been accepted, and the Civil Service Commission has been called on to certify a carlar to fill his place.

Treasury Statement.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Today's statement of the Treasury balance in the general fund exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the devision of redemption shows: Available cash balance, $222,760,840; gold, $105,945,249.

Opening of New Ports.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Treaty negotiations between the United States and Chinese Commissioners are again moving forward and the prospect is brightening for a successful issue. Practically only two points of importance remain to be agreed on, but one of these is the provision for the opening of three new ports in Manchuria. This has been the most serious obstacle to the consummation of the treaty. It is believed here there will be a compromise on this point, and the United States will secure one, instead of three ports, the choice falling on Tsiuig Tao, at the mouth of the Yalu River.

Crank Letters to Cassini.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Crank letters are apearing in the mail of the Russian Ambassador, Count Cassini. They criticise his utterances and attack his arguments concerning the character of the Russian Jews. Secretary Hay is also getting his share of such comunications. These letters, however, give no serious concern to either the Secretary or the Ambassador.

YOUTHFUL FIRE BUG.

Burned the Handsome Montana Club and Other Buildings in Order to See "Fire Engines Run."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HELENA (Mont.) May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The handsome Montana Club was destroyed by fire two weeks ago, entailing loss of more than $100,000, as the result of the desire of a young colored boy to see the fire department operate. The police early this morning arrested Harry Anderson, who was employed as an elevator boy, and he has made a full confession.

Anderson is 15 years old, and an employee of the club. When the club secured new quarters, he remained in its employ, and was preparing to burn that building also. Anderson acknowledged that he had started seven other fires within the past few months, "to see the fire engines run" as he expressed it.

Salt Trust Pays Fine.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—The Federal Salt Company, the trust that was crushed by United States Circuit Judge Morrow on November 10 of last year, completed today the last act in the judgment by paying into the clerk's office of the United States District Court the fine of $1000 recently imposed by United States District Judge De Haven.

Nevada City Garbed in White.

NEVADA CITY, May 22.—Nevada City was treated to winter weather today. Three inches of snow fell. The extreme cold probably means the ruin of the fruit crop of the county. The moisture will, however, prove of benefit to hay and grain crops, which were suffering for lack of moisture. The extreme cold weather will, it is believed, result in much damage to stock. Cattle and sheep have already been driven into the mountain regions for summer pasture, and the snow and frost is expected to cause the death of many.

PITH OF NEWS FROM THE MIDDLE WEST.

CHICAGO, May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Last night's rain left the Chicago atmosphere heavy and damp. No rain fell during the day, though few points in the Middle West escaped drenching showers, the downfall being reported especially heavy in North Dakota. The maximum temperature here was 82 deg. at 4 p.m. and the minimum 58 deg. at 7 a.m.

FUGITIVES FROM JUSTICE.

Neary 500 persons, indicted in Cook county, incuding twelve murderers, are fugitives from justice, according to a list sent to the Sheriff by States Attorney Deneen today. Among the names best known are Dan Coughlin and William Armstrong, charged with jury bribing; William S. Graham, absconding school-board employé; and Adolph Loeb, a banker accused of embezzlement.

The route of the Springfield, Mowequa, Sullivan and Mattoon Company is shown by its title; the other, the Southern Illinois Electric Railway, proposes to build from East St. Louis through the counties of St. Clair, Clinton, Washington, Marion, Jefferson, Hamilton and White, to a point on the Illinois side of the Big Wabash River, near Maumee.

SENSATIONAL MARRIAGES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SIOUX FALLS (S. D.) May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Following the recent marriage of a "brothey and sister," in the persons of Mrs. Ralph L. Wilson and William H. Bradford of New York City, after having procured South Dakota divorces, the members of the divorce colony, this city, have another sensation in the wedding of an alleged "aunt" and "nephew." The principals are Mrs. Millie B. Dewint and Henry P. Keith, also of New York City. Mrs. Dewint had just been granted an absolute divorce from John C. Dewint.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LITCHFIELD (Ill.) May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mr. and Mrs. Hardin Weatherford of this city celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage today. PRAYER BROUGHT RAIN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. JOSEPH (Mich.) May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Following the singing of mass in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church yesterday, Rev. Michael Esper and the congregation offered up a special prayer for rain to save the crops of the country. An all-night shower fell six hours later, followed by a rain during the night, and the drought which prevailed for a month was broken.

TAKE BIRDS OFF HATS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MILWAUKEE, May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A treaty of peace was arranged here today between the Millinery Jobbers' Association and the Audubon Society, by which the millinery men agree to discontinue the use of all song birds on hats, also guils, terns, humming birds and grebes. The agreement is to remain in force for three years.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BURLINGON (Ia.) May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The fact developed here today that at a largely-attended meeting in New York of representatives of the wagon and farming implement manufacturers in the country, the proposition to form a gigantic trust was considered, the conference was held under the auspices of J. VON PLEHVE'S "EXPLAINS."

Interior Minister Ascribes Kishineff Massacre Largely to Acts of Self-defense on Part of Jews.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, May 20 (Wednesday.)—[By Atlantic Cable.] The circular of Interior Minister Von Plehve, issued May 17, ascribed the massacre of the Jews at Kischineff largely to acts of self-defense on the part of the Jews and continued:

"The events at Kischineff have alarmed the Jewish portion of the population in many regions of the Empire, and have occasioned rumors among the Christians about intended Jewish persecutions. In some of the cities the Jews began forming self-defense associations. After I reported to His Majesty about the disorders his Majesty commanded me to impress on the commanders in the province and towns that they are obligated, and are held personally responsible to take all the necessary measures to prevent violence, and calm the populace in order to remove the occasion of fears for life and property in any portion."

Answering a private letter asking for his opinion of the Kischineff massacre, Count Tolstoi writes: "My relations to the Jews and the terrible Kischineff affair must be clear to everybody interested in my beliefs. My relations to the Jews can only be as that to brothers whom I love, not because they are Jews, but because they and everybody are the sons of one Father—God."

PORTER BROTHERS' FAILURE.

Watson Reaches Chicago, but His Physician Orders Him to Rest Before Meeting the Receivers.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, May 22.—James S. Watson, president of Porter Brothers' Fruit Company, arrived at Chicago from San Francisco today, but postponed meeting the receivers Judge Kohlsaat appointed in Watson's absence to take charge of the company.

"We have been told," said J. F. De Frees, attorney for the receivers, "that by his doctor's orders Watson will rest at his home, and will meet us tomorrow morning."

This information was confirmed at Watson's house, where it was said tonight that no explanation of the company's financial condition would be given by him until tomorrow, his condition being such as to make rest and absolute quiet imperative.

The business of the company is being conducted without change in its organization. No application of bankruptcy has been made, but it is considered probable by the lawyers for the receivers that Watson will not contest the petition.

The mill and mine buildings at the Terrible Lead mine, half way between Cañon City and Silver Cliff, Colo., were burned Thursday. The loss is $50,000, well insured.

ALSO LOSES HER GOODS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—The Collector of the Port today acting upon the report of the United States Appraisers fined Mrs. Mary Judge of Salt Lake City $801, three times the amount of the dutiable articles she had sought to smuggle ashore. Mrs. C. P. Morehouse of Pasadena was fined $757. Both ladies were passengers from the Orient and the goods were found concealed in their baggage. The goods were confiscated, and will be sold at auction for the benefit of the government.

Mrs. Crammond Kennedy, Miss L. G. Cayce and A. Proom have also come to grief. They were passengers on the Coptic, and the husband of Mrs. Kennedy, who says he is an attorney of Albany, N. Y., declared he had only $200 worth of dutiable goods. In Mrs. Kennedy's trunks were found a large lot of embroidered and silken goods sewed up in her dresses. Concealed in the lining of Miss Cayce's dresses were silks and bric-a-brac. The articles were seized. A. Proom, quartermaster of the Coptic, was searched while leaving the vessel last night and a lot of ladies' silk hose and pieces of silk cloth were found stuffed under his clothing. He is now in the County Jail.

HIS WIFE'S HONOR.

LEGAL RIGHT TO DEFEND IT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—A jury in the Supperior Court today decided that a Japanese had a right to shoot at a man who was trying to steal his wife in order to force her into a disreputable life, by acquitting M. Takashaspi in one minute of a charge of assault to murder D. Watonaba. The accused man is a Fresno merchant, who delegated Watonaba to meet his wife here on her arrival from Japan. On coming to this city to take her to his home he was refused admission to the room in which she was detained by Watonaba and a Japanese woman, who assaulted him. He fired a shot at them and was arrested.

CONTRACT LABOR LAW.

Government Refuses to Prosecute Brewer Company for Alleged Violation in Importing Korean Laborers.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HONOLULU (T. H.) May 22.—[By Pacific Cable.] Private parties have demanded that the government sue the Brewer Company for $140,000, for an alleged violation of the United States contract-labor law. It is alleged that the company induced 140 Koreans to immigrate to the Hawaiian Islands, under contract to work on various plantations.

The Federal officials have learned that the agent sent to Korea last year to engage laborers was supplied with Treasury instructions issued under an old law, which has since been abrogated. The government, therefore has decided that the Brewer Company is not liable for an infraction of the law.

THER-OZ-GEN YOU?

For the past five days we have been telling something of the history of Theroxgen; its origin; its inventor, and it's deeds. Some people are always and utterly incredulous. To such we have a special word. Suppose we introduce you to physicians here, using and recommending the Generator? Suppose you meet people here who have been helped by it and will say so? Suppose you could try it yourself, or in your family, for a trifling sum? What then? Still incredulous? Could we do more? All the above we stand behind. You consult your own doctor maybe. He says "never heard of it—humbug." Humbug BECAUSE he never heard of it! Who is the humbug? And you believe the doctor who has never heard of it and don't believe clean, reputable and noted physicians who have used it successfully and say so.

Some folks are as big fools as Thompson's colt. Some never heard of the telephone and wouldn't believe one could talk over a wire, BUT they change their minds.

Suppose, now, you just disposses your souls of prejudice—as far as possible, and read our little book? If it don't ring true you are out only a little time. No matter what your ailment, study this attempt to scientifically send medicines just where they are needed and not to scatter some all over the system, trusting a little may get where it's wanted. Who is the blindest man? If it cost you fifty dollars, or half that, to investigate, incredulity would have a foundation. But it don't and there's not the remotest possibility of any harm coming to you. Suppose then you send for book to

WATCH GIANT YACHTS TODAY.

Interest of Yachtsmen More Intense than Ever.

Race Will be Started from the Former Home Line.

Newton's Steam Saves the Looloos—New Marks for Cyclists. Shotgun Experts Meet.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Yachtsmen who will gather once more at Matinicock Point tomorrow to watch the giant sloops in their race for the honor of defending the America's cup will probably outnumber those who saw the race yesterday. Their interest is intense, for this year the challenger is believed to be far superior to any that has ever come, and there is need for an able defender. The Reliance has given promise of speed that every one is anxious to see fulfilled. And, last of all, she has yet to show that she is better than the Constitution.

The race will be started from the home line that was used yesterday, and it is not unlikely the same courses will be followed, but if the weather predictions are to be trusted, there will be a fresh northerly breeze, and the racers will plow the green seas at something like thirteen knots, as the Reliance did yesterday, and perhaps at still greater speed.

The race yesterday had a most amusing effect upon the patriotic old salts who saw it, for they were all surrounded by eager friends, all of whom wanted to know what the race proved, and, without exception, the old salts said: "Of course, one race is not conclusive." The fact is, no first race of the new defender was quite so full of hope as that of the Reliance yesterday. The hopefulness was not alone, nor even chiefly in the extent of gains that the Reliance made, however cheerful they may have seemed. The most important consideration is found in the fact that, large as she is below and aloft, she is so perfectly balanced that Capt. Barr was able to leave the wheel and let her steer herself for a minute at a stretch, or perhaps more. Her lines are perfect, and her mast is in precisely the right spot. The manifest superiority of the boat in light airs, under conditions where scows have hitherto failed, is most encouraging.

The fact that she was able to point higher than the Columbia (a ship hitherto unsurpassed in that point of sailing) and at the same time cover ground more rapidly, is something to make Sir Thomas seek his most potent nerve food, for he will need nerve when Shamrock III. appears off Sandy Hook. And last but not least, was the particularly clever work with the Reliance's sails throughout the fluky zephyr period. The right sail was spread at the exact moment when the change was needed, because the foremost yachtsman and able yacht skipper of the world were on the quarter deck.

It is to be said, however, that even a second victory for the Reliance tomorrow will not be conclusive. For however strong the northerly breeze may be, there will be no waves in the confined waters of Long Island Sound.

LIPTON'S DOUBLE PURPOSE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] American yachtsmen and members of the New York Yacht Club in particular will probably be surprised to hear that Sir Thomas Lipton has a double purpose in sending both Shamrocks across the Atlantic at this time, and that the old Shamrock is not sent over simply to act as a trial boat for the Shamrock III. Not only will the Shamrock I be used as a trial boat for the new yacht, but it is Sir Thomas's purpose to enter the Shamrock I in the New York Yacht Club's cruise, and any races and regattas that she may be eligible against the Columbia, Constitution and Reliance.

It is, of course, not Sir Thomas's idea to enter her in the trial and cup races, as they would, of course, be confined to American-designed boats exclusively, but Sir Thomas, who is a natural-born sportsman, thinks that American people would like to see what the old Shamrock could do against American boats, and believes that it would add an international flavor to the preliminary races that would interest English and American people almost as much as the [illegible] races.

Sir Thomas and Designer Fife believe that the old Shamrock never had a fair chance against the Columbia in 1899, owing to Fife's illness, and had her designer been on board, she would have made a much better showing.

According to Capt. Wringe and a majority of the English yachting writers, the Shamrock is a greatly-improved boat, and they claim to believe that she could make a much better showing against the Columbia now than she did four years ago, and for this reason they heartily indorsed Sir Thomas's plan of entering her in the preliminary races against American boats.

STAGGERED CLYDE MEN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LAMLASH (Island of Arran, Scotland) May 22.—The leading Clyde yachtsmen in this vicinity were somewhat staggered by the cabled reports of the Reliance's fine performance against the Columbia yesterday. They expressed the opinion that the new boat is a more formidable antagonist than previous reports indicated.

LIPTON'S SQUADRON.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

GLASGOW, May 22.—Sir Thomas Lipton's squadron of four vessels will sail for the United States May 28, two days ahead of time. Sir Thomas himself will sail for New York between June 15 and 20.

NO DIVORCE FOR "M'COY."

COURT REFUSES HIM DECREE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Supreme Court refused today to grant Norman Selby, otherwise known as Kid McCoy, a pugilist, a divorce from Julia E. Selby. They have already been twice divorced, but have always made up and remarried. In the present suit Selby named Ralph Thompson, son of a Schenectady banker, as co-respondent. The referee reported in McCoy's favor, but the court says the referee's findings are insufficient to justify a decree.

LOOLOOS VICTORIOUS.

NEWTON'S STEAM SAVES THEM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] James Whalen's streak of uninterrupted victories against runaways now traveling under Morley's banner came to a sudden stop this afternoon at Recreation Park. It was not so much the fault of the pitching that James did, nor was it directly attributable to the fact that he did a very bad piece of fielding at a critical time. The medico-twirler from Brooklyn, Newton, could be traced down as the principal cause of Whalen's fall from his high estate without the aid of a detective agency. The rumor in certain quarters that Newton was afflicted with a lame arm appears to be without foundation. At any rate, it is positive that Morley may import a couple more of the same sort without fear, as Newton had more steam than any other pitcher who has showed in local grounds this season, and was absolutely unsolvable. Three bingles distributed so far apart that they had no possible connection with the score were all the stars could muster, and one lonely tally made by Shay in the first came through no support with the stick.

PACIFIC NATIONAL LEAGUE.

'FRISCO'S TO COME SOUTH.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—A change has been made in the playing schedule of the Pacific National League for next week. Instead of playing in this city, the San Franciscos will appear in Los Angeles against the home team at that place, and the Tacoma team will play at Portland against the Oregonians. The change is made to permit of alterations in the grounds here.

The grand stand will be moved back in order to enlarge the right field territory. No games will be played here by the National League for five weeks.

SEATTLE-HELENA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HELENA, May 22.—In weather that was raw to the point of discomfort, Seattle won from Helena in the opening game today, although it required eleven innings to decide the question. Manager Flannery of Helena was put out of the game for forcibly disputing a decision of Umpire Cody. Attendance 750. The score:

Helena 3; hits 9; errors 5.
Seattle, 5; hits, 7; errors, 5.
Batteries: McKay and Stanley; Putman and Carrisch.

SAN FRANCISCO-PORTLAND.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—Portland started off today's game with Wallace, a new man, on the slab. He made a bad mess of his work. In the first inning he gave three passes and allowed three hits, and in the second his work was little better. Lundbom pitched the balance of the game for the visitors, and did good work, but the damage could not be repaired. Although Stovall was hit often, the batting did not bring runs, and a number of the singles were of the scratch variety. Score:

Portland, 4; hits, 11; errors, 4.

OAKLAND'S TOWN-LOT BALL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SEATTLE, May 22.—It was another case of town-lot ball today, and Oakland won out because Seattle played worse ball than they did. BLUE ROCK TOURNAMENT.

FIRST DAY OF SHOOT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 22.—The big three-days blue rock tournament of the San Francisco Trap Shooters' Association commenced today with over sixty of the best shots on the coast in attendance. Expert gun men from Oregon and Colorado were among those who endeavored to capture the trophy, or to win part of the $1400 offered by the association.

Shooting commenced at 9 o'clock, and the weather being almost perfect, the marksmen were not troubled with the breezes that usually play over Ingleside, but in the afternoon a strong wind sprung up and sent the "rocks" in every conceivable direction, upsetting the calculations of the good gunners. Glon W. Gibson of Williams, Cal., who recently won the Northern California live bird championship at Sacramento was "high gun," at 16 yards in the forenoon with 90 per cent., but when he was sent back to the 20-yard line in the afternoon with the wind puzzling him, he made only 76 per cent.. In the afternoon A. J. Webb at the 16-yard mark was highest with 86 per cent.

GET-RICH-QUICK MILLER CATSPAW FOR AMMON.

NEW YORK LAWYER GOT MONEY TAKEN FROM DUPES.

As Result of Confession of Franklin Syndicate Manager, District Attorney Jerome Will Try to Send the Lawyer to State's Prison.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Robert A. Ammon, counsel for 520 per cent. Miller, the get-rich-quick-man, was rearrested today, and his bail was increased from $5000 to $20,000 on a confession made by Miller to a representative of the District Attorney's office.

Ammon was indicted shortly after Miller's conviction for receiving stolen goods. He is charged with taking possession of money in the hands of Miller after the Franklin Syndicate was exposed.

District Attorney Jerome took personal charge of the Ammon case when the lawyer was arraigned before Judge Newberger this afternoon. "Careful investigation of evidence in my possession," said the District Attorney, "convinces me that Ammon secured more than $240,000 of the money obtained by Miller from dupes. I shall insist upon a speedy trial, because if there is further delay, the chief witness against Ammon may be beyond the call of man, and I move that bail be increased to $20,000.

Judge Newberger granted the motion regarding bail, and set the trial for the first Monday in June.

Miller, who is in bad shape in the hospital in Clinton Prison, Dannemora, will be brought to New York to testify against Ammon. Jerome is convinced that Miller has not long to live, and inasmuch as he was merely a dupe in the Franklin syndicate, he will probably be pardoned after testifying against his old counsel.

Miller, it is understood, feels bitter toward Ammon, who he considers did not treat him fairly.

NORTON'S CURIOUS WILL FILED FOR PROBATE.

IT COMMANDS FRIENDS TO MAKE MERRY AT FUNERAL.

Although Not a Member of Church and Forbidding Religious Services Over His Remains He Left Bulk of Fortune to Baptist Orphan Asylum.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LOUISVILLE, (Ky.) May 22.—The will of the late Capt. W. F. Norton, Louisville's eccentric capitalist and landed proprietor, who died recently at Coronado Beach, Cal., was filed for probate today. The estate is conservatively valued at $1,000,000. Bequests to friends here amount to $71,000, and the residue, which will probably be $900,000, is left to the Baptist Orphans' Home of Louisville. Capt. Norton was not a member of any church.

To Dr. Joseph A. Sweeney, who attended Capt. Norton, is left $12,000; the family servants are remembered in sums ranging from $1000 to $2000, and the Coronado Beach property and $2000 are left to Douglas W. Robinson of Indiana, "a friend."

The will, which is characteristic of Capt. Norton, opens with quotations on life and death by Shakespeare, Byron and Prior, and its second clause provides for his funeral in the following words:

"Provided, that no services of a religious character be held at his funeral; that a special train of Pullmans be chartered to take his remains from Louisville, where he has for so long been buried alive, to Cincinnati; that the buffets of the cars be well stocked with good things to eat and drink, in order that his friends do not thirst or hunger; that while the remains are enmating at Cincinnati an orchestra render a programme of popular and select music."

The programme is attached to the will, and it is stipulated that when an intermission is reached the friends ask the orchestra to join them in "drinking my bon-voyage."

TURKEY'S TROUBLES.

Suppression of News from Albania Indicates that Plans for Pacification Have Not Been Successful.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 22.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The suppression of news from Albania engenders the belief that the government plans for the pacification of that part of Turkey are miscarrying.

The Albanians were known to have been planning to attack the Servian monastery at Dechani, near Ipek, containing Russian monks, and on the Russian Embassy's representations the palace authorities have promised to send troops to protect the monks.

The warlike sentiment against Bulgaria is increasing in military circles, and great activity is displayed by the War Ministry. A division of reserves at Kaisariyeh is about to be called out for active service. Apart, however, from the probable intervention of the powers, the Sultan will not permit a conflict with Bulgaria.

It is reported that a Servian revolutionary band is assembling on the frontier with the object of invading Ottoman territory at Kossovo, and inciting Servians to rise against the government.

HOT ON ROSSEAU'S TRAIL.

Posse on Way to Gulch in the Rockies Where the Dynamiter is Said to Liva.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BUTTE (Mont.) May 22.—A posse of police, heavily armed, left Butte at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon bound for Brown's Gulch, a gloomy cañon situated in the heart of the Rockies northeast of the town. It has been discovered that Rosseau lived there for several weeks up to a month ago, when he bought his battery for his infernal machine, and left the city. Three days ago he returned, and this morning was in his house in the gulch. He lives there with a woman who passes as his wife. Nothing is known of her.

Brown's Gulch is wild and heavily wooded, and as Rosseau's cabin may easily be defended, the police are prepared for a fight.

LABOR FOR THEIR PAINS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BUTTE, May 22.—The officers who left for Brown's Gulch today returned after learing that the man lived in South Butte. His name proved to be Napoleon Rossean and not Rosseau, the name of the man suspected of attempting to wreck the Umbria. Rossean had been receiving his mail under the name of Rossea, and that fact led to the suspicion being directed against him.

Much damage was done Thursday night in different parts of the Ohio Valley by cloudbursts and lightning. The water-house engine works were destroyed by fire early yesterday at St. Paul, Minn., causing a loss of $75,000, partially covered by insurance. The cause of the fire is not known.

OBJECT TO JEFF. DAVIS.

Grand Jury Men Will Try to Destroy Possibility of His Statute Going into Capitol.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] For two months past a quiet movement has been under way in G.A.R. posts and commanderies of the Loyal Legion looking to a strong fight to be made at the national encampment at San Francisco in August for the adoption of a resolution protesting against the placing of any statue in the Capitol at Washington representing any person who has borne arms against or been proved an enemy of his country. This resolution is aimed primarily against the State of Virginia, which has made an appropriation, and is now preparing a statue of Gen. Robert Lee to be placed in Statuary Hall.

Each State is allowed two statues of favorite sons. Virginia has given a statue of Washington, and now proposes to honor the memory of Lee. A statue of Jefferson is in the Capitol, it is true, but not in Statuary Hall, and it is not counted against Virginia. There is no statue of Patrick Henry or any other Virginian.

Several dozen posts and commanderies throughout the country have already adopted strong resolutions, it is said, and it is expected a majority will have done so by next August, when the encampment meets.

"We are not aiming this protest so much against Lee's statue," said a leading G.A.R. man, "as against making a precedent that would prove very disagreeable. If Virginia is permitted to put a statue of Lee, what will prevent Mississippi from setting up a statue of Jeff Davis alongside Revolutionary heroes and Abraham Lincoln as one of the nation's mighty men. That is what we want to guard against, and what we propose to make a fight over. We can stand Lee because we recognize an honest man, fighting for what he believed was a principle, but we draw the line on Jeff Davis. By the time the national encampment is held practically every G.A.R. post in the country will have declared itself, and we look to see protests sent up to Congress that will result in an amendment to the present law preventing any State from glorifying men who fought and schemed for the destruction of the country."

FLASHES FROM THE WIRES.

Washington Seligman, the New York broker, who was taken from the Blossmore Hotel Wednesday night with his neck badly cut, has been held in $1000 bail on the charge of attempting suicide. Bail was furnished.

Trailing along behind a navy yard tug, the President's yacht, the Mayflower, rammed a battleship, a cruiser, a coal barge, a ferryboat on her way into the navy yard yesterday. Total damage slight.

The original boiler plate mills of the Central Iron and Steel Company, Harrisburg, Pa., were destroyed by fire early yesterday, entailing a loss of $200,000 and throwing a large number of men out of work. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

A building in Brooklyn occupied by Frank Jenner & Co., manufacturers of fire-proof flooring, and eight other buildings, chiefly apartment-houses, were destroyed by fire yesterday. The loss is $100,000.

Geo. Lauder, Jr., son of the Pittsburgh millionaire, and his wife, probably saved the lives of seven guests during a squall on Long Island Sound by their cool handling of the tender in which the party was sailing to his yacht.

Walter L. Chapman, whose whereabouts is unknown, is heir to more than $50,000 under the will just probated of his father, Dr. Andrew L. Chapman of Chicago. Walter Chapman ran away from home thirty-five years ago and is now 56 years of age. Nothing has been heard from him for fifteen years.

Thomas Phillips, Frank Bishop and Fred P. Watts, members of the old Board of County Commissioners of Arapahoe county, Colo., were found guilty of malfeasance on eleven counts by a jury in the District Court yesterday. Their alleged misconduct consisted in allowing excessive bills for printing and supplies. Sentence was suspended for ten days.

Another storm raged yesterday in the Bitter Creek Valley, Wyo., where thousands of sheep are ranged. Sheepmen are making every effort to protect their flocks. The loss will be very heavy.

Gov. Peabody of Colorado has received a letter from Secretary of State John Hay saying that Sir Michael Herbert, the English Ambassador to the United States, has demanded an accounting from Colorado for the destruction of the property of William Ratcliff at Grand Mesa Lakes about a year ago.

COWARDLY CRIME.

DOWNIEVILLE, May 22.—The town of Loyalton, in the eastern part of Sierra county, was thrown into a fever of excitement this morning by the attempted assassination of Harry B. Gott, one of the town officers, and his family while they were asleep in their home. About 2 o'clock this morning they were awakened by three shots fired in rapid succession. The shots were fired with one or more shotguns through the window directly at the head of the bed where Gott and his wife were asleep. Their seven-month-old child, which had been sleeping in its crib by the side of the bed, had become fretful and been taken into an adjoining room by the grandmother, otherwise it must inevitably have been killed, as the crib was in direct range of the shots. All that saved the occupants of the bed was a shelf, covered with potted plants, which had been built the day before, and occupied a position directly in front of the head of the bed. These plants received the full force of the shots.

Several persons are under surveillance.

The affair is supposed to be the outcome of recent prosecutions for violation of a local liquor ordinance as the intended victim had given important evidence.

Fell With Scaffolding.

SAN ANDREAS, May 22.—While painting the residence of C. M. Whitlock today, Supervisor J. W. Roberts and Mark Huberty fell with the scaffolding twenty-five feet to the ground. Roberts was badly bruised about the back and had two ribs broken. Huberty escaped with a severe shaking up.

SHEEPHERDER'S FATE KNOWN.

BUTTE (Mont.) May 22.—A Havre special to the Miner says that the body of William Plummer, a sheep herder, who perished in the terrible blizzard which swept northern Montana Sunday, has been found on the range near Chester, where his remains were revealed by the melting snow.

SECOND-HAND BOOK SELLER

SAN JOSE, May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In fulfillment of the precept that to the victor belongs the spoils, Edward Haley was removed from the position of Chief of Police by the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners this evening, and T. W. Carroll appointed. It was clean-cut political action, no attempt being made by the board to justify the change.

Haley was appointed by the preceding administration, and in qualifying failed to have the certificate of appointment properly filled in. This gave the board a legal opening at him, and his head fell into the basket.

The new Chief is a member of the commission. He is proprietor of a second-hand book store, prior to which he was a vendor of fruits and vegetables. He comes to the office without any experience. The deposed Chief has performed the duties of peace officer for the past fifteen years, and was considered the best officer and detective in the county. He was appointed Chief last July, and no criticism made on the performance of his duties.

James Monchan, police officer, was promoted to captain of police to fill the place made vacant by the resignation of Capt. Monroe.

The first move of the new Chief will be to close all gambling places.

LIABILITY OF POSTMASTERS.

BOWLING GREEN (Ky.) May 22.—Judge Walter Evans, in the United States court here, has ruled that men in charge of postoffices must pay to the government any amount or amounts burglars may steal from the offices. The decision is considered important as establishing the liability of postmasters for funds and supplies which are lost by reason of burglary or other causes.

Bad-tempered Boers.

The Boar generals are not happy in Pretoria.

They are living at the Transvaal Hotel pending employment by the Government, and are fighting their battles over in silent contempt for each other.

At meals Louis Botha sits alone, solemn and sullen, and refuses to speak with Piet De Wet because he is a "hands-upper"—a man who surrendered.

Commandant Meyer, a relative of the late Lukas Meyer, Delarey, and Olivier, the latter fresh from captivity—from a party of their own at another table, and these disunited factions of lest republics debate separately such crumbs of information as come officially to them.

It is hoped, by-the-by, to get them to commence the organization of a burgher force for defence; but the time is not yet ripe, for the sullen mood is still upon the Boer.—[London Express.

Gold Scarce in Russia.

Instructions have been given to the banks to pay as much as possible in paper—just the opposite of M. Witte's instructions on introducing the gold currency when the difficulty was to get gold into circulation in the country.

A police official who wished to draw a thousand roubles in gold to pay his men was told recently he must take paper!

The Imperial Committee of Inquiry into the Finances of Russia is still sitting, but has not yet arrived at the simple solution, viz., that Russia is living beyond her means.

However, in view of the possibility of an early outbreak of war in the Near or Far East, the Russian Government is even now hesitating to spend some of the votes of the 1903 Budget. No one at the Admiralty knows whether there will be any new ships laid down or not.—[London Express.

Had No Hopes.

Mayor Low is telling an incident that occurred while he was visiting one of the State prisons in company with a clergyman. The good man stopped at the cell of a burglar and asked solemnly: "My poor erring brother, have you any hope for the future?"

"Naw!" answered the prisoner, with deep dejection. "By the time I gets out of this blasted jail I'll be too old to break into anybody's house."—[New York Times.

AFTER RUNAWAYS

THE TRUANCY OFFICER IS A BUSY MAN THESE DAYS.

Out-of-Door Sports Offer Unusual Attractions for Young America—An Officer's Experience.

With the first warm days there is a large increase in the number of absentees from the public schools and just now the truancy officers have their hands full looking after the youngsters who have yielded to the superior attractions of out-of-door sports and have deserted the schoolroom. Mr. Jesse L. Heefner, who lives at No. 111 East Pike street, Goshen, Ind., is truant officer of Elkhart county and can relate many interesting experiences. One of them should be of value to every reader of this paper. He says: "Last year I was so much run down in health that I was hardly able to keep on my feet and it was not until I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People that I began to feel like myself again. All my strength seemed to have left me. I was languid and without ambition, my appetite failed, my kidneys became affected and my stomach got out of order. Doctors did not do me any good and I kept failing in health and strength until I despaired of ever getting well again. Then I decided to try Dr. William's Pink Pills for Pale People. They helped me very quickly and, after taking them faithfully a short time, I became well and strong again. I am out in all sorts of weather but have not experienced any return of the symptoms of my old trouble since Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured me."

The best tonic medicine in the world is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Mr. Heefner is only one out of thousands all over the world who have found this out by personal experience. This medicine, unlike any other, acts both on the blood and nerves, builds up the system and cures where ordinary medicines fail. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are not only a tonic but have cured such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after-effects of the grip, pale and sallow complexions, and all forms of weakness in either male or female.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold by all dealers or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, fifty cents a box, or six boxes for two dollars and fifty cents, by addressing Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y. They are never sold in bulk, by the dozen or hundred. Avoid imitations; substitutes never cured anybody.

BUSINESS.

Beyond the million mark went the local bank clearings yesterday, when they ran up to $1,043,840, as compared with $737,295.64 for the corresponding period of last year. Business is active, although the usual end-of-the-month quietude is slightly discernible.

After a sharp break in May wheat, bullish sentiment at St. Louis started prices upward at Chicago and July closed firm at 73⅝@73⅞. Corn and oats closed higher. Yesterday's net changes at New York were mostly very small, and mixed between gains and losses.

TIMELY PROTEST.

The Mayor has done well in calling a public meeting to give voice to the indignation and horror which all citizens must feel because of the Jewish massacres in Bessarabia. It is eminently fitting that there should be some public expression on this subject. Such atrocities should arouse the conscience of mankind in all parts of the civilized world. Even the autocratic government of Russia is not beyond the influence of the public opinion of the world; and while Los Angeles is only a small part of the world, it should not fail to join in the general note of disapproval and abhorrence of the crimes committed under the government of the Czar.

The feeling of indignation because of these atrocities is general throughout the United States, and it is finding expression in all sections. While our government, for obvious reasons, is not in a position to take official action, there is no doubt that the earnest and spontaneous protests which American citizens in all parts of the country are making, will have some influence in promoting the ends of justice, even in Russia. For the American people are in fact the government, as no one knows better than the Russian autocrat. When public sentiment in the United States bears overwhelmingly in one direction, the gap between private unofficial opinion and public official action is not so wide as it is in other forms of government.

Unfortunately, there is no certainty that the massacres in Southwestern Russia are at an end. Dispatches from that region show that the anti-Semitic feeling is very strong, and further uprisings against the Jews are feared, not only in Bessarabia, but in other parts of the empire. The Russian authorities are ostensibly taking measures to prevent further disturbances, but their sincerity in the work is open to suspicion. If officials had performed their duty, the horrors of Kishineff would have been in a large measure prevented.

It is a reproach to civilization that such crimes as those which have recently been committed by Russians in Bessarabia, and by the Turks in Armenia and Macedonia, are possible in this late stage of the world's history. The question may well be asked. Is it not time for a concerted protest from civilization in the concrete against such damnable deeds of cruelty and intolerance? If there is any way of putting a stop to the perpetration of wrongs so unspeakable, civilization should find that way with as little further delay as possible. And if there is no way of ending these iniquities, is it not true that civilization still has much to accomplish before it can with truth be called a success?

Los Angeles is greatly disappointed to learn that Mr. Cleveland is not to attend the meeting of the Presbyterians as has been promised. We had been looking forward to his coming with much interest, particularly as the tuna and yellowtail are biting this spring as never before. Undoubtedly it is quite as much Mr. Cleveland's loss as ours.

The Reliance appears to be all right, and the America's cup is still believed to be perfectly safe in its case in the handsome building on Forty-fourth street, in the city of New York.

NEW METHOD OF REPAIRING ASPHALT STREETS.

Municipal Engineering describes a new invention designed to facilitate the repairing of asphalt streets, which, if we may credit the accounts of its performances, successfully accomplishes the work for which it was intended. It is hardly necessary to say that the proper repair of asphalt pavement is a matter of considerable difficulty. Los Angeles has had many painful object-lessons in this regard.

The machine above referred to is a sort of combined steam roller and hot air blast. By means of an oil-spray an intense heat is produced, and the air thus heated is forced through pipes into a hood suspended close to the pavement. The temperature of the air-blast is 700 deg., and this quickly melts the asphalt to such an extent that the unevennesses can be smoothed out by the roller which forms a part of the apparatus. If necessary, new material can be filled in before rolling. The work performed by this interesting machine is described by Municipal Engineering as follows:

"In a three-hour test during the afternoon of March 26, in Indianapolis, repair was made of 125 square yards of asphalt surface on a street which had developed such pronounced waves that by any other system of repair it would have been necessary to remove almost the entire wearing surface of the area repaired and replace it with new material. This would have required more than 15 tons of new material. With this machine, only 1240 pounds of the old material were hauled to the dump, being the scrapings from the surface, mingled with the street dirt and one or two spots of dead material. New material amounting in weight to 3¼ tons was necessary to fill in deficiencies due to wear and disintegration. The difference in favor of the method permitting the use of all the good old material is very marked. Even when the wages of the men employed are counted for an entire day the work done in the three hours cost very much less than the city is paying for asphalt repairs made in the ordinary way".

There is a good field for an invention of the kind here described, and if it will do all that is claimed for it, there can be no doubt that it will soon come into general use.

MR. BRYAN'S CANDIDATE.

It seems that Mr. Bryan, though avowing with quite unnecessary emphasis that he is not and will not be a candidate for the Democratic nomination to the Presidency, has preferences; or, rather, a preference. Not necessarily for publication, but as a guaranty of good faith, he has conveyed to Senator Blackburn the highly important information that his (Bryan's) choice for the Presidential nomination is Judge Walter Clark, of the Supreme Court of North Carolina. Now that Mr. Bryan has unbosomed himself on this subject of vital concern, it may be stated without fear of successful contradiction that the clouds have cleared away somewhat and the whole country is in a position to breathe easier.

The assertion is made in some quarters that it is only necessary to scratch through the outer political skin of Judge Clark in order to find, not an orthodox Democrat, not even a heterodox Democrat, but a full-fledged Populist. If this assertion be true, the fact would seem to account for Mr. Bryan's partiality to Judge Clark; for, as is well known, Mr. Bryan himself is, and has alway been, much more a Populist than a Democrat. He is, as we might say, a Democrat by brevet but a Populist by service. Nothing would be more natural, then, than that he should prefer a Populist for the empty honor of a nomination to which Mr. Bryan himself cannot aspire with any hope of success.

It is also stated, on what is claimed to be good authority, that Judge Clark is not a Populist, but is a sure-enough Democrat of "the old school." If this be true, it is not improbable that his chances of securing the nomination have been forever "queered" by Mr. Bryan's injudicious action in expressing a marked preference for him. If there is any one thing in the world which the simon-pure Democrat of the old school dislikes (we use the mildest possible term) more than another, it is the Bryan brand of off-color Democracy. The Democrat whose Democracy is the real thing, has no more use for the Bryan kind of Democrat than Grover Cleveland has for Mr. Bryan, or vice versa. Now that Judge Clark has been nominated by Mr. Bryan, with more or less enthusiasm and unanimity, a suspicion has been cast upon the genuineness of his Democracy which it will be difficult if not impossible to eradicate from the minds of Democrats of the Cleveland type, who really hold the balance of power in Democratic councils if they choose to exercise it. Mr. Bryan's motion for the nomination of Judge Clark is not very likely to receive an enthusiastic indorsement from that quarter.

The Democratic National Convention is still a long way in the future, and there is no telling what may happen before it assembles and gets down to business. An irrepressible conflict is on between the genuine, conservative Democracy of the Cleveland school, and the Populistic cult, with Bryan as its prophet. The question as to which faction will gain the preponderance of power in the party's councils is one of considerable interest from the Republican standpoint. It can at least be said for Mr. Cleveland that he has twice led his party to victory, while it is equally true that Mr. Bryan has twice led it to defeat.

An M. P. has written a play, recently produced in London, that was, next to the comic paper, Punch, the dullest thing ever seen in the metropolis. The apathy with which it was received was thick enough to stop a clock. Had he dramatized some of the scenes in Parliament when the Irish contingent gets busy we believe the honorable gentleman's play would have been a success.

It has been dropping chunks of ice on the capital of Oklahoma an inch in diameter. As the season advances we shall expect Oklahoma to secure a collection of hailstones as big as duck eggs according to the regular programme. But for her hailstorms we should seldom hear from Oklahoma.

Mr. Bryan still stands unconvinced that Mr. Cleveland is the proper man to run for President on the Democratic ticket in 1904. Until the editor of the Commoner is properly persuaded it isn't of much use to argue with the remainder of the great minority.

If the average citizen of Montana doesn't like being frozen to death in a blizzard he may remove to York State and get sunstruck. We have climates in wide variety in these United States, including a brand known in Southern California as "the sure thing."

We are also having some unusual weather in Southern California, along with the other sections of the country, but it is to be observed that we are not getting it in hard and indigestible chunks like the other places.

No one can successfully dispute the fact that Los Angeles is a real metropolis when they come to understand that we have had a slugging match and a meeting of the Presbyterian Assembly simultaneously.

Omaha is rapidly returning to the condition of a peaceable American city. And there are likewise a few other towns in which one may move about without getting slugged. We are certainly getting along.

Judging by the reports from Ohio, sentiment in that State regarding the Republican succession to the Presidency is square in line with the rest of the country. And Senator Hanna has been given notice accordingly.

The telephone company is preparing in San Francisco for 100,000 subscribers. It is going to be mighty lively up there when they all begin to yell for "central" at the same time.

We are not greatly interested in vermifuge in this part of the country, but we would like to discover some sort of a remedy that is good for caterpillars.

Our trolley cars and automobiles are doing remarkably well. Not a Presbyterian visitor has been run over up to date.

With both our ball teams in the lead is it any wonder that the average Angeleno feels that he is a superior being?

While he is up in the Northwest we hope they will show the President Mt. Tacoma, and likewise Mt. Rainier.

Judging by their photographs which appeared in The Times yesterday the Presbyterians are all here.

It looks very much as if the Panama Canal would be in the air so long as Colombia holds it up.

The completion of the Santa Susana tunnel will supply a long-felt-wanted hole in the ground.

Mr. Bryan moves that Walter Clark be elected to the Presidency. Do we hear a second?

Devery for Mayor of New York! Language fails at this point.

HONORE PALMER'S FIANCEE.

Daughter of the Late Banker George Brown of Baltimore Will Marry Eldest Son of Mrs. Potter Palmer.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The engagement is announced of Honoré Palmer, eldest son of Mrs. Potter Palmer of this city, to Grace Greenway Brown, daughter of the late George Brown of Baltimore. Brown was one of the wealthiest bankers of the East. News of the betrothal will occasion no small amount of surprise in the society circles of Chicago, where, since his graduation from college, Palmer has been considered the most eligible of city bachelors.

The bride is a member of one of the oldest and most aristocratic families in Maryland. From colonial days they have been among the leaders of the State, both through the family of Brown, and through that of his wife, who was a Winchester, a name that has long been honor in Maryland.

Miss Brown met Palmer last January, when she stopped here on her way to California to attend the fete of all nations. The betrothal followed an automobile trip given by Palmer, on which his guests included Mr. and Mrs. Keith and Miss Brown. The party journeyed through Eastern States, closing the trip at Baltimore.

DISORDERS IN CROATIA.

VIENNA, May 22.—The local bodies throughout Dalmatia have telegraphed to Emperor Francis Joseph to intervene and prevent further bloodshed in Croatia. About 120 peasants, including many women, were arrested during the riots yesterday in the district of Kreutz. As the district is under martial law, the captured rioters are liable to be sentenced to death. At Agram, the hospitals are crowded with persons who were injured during the street fighting there.

McCormick Sees No Danger in Manchuria.

Believes Russia Honestly Favors Open Door Policy.

Keeping Japan in Turmoil—Rebels Capture City of Lin Ah Fu.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, May 22.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Ambassador McCormick is here for a few days on his way from St. Petersburg to America. He sails on the Kron Prinz Wilhelm Wednesday next with his wife and Miss Patterson. The St. James Gazette today prints an interview with him, in which he is quoted as saying:

"One of my last official acts before leaving St. Petersburg, was to interrogate the Russian government on its policy toward Manchuria. I was assured that Russia has no desire to see the Manchurian ports closed to the United States or to have its consuls excluded. The Russian government was emphatic in declaring that it was as one with America in the open-door policy in China, and what applies to the United States must apply to every other power. Your government also received and accepted similar assurances. I know M. Witte is a firm advocate of the open-door policy, and I have every reason to believe that Russia is quite sincere in the matter. She points out that it is to her own interests to support that policy, and I think that is the case. The Russian statesman are very anxious that the Siberian railroad shall be a success, and to do so it must get freight in large quantities. Russia cannot, of herself, supply a sufficient tonnage to make the railroad the desired success.

"Do not you consider the situation in the Far East is any way serious on account of Russia's policy in Manchuria?"

"I do not," replied Mr. McCormick. "I can see nothing at present which need alarm us, or any other country."

Mr. McCormick added that the relations between the United States and Russia at the present moment were of a most friendly character.

KEEPING JAPAN AGITATED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TOKYO, May 6.—[A. P. Correspondence. Wired from San Francisco, May 22.] Reports from Peking are not calculated to allay the uneasiness in Japan as to Russia's intentions in Manchuria. While the original "seven demands" made by Russia on China as conditions of evacuation have been officially withdrawn, it is now stated that some new demands have been substituted. What these are is not stated, but it is rumored that they include the Chinese fulfillment of a concession to Russia to build a railroad from Mukden to the Yalu River, a project which is enabling Russia to concentrate troops as a constant menace to Korea, and is strenuously combated by the Japanese press. The military attachés to the British, American and Japanese legations, who have been sent to Shengking province to ascertain the real state of the evacuation, report that the Russians have merely changed their stations. Although a slight decrease in the garrisons is observed, unarmed Russian soldiers are going about everywhere. Mounted brigands frequently attack foreign travelers, who, however, can proceed safely if they are guarded by Russian troops.

REBELLION IN YUNNAN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PEKING, May 22.—The government is alarmed at the disquieting news of the anti-dynastic outbreaks in Yunnan provinces. An imperial edict, just issued, announces that the rebels have captured the prefectural city of Lin Ah Fu, and orders that the Viceroy of Yunnan suppress the insurrection immediately.

DISASTER AT SEA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

YOKOHAMA, May 4.—[A. P. Correspondence. Wired from San Francisco, May 22.] The steamer Hayami Maru was run into and sunk by the Korean steamer Kanjo Maru in Tsurujima Straits, Inland sea, May 1. She went down so quickly that out of seventy-two persons on board, only forty-one were saved.

WORKING ON OTHER POWERS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PEKING, May 22.—Great Britain, although willing to accept payment of her indemnity on a silver basis for nine years, and in gold thereafter, leaving the question open whether China shall ultimately pay the difference, has not yet made definite proposals to China. Great Britain is endeavoring to enlist the cooperation of the other powers in the compromise, owing to the hardship China has incurred by the depreciation of the value of silver.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Dr. Van Dyke's Readings.

Dr. Henry Van Dyke spoke before the Friday Morning Club yesterday at the Woman's Club House. Mrs. Shelley Tolhurst, president of the club, presented the distinguished speaker in a few graceful words, which were responded to by an outburst of applause from an audience that filled the auditorium to its utmost capacity, that occupied every available foot of standing room and made vantage ground of the stairs that led to the crowded balcony above.

Dr. Van Dyke was tired from his journey and his delayed arrival in the city, as well as with the discharge of duties incidental to his position as moderator; he had come to Los Angeles to assist in transacting matters Presbyterian, and an address before the Friday Morning Club had not been included in the programme, therefore he had no paper ready on "Club Polity." He said that since he had nothing prepared he must offer his audience "canned goods," and then gave them an author's reading—an hour among his own writings, with himself as interpreter.

Dr. Van Dyke's platform presence is controlled and quiet, and the only expression that fits his fine face so well is often broken by a humorous smile as he reads. He talks after the manner of other men, except that his eyes are almost as eloquent as is his voice—a voice whose tones, whether pitched low in the music of a bird singing or ringing fierce in the patois of the French-Canadian Voyager, could be heard in every part of the house.

"Sweet, sweet, sweet, Merry, merry cheer,"

"Brave Hearts," a selection from a book of short stories entitled, "The Ruling Passion," was the author's first choice, followed by two short poems, "The Song Sparrow" and "A Legend of Service." As a prelude to the first, he said that in the East there were two kinds of birds—real birds and English sparrows—and that the latter were not birds, they were little beasts; and that now he was relieved of the moderatorship he was seriously contemplating giving his time to the encouragement of the custom among women of wearing English sparrows on their hats. This facetious threat was understood and received with laughter, although probably better appreciated by the Eastern people present, who still have very vivid recollection of how great a pest these little creatures have become throughout New England.

Dr. Van Dyke's opening remarks were all most happily couched, and he paid his entertainers the compliment of saying that he should have been sorry to leave the city without speaking before the club for which he understood Los Angeles had been named. After he was seated, the angels demanded "more," and he complied with the following:

"Life is an arrow, therefore you must know
What mark to aim at, how to use the bow.
Then draw it to a head—then let it go."

Among the guests at the club luncheon that followed in the banquet-room above were: Dr. Van Dyke, Rev. Dr. Hugh K. Walker, Henry W. O'Melveny and W. C. Patterson.

MINES AND MINING.

YELLOW ASTER BLOSSOMS FAR UNDERGROUND.

IMPORTANT STRIKE OF GOLD IN DEEPEST WORKINGS.

New Works of Arizona Copper Company Making Magnificent Record—Hot Air Story of Mining Operation—On the Stock Markets Yesterday.

An important strike is reported from the Yellow Aster mine in the Randsburg district. According to information received here the find was made on the 1200-foot level, and the ore is of a character similar to that near the surface, and which first brought the mine into prominence.

The mine has been a heavy producer, but the present ore body was struck at a distance of 250 feet below the lowest working in which ore has been extracted. The vein was cross-cut forty feet without reaching the hanging wall.

John Singleton and C. A. Burcham of Los Angeles are the principal stockholders in the Yellow Aster, which is regarded as one of the really big mines of the State. In equipment many thousands of dollars have been expended, and the company is operating 130 stamps in its two mills night and day.

NEW WORKS AT CLIFTON.

The new works of the Arizona Copper Company at Clifton are making a magnificent record. The company now has an output of 2000 tons of copper a month. As much as seventy-six tons of copper a day are run out. Six seventon converters are in use.

At Morenci the Detroit Copper Mining Company is increasing the capacity of its concentrating plant from 500 to 800 tons a day, and is conducting a sort of competition between the various makes of concentrating tables. Four makes are now being tested and the new mill will be fitted up with the type that wins.

A tale from Steeple Rock district, a short distance across the territorial line, was that a number of mines had to be abandoned at the depth of 150 feet because of the intense heat, there being sidelights to the effect that steam and gas escaped from drill holes. It was also explained that this condition was recent. The only trouble with this interesting story is that it is not true. None of the mines are deep in Steeple Rock district, and none are warm, and the only gas that has been noted has been that of the inveracious retailers of mining stories.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY W.C.T.U. CONFERENCE CLOSES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN DIEGO, May 22.—The twenty-first annual conference of the Southern California W.C.T.U. closed at noon today, after a session of four days, during which the large auditorium of the Methodist Church was crowded daily and every evening. The superintendents' reports of work among the Indians, and among railroad employés were made today. Particular interest was manifested in the report concerning efforts made to prevent the sale of liquor to Indians, and as a result the convention passed a resolution of protest to the authorities at Washington against the reported condition of drunkenness among the Indians at San Jacinto. Many other resolutions were passed, one being a petition to the mayors of California, praying them to enforce the ordinance against gambling, and the sale of tobacco to minors.

The following resolution expresses the sentiment of the convention on the opinion rendered by Atty.-Gen. Webb regarding the constitutionality of the use of the Bible in the public schools: "Resolved, that in view of the need of the times, and the recent opinion of the Attorney-General of the State declaring the use of the Bible in the public schools to be unconstitutional, we do hereby pray the proper authorities to take such action as is necessary to place the Bible as a text-book of the highest merit in the public schools of California."

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS.

Bristol Classic Course.

Last evening at Simpson's Auditorium the first concert of the Bristol Classical Course was given. The artists were Miss Blanche Rogers, pianiste; Bernard Mollenhauer, violinist and Ludwig Opid, 'cellist. There was a fair attendance. Miss Bristol's methods of educating the public is new and worthy of everyone's earnest cooperation. The aim is to make people familiar with several standard works each season. The untrained music-lover may enjoy a Beethoven trio during his first hearing of it but understand it he cannot until its story has been told and retold by those who have mastered the composer's meaning. The course which Miss Bristol has recently inaugurated will be of inestimable benefit to all music-lovers and very especially to music students.

The work to be repeated throughout the course is Beethoven's Trio (Op. 1, No. 1.) This grand work was given an artistic and beautiful rendition last evening by the three performers. A rich treat is in store for all who shall hear it at the two succeeding concerts. Mr. Mollenhauer played the Andante from Beethoven's Kreutzer Sonata with feeling and finish. The programme closed with Bargiel's exquisite work, Trio Op. 6, dedicated to Schumann. The concert was one of the most enjoyable and satisfying events of this season. The next event of the course will fall on May 29 and the final concert on June 5.

SUGAR IN ARIZONA.

Building of Three-hundred-thousand-dollar Factory Begun Near Phoenix. Beets Found to Thrive.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.), May 21.—Work has actually been begun on the beet sugar factory, so long projected as one of the most important steps of local advancement. The factory is to be located a short distance east of Glendale, about eight miles northwest of Phoenix. All plans have apparently been perfected, and the foundation for the first of the great buildings is being laid, and a double-track spur is being run to the grounds from the Santa Fé, Prescott and Phoenix railroad. Boring is to be started at once on several deep wells for the water supply. It is estimated that ten months will be required to build the factory. By the terms of a tax-exemption act passed by the last Legislature, the factory must cost at least $300,000. A bonus of about $40,000 was raised to assure the construction of the plant and several thousand acres have been guaranteed to be planted to beets to supply the factory on its initial run.

The Eastern Sugar Company will control the new plant. It has just filed in the county recorder's office a trust deed to guarantee the issuance of $800,000 6 per cent bonds, which are to be repaid by 1913. The Detroit Trust Company, for the stockholders, and James Davidson, for the bondholders, are named as trustees under the mortgage, which covers the factory and the lands donated under the bonus agreement. W. H. Robinson has been named as local agent.

The factory will be built by the American Construction and Supply Company, whose manager, Theodore Hapke, of New York, has been in the valley for the past week. The construction will in itself be an element of prosperity, for from 300 to 500 men will be constantly employed during the remainder of the year in the erection of the buildings. The initial contract for material is for 3,000,000 brick. It is expected that the Salt River Valley will profit tremendously by the operation of this factory. According to Mr. Hapke the valley ought to raise the best beets that can be grown anywhere, conditions of soil and sunshine being all that could be desired. He has shown his confidence in the enterprise by investing in three-quarters of a section of land himself. One experiment of beet raising was on the Christy farm, northwest of Phoenix, where fifteen tons of beets were raised on a half acre, the beets averaging 16 per cent. In saccharine matter. A feature of value also is that the work attending beet culture is mainly to be done in the winter time when the farmer has heretofore had little to do and when the water supply is at its best. Sanguine agriculturalists are of the opinion that they will be able to clear $100 an acre from their beet crops. Another valuable element in the equation is that from the beet pulp hundreds of cattle can be fattened.

A RED CROSS APPEAL.

Clara Barton Makes a Statement to the Public—Funds Needed to Carry Out New Plan of Work.

Clara Barton, President of the American Red Cross has issued an appeal to the American public for funds to carry out some new work which the Red Cross has already initiated. This new work consists of what is called First Aid Treatment, of which Miss Barton speaks as follows:

"There will be two distinct branches of this work. For the first, an Emergency Case similar to that in use in England, Germany and other Red Cross Treaty Nations. This has been adapted to American needs and methods, under the direct supervision of the Medical Board of the Red Cross Hospital, and contains material and surgical dressings of the best class known to modern Surgery. A most valuable part of the permanent equipment of this Emergency Case is a series of Emergency Charts, arranged for instantaneous reference, giving simple, brief instructions for dealing with every conceivable case of accident, pending the arrival of the doctor. This Chart is the combined work of a committee of eminent physicians and surgeons; and apart from the admirable manner of its arrangement may be regarded as the highest standard of authority upon First Aid methods of treatment, known to the world."

In regard to the financial proposition involved in the carrying out of these ideas, Miss Barton states:

"We have established Headquarters for this department at 21 East 17th Street, (Union Square,) New York City, where all inquiries relative to the Red Cross Emergency Corps and the formation of Classes should be addressed to the General Superintendent. The plan of reorganization includes the formation of a Finance Committee, consisting of men of national reputation, who shall have entire charge of the funds of the Red Cross. This course is made necessary by the increased scope of the work contemplated and also because it is most desirable that when one returns, worn and weary, from a field of work, that no question shall arise as to the proper distribution of the funds."

A Hard Alternative.

It was a fearful problem for a woman to decide.

"It's just this way," her husband told her. "If you are content with an inexpensive wardrobe for yourself and the children, I can afford to let you go to Bar Harbor or Newport, but if you invest extensively in clothes I'll have to send you over to a Michigan fruit farm."

It was, indeed, a mean problem.—[Chicago Post.

a business house they invariably announce the fact that the place is unfair because it does not pay enough wages and because it compels its employés to work too long. A boycott of this sort has been carried on against the firm of Sanborn and Vail for something like three years. The firm has not suffered to any appreciable extent from the boycott, but it now develops that the men who have been carrying the banner have not only been underpaid, but have been compelled to work from ten to twelve hours every day. They finally complained to the Labor Council and asked for better hours and better pay for the work of announcing to the public that the unions were opposed to cheap men.

This appeal met with the usual reply that is accorded any workman who dares to assert individuality, and the poor fellows who were trying to keep body and soul together on Labor Council wages were incontinently discharged and their places filled by others who were glad to get the pittance. Then came one of the most peculiar strikes that has ever been seen. The discharged boycotters boycotted the new men and paraded the street with placards announcing the fact that the Labor Council was unfair. This was a short lived strike. The Labor Council saw the effect of such an announcement and the differences were adjusted.

FOR A YEAR'S DEAD.

Stanton Post and Corps Hold Services in Memoriam of Seventeen Members Taken by Grim Enemy.

Stanton Post, G.A.R., and W.R.C. held memorial services last evening for the members who died since last Memorial Day. There was a large attendance at the post's hall, No. 139 West Fifth street. Fifteen members of Stanton Post have died in the past twelve months, viz.: Sanford G. Morton, John H. Cotton, John C. Bram, William Frankiin, Joseph Jemery, Samuel K. Flanders, E. R. Tingley, John Senthoff, Charles S. Cummings, Lemuel Shields, Silas C. Olmsted, Levi M. Bice, Gustav Rheim, George F. Washburn and Leonhardt Hoffman.

Brief tributes to the deceased and reminiscences of their lives were given by Comrades Gumn, Baxter, G. A. Allen, Osgood, Miller, Wood, Sallada, Copelin, Cressey and Thomas. The ritualistic services were conducted.

The members of the corps then took charge of the hall, and performed ritualistic services of their order for its dead. Two members of the corps died since last Memorial Day, viz., Sarah Eggleston and Marie Barnun. Past Presidents Mrs. Bell Cross and Mrs. Lizzie Copelin gave brief historical sketches of the deceased. The exercises then closed.

Here are two of the most interesting special values that we have recently offered in the Men's Furnishing Department, and they are but an index of special values that are always being offered. Saturday only.

Specials for Men

25c Handkerchiefs 12½c
50 dozen men's fine hemstitched handkerchiefs, twenty hundred linen, beautifully hemstitched in ¼ and ⅛ inch hem, a regular 25c stock of handkerchiefs, on sale Saturday at 2 for 25c.

Suspenders at ½ or Less
25 dozen men's fine suspenders, made of fine lisle and silk finished webs, fine gilt buckles, glove kid and cordovan ends, brand new stock, sold commonly at 50c and 75c, on sale at 25c the pair.

Our stock of Men's Underwear comprises everything made for Spring and Summer weather in medium and light weight wool, balbriggan and mesh goods.

We have a swiss lisle mesh that is particularly desirable for this climate. It looks well, fits well, and wears well; in fact it does the work of higher priced goods. Our price for this underwear, $1.25 the garment.

The cause of so much uncomfortableness in some kinds of underwear is the way the sleeves are put in. Our Balbriggan Underwear is so constructed that one gets perfect freedom about the arms no matter what position they are in. 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50.

Ramie Underwear at $1.50 the Garment
We have a line of the "Gordian" Ramie Mesh Underwear of American manufacture that is equal to if not better than the foreign goods. A strictly high class summer garment. We are selling this Underwear at just one-half the price of the imported goods, $1.50 the garment.

Special Sale of Colored Dress Goods Monday. See Sunday Papers.

LOCAL SPORTING RECORD.

TIGERS LOST IN ELEVENTH.

Extra Inning Game Full of Excitement.

Both Pitchers Were Hit Hard and Often.

Martin and Johnson Want Match. High School Athletics. Golf Foursomes.

Los Angeles, 4; Tacoma, 3. Eleven innings.

There were a lot of sore Tigers out at Prager Park yesterday, and at nightfall they went back to their lairs feeling that a lot of hard luck had robbed them out of a game they should have won. It is always thus when a team loses by one run in an exciting game.

The locals should have won without any extra innings, for they were two ahead in the ninth, and things had been coming easily. In the ninth, however, the Tigers developed a batting streak and, aided by a pass, an error and a fielder's choice, two runs were made, and these tied the score. Then two extra innings were needed to finish the struggle, the locals easily scoring the deciding run in their half of the eleventh.

About one thousand fans watched the contest and howled continually at the plays, for they were exciting with the score so close. This was particularly so in the first half of the ninth, when the Tigers tied the score. On the whole, the playing was sharp, and of the six errors made only one counted in a run, so the mistakes were not costly.

Both pitchers were in fairly good form, and although they were batted freely, the hits were pretty well scattered all through the eleven innings. Loucks fanned six men to one for Thomas, and should have won on his pitching, but the usual baseball luck came in to help Jocko. As an illustration, it is only necessary to cite the first inning, when Jocko gave four passes to first. This would ordinarily have much to do with losing a game, but not this one, for it actually took a sacrifice and a hit and out to first base to score even one run.

The locals made their first one in the fourth, when Reilly was soaked in the back, stole second and scored on hits by Thielman and Messerly. The next one came in the sixth on Reilly's single and steal, a passed ball and Reilly's run home after the catch of a fly to left field. The third one was in the seventh on Hardy's single, Thomas's sacrifice and Walters' hit.

Nothing more happened until the ninth, when Jocko had a time of it and came near losing the game.

He gave Byers a pass; then Hutch hit to left, but was forced at second on Fisher's drive to Hall. Fay also hit to Hall and he touched out Fisher on the line, Byers scoring on this. Hall then threw the ball high to Messerly to double Fay, but the ball went over Messerly's head and Fay ran to third and scored on a hit by Loucks.

There was a big commotion in the stand and bleachers when the score was thus tied, and lots of excitement when the tenth inning passed without a run. The Tigers could not do a thing in their half of the eleventh, but the locals were more fortunate. Hall hit to center and went to second on Reilly's smash to left. He stole third and scored the winning run very easily after Thielman had flied out to left field.

The only really fine play in the game was a spectacular catch of Rockenfield back of third base in the eighth inning. He ran at top speed in from deep left and dove into the ground for the ball, rolling over and coming up with it in his hand. Walters also was loudly cheered for a beautiful running catch in left center in the fifth inning.

The score:

TURNERS' SHOOTING PARK INCORPORATES.

ARTICLES ARE TO BE FILED SOME TIME TODAY.

Representative Organization Fully up to Standard of Any in United States is Contemplated—Scope of the Scheme. Money Already Subscribed.

That Los Angeles is to have a representative sporting and athletic park fully equal to any in the country, is now an assured fact. Some time today a committee acting for the shooting section of Turn Verein Germania will formally file the articles of incorporation, which officially give birth to the "Los Angeles Schuetzen Park Association," the name adopted by the organization to transact the present business.

At a largely-attended meeting Thursday night, the subject was discussed in all its phases, and a committee report was presented, showing that the sum of $6500 had already been subscribed and paid into the treasury of the shooting park association; also that the project had met with warm favor wherever presented, and that there was no reason for longer delaying the matter of incorporation. This was ordered done, and the committee has finished its work.

The capital stock of the Los Angeles Schuetzen Park Association has been fixed at $50,000. Of this sum it is provided that $15,000 be paid for the grounds, $10,000 for the improvements to be made, and $25,000 to remain in the treasury as a reserve fund.

The grounds have already been selected, and the association has chosen a spot that is almost ideal; it nestles in the hills one mile and a half north of Eastlake Park, and contains abundant space for all the sporting facilities which the order contemplates. Primarily the idea was to erect a shooting park, as that sport is an old German pastime, and one of the cardinal principles of the Turners is the cultivation of good marksmanship. The situation selected has the great advantage of being so hemmed in by hills that there is no possibility of stray bullets causing trouble, and the committee believes it will in the future be free from the troublesome and ungauge-able gusts of wind that made shooting at the old range so often a matter of guesswork. One range of 200 yards, at which the customary monthly medal shoots are held, will be erected; there will be another of 500 yards, probably one of 300 yards, and if certain desirable land can be secured, the organization may even attempt the distance of 1000 yards. This would permit the State militia to hold its contests with the new high-powered Krag Jorgensen rifles, as provided by the regulations. A gallery and pistol range of fifty yards, to be covered and out of the wind, is also considered.

In addition to the shooting features all manner of athletic apparatus is to be installed for the benefit of the gymnasts who belong to the order. A complete picnicking ground, with benches, chairs, a dancing pavilion, lunch tables, abundant water, and plenty of trees is to be provided. There is a small grove on the grounds at present, but the intention is to have a landscape gardener lay out the park on entirely new lines, using the present advantages wherever practicable. A refreshment house, where meals and lodging can be secured, are also a part of the plan. Good roads lead to the grounds, and the Alhambra electric railway passes within 200 yards of the place, affording quick and certain communication with the city. The place is only fifteen minutes' ride from the heart of town.

The board of directors of the new Schuetzen Park Association is a strong one, being composed of such influential men as John Hauerwaas, Adolf Prese, Gen. A. Last, Adolf Maas, George Zobelein, John P. and Christ Krempel, Joseph Singer, Henry Pfirrmann, C. Leonardt and Louis Luckie. These gentlemen have been working on the matter for several years, but have just been able to bring their hopes and the reality together. All say that no expense within reason will be spared to make the proposed park a garden spot, and a credit to the city.

Negotiations for the ground have already been closed, some time remaining upon the thirty-day option secured by the order early this month. The work is to be started as soon as possible after the business has been closed, and the remainder of the money raised. This Secretary Maas says, will be a matter of a very short time.

TURNERS TO HAVE FEST.

CELEBRATION FOR NEXT MONTH.

The local section of Turn Verein Germania is planning a sort of fest, to occur at Hazard's Pavilion, June 5. There is to be singing, an athletic exhibition, wand drill, and similar performances by the turning classes. Practice has already been started for the event.

No Shoot at Ocean Park.

Owing to the absence of so many of the local trap shots, who are now attending the three days' tournament in San Francisco, there will be no shoot at Ocean Park Sunday.

Pomona Tourney Plans.

The Pomona sportsmen are planning for a day's shoot, to be held some time in the next two weeks. J. F. Nugent, secretary of the club at that place, has ordered $600 blue rocks, and date will probably be set in the next few days.

PUGILISM.

MORE FIGHTS IN SIGHT.

Manager Roche of the Oxnard club was in this city yesterday as a holdover from the Neill-Dixie fight and stated that he hoped to sign Neill and Frank Fields of Oxnard and Billy Otts and Toby Irwin for a double event. If successful in signing the men, he would try to get them on here before the local club, but it is hardly likely that arrangements can be made this way.

As a matter of fact, Neill's days for main events are certainly over. He is a nice boxer but he has no more punch than a rabbit. Then again, he always makes a scene down here by objecting to the club referee, Harry Stuart, simply because Stuart don't like Stuart. If Neill could fight, this caution might be overlooked, but his last two contests here have shown him to be a dead one. However, as he has probably fought his last fight here, he may be passed along to the warehouse.

Spider a Hoodoo.

This last fight here should prove that Spider Kelly is pretty nearly a hoodoo, as a lot of the sports have been thinking for some time. He brought Tooth-pick here some months ago and McVey beat him. Then he came along with Neill to fight Woods and Billy Madden beat Woods out of the decision. Now he brought Neill here again and had him beaten easily by Dixie. Then he had Kid Carter licked by McVey and there are some others. Spider should go and sleep in a graveyard with a black cat purring on his breast and then he might be able to get down on a live one. He is making some of the local undertakers sore by bringing so many dead men to town, and making all the money handling them.

Jack Johnson and Beaver Ed Martin are trying to get another match before the Century Club of this city and it is possible that Manager McCarey may put them on about July.

Mackerel at Redondo.

Hundreds of pounds of No. 1 corned mackerel have been coming up from Redondo all week, and half a hundred anglers will leave Los Angeles for that point at various hours late tonight. The fish are said to be running around the wharves.

School Athletics.

The Los Angeles County High School Athletic League will hold its first annual field day this afternoon on the grounds of the Harvard school at Sixteenth street and Western avenue. Nearly all of the High Schools of the county will be represented and the meet promises to be a fitting ending of this year's school athletics.

Indoor Athletics.

The members of the Los Angeles and Pasadena Y.M.C.A. athletic classes will contest tonight at the local Y.M.C.A. rooms in the broad jump, the running high jump, fence vault and the shot put.

Golf.

GET-RICH MAN SADLY MISSED.

Bride and Investors Anxious Over C. R. Miller.

Oil Stockbroker's Whereabouts a Mystery to All.

Office Furniture Attached—Queer Financial Dealings—Flight, Mishap or Foul Play.

Where is C. R. Miller, broker and financial agent, with offices at No. 460½ South Broadway?

This is the latest mystery that has come to harass the dreams of speculators in hurry-to-get-rich schemes, which hold out promises of enormous dividends. Miller has dropped from sight, and his whereabouts is at present unknown even to his bride of a few months and to numerous business associates who have cause to bemoan his absence.

Miller came to this city in August last, and shortly after opened offices at No. 460½ South Broadway where, until April 25, he engaged in a business of selling dividend-paying oil and mining stocks. By extensive advertising he caught a number of speculators, who were easily persuaded to take "flyers" in Texas oil stocks under the promise of from 2½ to 5 per cent. a month dividends. Miller made this line a specialty, fitting his office with blackboards on which were recorded the latest quotations on the Beaumont Exchange. One of his "good things," one that he is supposed to have sold to the extent of several thousand dollars, was the stock of the Heywoods Brothers Oil Corporation, of which Holland S. Reaves of Beaumont is general agent.

But this is not all that fell into the net of C. R. Miller since he began operations in this city. Through his promises of enormous returns on investments, he met and later married in this city an attractive lady of means of Halifax, N. S., who is believed to have backed him heavily in his various enterprises.

For several months all ran smoothly; dividends were paid regularly and speculators were congratulating themselves on their successful investments. While it was true that many of them did not receive their stock certificates, this did not bother them so long as dividends came in each month.

Such was the condition of affairs in the middle of April, when Miller decided to visit certain mining properties near Lovelock, Nev., in which he said he was interested. On April 22 he packed his grip and after leaving checks with his stenographer for all outstanding bills and the next dividends, he left, presumably for the Silver State. He assured both his wife and stenographer that he would be absent only ten days, and that if it were to become necessary to stay longer he would advise them.

SUSPICIOUS TELEGRAM.

One letter from Salinas, Monterey county, was received by Mrs. Miller two days later, and in it he stated that all arrangements had been made for starting at once for the mines. That was the last of Miller, and although efforts have been made by Mrs. Miller to locate her husband no trace of the missing man has been found.

Others have also been trying to locate Miller; they are the speculators whose fingers itch for the "easy money" dividends that have been cut off since the financial agent's departure. One of these is F. A. Parker, vice-president of the American National Bank of Long Beach, who loaded up on Miller's dividend-paying securities, subscribing for several hundred shares of the Heywoods Brothers Oil Corporation stock.

Although Parker has been suspicious that all was not right for some time, it was not until yesterday that he became convinced that all was wrong. This conviction came with a telegram from Beaumont, Tex., signed by Heywoods Brothers Oil Corporation, Holland S. Reaves, general agent, in answer to a query as to Miller's standing. The telegram reads:

AGITATORS BUSY THERE.

In an effort to tie up shipping along this part of the Coast, trouble-makers have been striving to organize a union of the men employed on the Southern Pacific wharf at Port Los Angeles.

A few days ago a meeting was held at which about seventy of the 200 men employed more or less regularly on the dock were present. Four agitators made an effort to form a union but they received poor encouragement.

Men employed at shoveling coal on vessels discharging at Port Los Angeles and men employed in the holds of vessels discharging cement there receive 45 cents per hour. Hatch tenders get 50 cents per hour. Men employed on the wharf at trucking freight from vessels get 25 cents per hour.

The wages received are said to average higher than at other ports in the vicinity of Los Angeles but the agitators seek to delude the workmen with the idea that they are not paid as well as elsewhere. The evident purpose of the agitators is to organize a union to act with or as a branch of the union of wharf workmen at San Pedro, but it is believed they will not succeed.

NEW OPERATOR FOR TEMBLOR.

Jerome Company to Begin Drilling for Oil—Associated's Big Storage Reservoir Nearing Completion.

A new company, the Jerome, is preparing to invade the Temblor district, that field where is buried many an oil man's hope of finding liquid fuel. The company is backed by E. J. Miley of Dabney, and a number of San Francisco capitalists.

It has secured property near the Gould Central, the Paraffine and the Bishop Tool Fishing companies, has ordered a drilling outfit, and will soon be adding to the activity in that district.

GREAT STORAGE RESERVOIRS.

The Associated Oil Company's immense storage reservoir on the San Joaquin lease in the Kern River field, is nearing completion. It will have a capacity of 550,000 barrels, and will be the largest in the State. Another large reservoir is being built in the McKittrick district for this company.

SKILLED WORKMEN NEEDED.

A shortage of labor is reported in the Kern county oil fields, where the number of new wells being drilled and the great amount of work handled have created a great demand for skilled labor, experienced drillers and tool dressers especially. Many operators are short handed, and cannot get the help needed.

UNITED BRETHREN MEET.

Annual Conference is in Session in This City—Bishop Delayed in East by High Water.

The annual conference of the Church of the United Brethrn in Christ is holding its thirty-eighth session in Los Angeles this week.

The sessions are held in the United Brethren Church at the corner of Pico and Hope streets.

This is a mission conference, having numerous fields throughout the State, and representing which there are in attendance sixteen ministers and ten laymen, besides numerous visitors.

Bishop Nicholas Castle is delayed in the East, on account of high water; and the conference was organized by the election of Rev. C. C. Bell of Philomath, Or., as bishop pro tem.

A convention of the California branch of the Young Peoples' Society occupied Wednesday. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

President, Rev. Homer Gallagher; vice-presidents, Oliver Ingram, Rev. F. Austin, S. H. Kingery; secretary, Rev. J. C. Goodrich; treasurer, Mrs. J. C. Goodrich.

The work of the conference began Wednesday afternoon, with a sermon by Rev. R. G. Carter of Maynard, Neb. In the evening a meeting was held of the branch Woman's Missionary Society.

Thursday forenoon was taken up by reports of presiding elders and pastors, and in the afternoon papers on church topics were presented. At 4 o'clock a memorial service was held for Revs. N. F. Kletzing and M. S. Drury, who died during the year. At night Rev. William Thompson of Sacramento preached.

To Pave Central Ave.
Reference was recently made to this column to the proposed paving of Pico street. Another paving improvement that is contemplated is that of Central avenue. Petitions are now being circulated for the paving of Central avenue with asphalt, from First street to Slauson avenue, on the south, and Main adjoining the new fair grounds. The property owners from First street to Twelfth street have already signed up, which assures the work to that point. Petitions from Twelfth street to Twenty-ninth street are being rapidly signed, and a move is now on foot to have the work continued from Twenty-ninth street to Slauson avenue, making Central avenue one of the longest paved streets in the State, it being eighty feet wide, and over four miles long. This will be the main artery leading to the city from San Pedro and Long Beach, for all that portion of the country south of the city and east, and if the work is carried through, Central avenue will steal Main street. M. H. Huntington has already agreed to pay his right of way for the four miles which is equal to one-third of the entire cost. This is a good improvement, and should be heartily supported by property owners on that section. As The Times has said on several occasions, now is the time for a general movement for street paving, while capitalism is so ready. It is very likely to remain so now is your time to locate.

Catarrh of the Stomach and all other symptoms of Indigestion
Repeated attacks of indigestion inflames the mucous membranes lining the stomach and exposes the nerves of the stomach, thus causing the glands to secrete mucin instead of the juices of natural digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach. It is caused by indigestion.
For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach caused indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. First comes slight indigestion, then repeated attacks of indigestion, and if something is not done the symptoms mentioned on the left follow in about the order named. Some of these symptoms may not be experienced, while heartburn, headache, constipation and many others may be, but chronic dyspepsia and finally Catarrh of the Stomach is certain to be the result if the proper treatment is not resorted to. KODOL relieves inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the stomach, protects the nerves, and enables the glands to secrete the natural juices of digestion. Its use enables the stomach and digestive organs to transform all of the wholesome food that may be eaten into the kind of rich, red blood that makes health, strength, tissue, brain, brawn and bone.
Douglasville, Ga., May 17, 1902.
I have been traveling for nearly two years and have suffered very badly from indigestion and dyspepsia. I tried several physicians and all kinds of patent medicines, but Kodol is the first and only remedy that has done me any good whatever; now I have only used two small bottles and to my surprise it has cured me sound and well.—B. W. WATTERS.
"Kodol Digests What You Eat"
Recent experiments, by practical tests and examination with the aid of the X-Ray, establish it as a fact that Catarrh of the Stomach is not a disease in itself, but that it is a condition resulting from repeated attacks of indigestion.
The stomach and alimentary canal, or digestive tract, is lined or coated with a mucous membrane. Studding the surface of this mucous membrane are the gastric glands. Here, also, are the terminal branches of the pneumogastric nerves, and many branches from the sympathetic system.
Bottles only. $1.00 Size holding 2½ times the trial size, which sells for 50c.

The converts of the Mission contributed the larger portion of this sum.

Was Not Held up.

William Gillis was found near River Station at 3:45 o'clock yesterday morning suffering from a wound in the left arm, which had severed one of the smaller arteries, causing profuse hemorrhage. Gillis told the officer a story of his having been held up by a number of Mexicans who, when they saw that he had no money, stabbed him in the arm and tried to use their knives again, but he ran from them and escaped. His story was investigated, and it was found that he had been drinking with a number of cholos, and during a quarrel over the payment of a round of drinks one of them had stuck the blade of a penknife in his elbow.

More Missionaries.

Elder T. J. Kelley, the missionary who returned recently from Guatemala, and who is now at the Friends Training School on Boyle Heights, reports having secured several recruits for the southern mission field. They will attend the training school during the summer, and leave for Central America next fall. The annual meeting of the school will take place at 1 o'clock next Tuesday, at which time a board of trustees for the ensuing year will be elected. At 10:30 Tuesday morning Lonnie Dennis, the colored boy evangelist, will speak at the Friends Training School.

Francis Murphy's Meeting.

Last night Francis Murphy conducted an enthusiastic temperance meeting at the Union Sunday-school Hall on Hewitt street. There was a large attendance of youths and young men, and this will be followed by a series of meetings in that neighborhood. Tomorrow night Mr. Murphy will speak in Blanchard's Hall on "Glad Tidings." He will be assisted in this meeting by Rev. Dr. Douglas Putnam of Princeton, N. J., spoken of as Benjamin Harrison's double; Rev. Dr. Coffa of Pittsburgh, Pa., and other noted speakers. A fine musical programme will be given, under the direction of Charles Lamb.

YOUNG NEGRESS THRILLED THE PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN.

LUCY LANEY was the sensation of the Presbyterian firmament yesterday. Lucy Laney is a young negress from Georgia, and she thrilled the Women's Missionary Society with her eloquence as it never had been thrilled before. Yesterday marked the opening of the Missionary Society's sessions which are held in the First Church.

It was an exceptionally quiet day in the assembly at Immanuel Church, and commissioners took advantage of it to begin their touring. Many of them were seen on the streets of Pasadena, and some went to Mt. Lowe. Others are planning to slip off occasionally next week to points of interest in Southern California, as they understand that this is part of their mission to Los Angeles. There is an unprecedented rush on the Excursion Committee for tickets for all points. Chairman Boyd was asked yesterday for tickets to the Yosemite, and one old elder wanted tickets for the Yellowstone. The men from Delaware, Maryland and Connecticut and some other Eastern States find it impossible to realize what distances mean in California.

More interest was taken in certain subjects yesterday outside of the house than within. Creed revision came to the front on the curbstone and in the lobby, and some of the members of the Assembly Committee on Creed Revision showed anxiety because their report was referred to a special committee. In view of the fact that their report has been severely criticised, they fear that the special committee has something up its sleeve. There are members of the assembly who insist that some of the grammatical errors in the language of the report shall be amended before the changes proposed shall be engrossed in the Confession of Faith. They ask that the report be submitted to a Committee of Professors of English Literature to make the rhetoric right and make any other necessary alterations so that future generations shall not have trouble.

PREDESTINATION AND INFANT DAMNATION.

CREED REVISION HELD UP BY THE ASSEMBLY.

Vote of Local Presbyteries Favored the Overtures, but Members of Assembly Detected Technical Errors—Proceedings of Morning Session.

The vote of the local presbyteries on creed revision was announced in the General Assembly yesterday, as previously announced in The Times. All the changes proposed by the General Committee were adopted in the local presbyteries by an overwhelming majority. Only two presbyteries in the entire church voted against the whole business.

Much to the surprise of leading members of the General Assembly Committee on Creed Revision, the whole matter was referred by the General Assembly yesterday morning to a special committee, which will report to the assembly as soon as possible.

The General Assembly has no power to make the least alteration in the report, and if any should be proposed by the special committee, the whole subject would have to be referred back to the presbyteries for ratification, which would delay action another year. The overwhelming sentiment of the assembly is in favor of adopting the report as it stands, errors and all, as Dr. Van Dyke holds that fault can be found even with the language of the old confession as formed by the Westminster Assembly. It will hardly be possible to create a ripple of trouble in the General Assembly, which is heartily tired of the long controversy, as declared over and over again on the platform in the present assembly.

The overture regarding predestination was adopted by the local presbyteries by a vote of 208 affirmative against 5 negative. It was the second of the eleven proposed, and reads as follows:

"Shall the following declaratory statement be adopted as to chapter III of the Confession of Faith: That concerning those who are saved in Christ, the doctrine of God's eternal decree is held in harmony with the doctrine of His love to all mankind, His gift of His Son to be the propitiation of the sins of the whole world, and His readiness to bestow His saving grace on all who seek it. That concerning those who perish, the doctrine of God's eternal decree is held in harmony with the doctrine that God desires not the death of any sinner, but has provided in Christ a salvation sufficient for all, adapted to all, and freely offered in the gospel to all; that men are fully responsible for the treatment of God's gracious offer; that His decree hinders no man from accepting that offer, and that no man is condemned except on the ground of his sin."

The third overture, regarding infant damnation, was adopted by the local presbyteries by a vote of 207 affirmative against 6 negative, and is as follows:

"Shall the following declaratory statement be adopted as to chapter X, section III, of the Confession of Faith? That it is not to be regarded as teaching that any who die in infancy are lost. We believe that all dying in infancy are included in the election of grace, and are regenerated and saved by Christ through the Spirit, who works where and when and how He pleases."

PERFECT HARMONY.

This is not a revolution in the Presbyterian church, but is conformity, a growth with the spirit of the times. The adoption of the overtures occasioned the smallest possible amount of talk, and absolutely no friction. The time of opposition to the modern spirit seems to be past, for if there were any in the assembly who objected to the new order of things, their voices were not heard, and whatever private opinions they had to express were not audible for publication.

The leaders all strenuously deny that this is a change. They choose to call it rather an amendment, and assert that where heretofore the religion that grew out of a stern age had insisted on the austerity of God's might, it was now, due to the trend of the times and the evangelization of the world, prepared to emphasize the potency of God's love. They say that they are not exercising the critical faculty, but are, instead, asserting the constructive. On this point all good Presbyterians are both stern and liberal. As to the question of whether they have a conservative or liberal spirit, individually and collectively, they resent the imputation that there can be any division in the church on this great question of advancement. And certainly the atmosphere of the assembly as indicated in platform speeches and in private conversation, is of the most balmy and hopeful disposition.

This leaven of revision seems to have been working silently and surely in the heart of the church for years, and yesterday's action but expresses formally and without eruption the advances that have taken place. As Dr. Van Dyke said yesterday to a Times reporter, in canvassing the subject of revision, the church has many faults, and there is a great deal for her to do in meeting her full responsibilities and obligations, but that she is advancing and gaining in power no intelligent person can doubt. The object of the assembly, he added, is to promote that advance and increase that power. It was Dr. Van Dyke who, as was said by Dr. Page in his nomination speech of Dr. Coyle yesterday, dug the grave and buried the schism in the church, and who not only put up the monument, but also wrote the epitaph.

On the other overtures, the vote of the local presbyteries was as follows:

First—For, 209; against, 4. Fourth—For, 209; against, 4. Fifth—For, 209; against, 7. Sixth—For, 203; against, 10. Seventh—For, 206; against, 5. Eighth—For, 204; against, 9. Ninth—For, 206; against, 7. Tenth—For, 206; against, 7. Eleventh—For, 210; against, 3.

The negative votes came from three presbyteries, Huntington, La Cross and Ouark. In substance the overtures, aside from the revolutionary ones, the second and third, are as follows:

OVERTURES ANALYZED.

The first is a preamble and declares that as a desire has been formerly expressed for a disavowal by the church of certain inferences drawn from statements in the Confession of Faith, and also for a declaration of certain aspects of revealed truth which appear at the present time to call for more explicit statement, that therefore the Presbyterian church in the United States of America does authoritatively declare as has been indicated in the second and third overtures, and in the others, also.

The fourth is a technical correction of previous wording.

The fifth treats of the works of unregenerate man, and while revising the previous harshness of the Presbyterian creed, saying that in themselves such works may be things which God commands, and in themselves praiseworthy and useful, and that although the neglect of such things is sinful and displeasing unto God; yet because they proceed not from a heart purified by faith, nor are done in a right manner, according to His word, nor to a right end, the glory of God, they come short of what God requires, and do not make any man meet to receive the grace of God. This may be called the backaction overture, as it does not fulfill what it promises in the beginning, saying, as it does plainly, that there is but one way to be saved, and that is by becoming regenerate.

The sixth moves to strike out a clause providing that it is a sin to refuse an oath touching anything that is good and just, being imposed by lawful authority. This is another remission to the former austerity of the church, as it implies that there is no sin in refusing an oath, though it be imposed by lawful authority and touching anything good and just, if it be not sanctified by the church.

The seventh asserts, unequivocally, that Jesus Christ is the head of the church.

The eighth is another preamble showing why it is desirable that a chapter entitled, "Of the Holy Spirit," be added to the Confession of Faith.

EXALTATION OF HOLY SPIRIT.

The ninth is the above-mentioned chapter, and is an explicit exaltation of the in-dwelling of the Holy Spirit. It is in direct contradistinction to the ancient rigidity of the creed. It felicitously and deviously asserts that the Holy Spirit, the third person in the trinity, is equal in power and glory to the Father and the Son, and is to be believed in, loved, obeyed and worshiped throughout all ages. The Holy Spirit is defined to be the divine inspiration of the prophets and the writers of the scriptures. The Holy Spirit is shown to be the incarnation of divine persuasion and grace, He who convicts men of sin, moves them to repentance, regenerates them by His grace, and persuades and enables them to embrace Jesus Christ by faith. By Him the church is to be preserved and increased until it shall cover the earth, purified, and at last made perfectly holy in the presence of God.

It is this overture that shows the curious subtlety of the Presbyterian divines in rehabilitating and changing, the essential structure of the creed, without impairing, to the ordinary lay eye, the efficacy of their great religion. It is the placement of love for might, of divine grace for divine vengeance, and yet so deviously effecting this rebirth, that none of the austerity and dignity of the old religion is lost. It is a triumph for diplomacy in revision, the ascendency of the modern church policy of conformity.

The tenth is even more beneficient in its repeal of the old curse of dogma. It provides for the adding of a chapter to the Confession of Faith entitled "Of the Love of God and Missions," and, while augmenting the grace and beauty, provided for in the chapter devoted to the Holy Spirit, yet holds as rigorously to the ancient forms of belief and even adds its solemn note of warning and abjuration. In no place does it declare that the Presbyterian church is the only true church; but it does assert that the gospel is the only true means of redemption, and that salvation may only be sought as revealed there. Its final exhortation is that all believers shall contribute their prayers, gifts and personal efforts to the extension of the kingdom of Christ throughout the whole earth.

FINAL SUMMING UP.

The eleventh is a summing up of the purposes that led the Revision Committee to submit the overture to the assembly, and declares for minor changes in the adoption of any of the above overtures. The desire was to be brief and to have the new articles expressed, so far as possible, in untechnical terms. It was desired to "furnish something to give better information and a better understanding of our doctrinal beliefs, and not with a view to its becoming a substitute for, or an alternative of, our Confession of Faith. These instructions are both positive and negative. They declare that it has made no revision, but merely an amplification, that the overtures do not constitute a change, but an amendment. Such is the hesitancy of the Presbyterian mind to accept anything savoring of deviation from their absolute standards.

This Confession of Faith is for Presbyterian ministers, and not for the laymen of the church, yet these efforts to make the confessional doctrines understandable to the laity, have been made for the purpose of reconciling the old with the new. The final resolution, in part, is:

"We were not to prepare a new Confession of Faith, or merely a condensed compendium of our doctrine, or a new standard of orthodoxy, much less a standard of new orthodoxy. The enjoined brevity made necessary the delicate task of selection. We could not include in such a statement anything we hold to be true, nor, on the other hand, could we confine ourselves to doctrines distinctively our own. Indeed, many of our most fundamental and vital doctrines we hold in common with the whole evangelical church; and, moreover, whatever is peculiar to our own faith is susceptible neither of being stated nor of being known except in the light of what we thus hold in common with other communions. Nor could we forget that the intellect is not the only organ of religious perception and knowledge. The three confessional formulas which we have received from the past, and which we hold in veneration, address themselves, primarily and professedly, to the logical faculty, and in a way that is preeminently successful;

HAPPY CLIMAX FOR COLLEGE.

Fifty Thousand Dollars Raised for Presbyterian School.

The friends of Occidental College have been successful in raising the required $50,000 for their new building, and have even gone beyond this to the extent of $1800.

This total amount is to be used in the erection of a general college building on the ample campus lying in front of the present building, and fronting on Pasadena avenue.

Presbyterians will celebrate this great stride for Occidental with a formal breaking of ground for the new building Monday afternoon.

The General Assembly will adjourn at 4 o'clock and take special cars to the college. The ceremonies will take place at 4:45. There will be several short addresses, and the five-acre campus, extending from Avenues 35 to 36, and, from the Santa Fé Railway to Pasadena avenue, will be formally presented to the board of trustees by Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Gordon and Mrs. Jane Rutan of Pomona. This is in fulfillment of their promise pro- college raised the $50,000.

certainly, then, it was not simply another symbol framed on the same organizing principles, and destined to be inferior to them, both in precision of statement and in systematic excellence, which the assembly had in mind, or which the present condition of the church calls for. Accordingly, we have endeavored to introduce into our work a different principle of expression, and so to bring out more plainly the evangelistic aspects of our faith. We have aimed to connect truth with life."

EARLY EXERCISES.

The devotional services of yesterday morning's session opened at 9 o'clock with Dr. Coyle in the chair as moderator. In that capacity he offered the opening prayer.

After the reading of the minutes for the previous day's session, Dr. Hugh K. Walker, pastor of the Immanuel Church, delivered the formal address of welcome, and was greeted with appreciative applause. His address was short, being made subsidiary to the presentation of the gavel, which followed. Dr. Walker said that for three years Los Angeles has been loved churches' work—eight boards and four great committees. But it comes from the Executive Committee of this assembly, and it is composed of twelve subcommittees, which are thus bound in one. Here is the cedar of Lebanon, which suggests immortality, and the imperishable truth for which the church stands—a symbol of beauty and strength. The almond in Hebrew means 'to hasten.' It suggests that we hasten in our work. But also as the rod of Aaron, which budded, was of almond, it suggests vitality and fertility.

"The oak tells us of strength and endurance. The fig, which gave the first clothes to our parents, suggests the prayer chamber of Nathaniel. The myrtle, whose every leaf and branch and bark and root can be used, suggests the work of the church.

"'Instead of the brier, shall come up the myrtle.' Then here is the gorgeous pomegranate, the sweet-smelling camphor and the sycamore, and the olive, which is a beautiful symbol of the peace of the church. The center is acacia, the wood of the tabernacle, and suggests where the tabernacle $100,000. As a consequence we have had to go over every foreign field and cut down the expenditures from $200,000 to $180,000. The Bible Society is not bankrupt. You needn't be afraid of that, but it has not the money it needs. If you do not help it more generously you may look for serious retrenchments next year."

Dr. Fox then told in detail of the work of the society and explained how it is that there is a constant need of a further translation of the Bible, as well as of further distribution. He said that though there are now 350 languages in which it is read, as contrasted with 50 at the beginning of the century, still the field is practically unlimited for a further advance; that when the ordinary languages are all occupied with the new and old versions there will yet remain the Bibles for the blind to furnish. Out of the 7700 churches in America only 1200 give anything to the society, so that five-eighths give nothing.

Dr. Mateer rose to second the words of Dr. Fox, and was warmly received as his name has been each time it has of personal desire and material or secular interests that may be necessary in order to secure such results. To this end, we enjoin all ministers, officers and members of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America to exercise special care and faithfulness.

"Resolved, that the General Assembly hereby expresses its strong and emphatic disapproval of all secular uses of the day, all games and sports, all social functions, all traveling for pleasure, all excursions by land or water, all uses of this day as a day of convenience to do that which has been left undone during the past week, or to promote the secular interests of the coming week, both at home and abroad.

"Resolved, that, while we are persuaded that obedience to the fourth commandment, by the suspension of business will increase rather than decrease the profits of any and all commercial enterprises, the General Assembly does hereby earnestly urge all officers and boards of directors of corporate industry, and all employers of labor, to subordinate if need be the matter of dividends, to the demands of this divine law.

"Resolved, that the General Assembly hereby expresses its emphatic condemnation of seven-day journalism, which, in our opinion, is doing as much or more than any other one influence in the United States of America to wipe out the distinction of days and to secularize the Christian Sabbath. Seven-day journalism voices the intense commercial spirit of our age, that would rob both God and man of the rest day for financial ends. Seven-day journalism causes a vast amount of Sunday labor. Seven-day journalism is a most efficient enemy of the church of Christ. Seven-day journalism prevents untold thousands of our citizens from attending divine service on the Lord's day, and omits many thousands of others for receiving the benefits of such service.

"Resolved, that, as the United States Congress has recently pronounced legislation on Sunday to be illegal, we do therefore deprecate the practice of turning the clock backward in order to legalize the passage of bills on Sunday.

"Resolved that we most respectfully call the attention of all public officials to the potent influence of their position, not only on all moral questions, and the necessity of greater care on their part, proportioned to the exalted nature of the office which they occupy, that they may strengthen rather than weaken, by their influence, public and private observance of the Lord's day."

DR. HATHAWAY'S REMARKS.

After Dr. Yeracance finished reading the report on Sabbath observance, he asked the moderator that Dr. Hathaway, secretary of the committee, be permitted to speak. Dr. Hathaway was called to the platform. He said:

"My heart is often made sad by the low place the Sabbath occupies in the esteem of most persons. Then I am cheered when I recognize the fact that the Presbyterian Church has taken up the subject of Sabbath observance and brought it to the front. No other ecclesiastical body maintains such a committee as ours. The reason many persons in the church and out of it regard the Sabbath question as minor because they fail to appreciate its value to religious work. Archeologists say the Sabbath is as old as the world. Now I want to dwell on the relation of the Sabbath to Christian work. The increase of Sabbath labor has been so rapid that from 2,500,000 workers ten years ago the number has risen to 6,000,000. I had a discussion with a New York editor who had said that a man who makes his neighbor work on Sunday is an enemy to his country. I told him that every Sunday when the newspapers of the country were sent out to the public over 1,000,000 boys and girls were put to work.

"The indifference of Christians to the Sabbath, was illustrated at a certain city church where I had to wait fifteen minutes while the three men employed by a florist decorated the pulpit. Then I was ushered in to speak on the subject of Sunday observance. When I visited Niagara, I saw all the great electric plants but one in operation on Sunday. That one was where shredded wheat biscuits are manufactured. I always hated shredded wheat biscuits, but I have eaten them ever since.

"Now, brethren, why do you put my literature in the waste basket? Why don't you answer my letters if only to say 'God bless you?' One man said that I ought to put $50,000 worth of literature here on the Pacific Slope, and I am thankful to come here to see what you need."

At the conclusion of his speech, Dr. Hathaway announced that he had made arrangements with the managers of the St. Louis Exposition for an International Rest Congress, Oct. 4, 7, and 8, 1904.

Dr. Kneeland, of Boston, secretary of the New England Sabbath League, and H. B. Faris, of Clinton, Mo., also spoke, urging Sunday observance. A resolution, by a standing vote, was passed to adopt the report.

thing was made on the university plan. Therefore, if you hear of a school for negroes in the South today, if in the city, it will be called a university; in a small town it will be a plain college, and out in the country it descends to the low rank of a 'Normal Collegiate Institute.'

"Do not be afraid of giving the negro higher training, for he is not getting too much of any sort. We are isolated. The negro must be taught by the negro teacher, and then that negro teacher must make a place in life for his negro pupil, who in turn must help some one else.

"We are accused of being a 'lazy, good-for-nothing' class. We have our lazy, shiftless ones, of course, but have you forgotten that for more than two centuries our fathers had no lands, no money, no property of any sort—not even the right to their own lives. I'll let you into a secret; at the close of the rebellion there were left in the South 1,000,000 bales of cotton, which brought in an average of $155 to every slave holder. There was money enough to keep the whites from starving, but none for the negro. Yet today there are 746,714 pieces of farming land worked by the people of my race, of which 130,000 are owned free of debt. Negroes of the southland have the deeds to 20,000,000 acres, valued at $200,000,000. Sisters, some of us are working. You couldn't put all of our landholders in Georgia—and while Tillman is in South Carolina, we certainly wouldn't be allowed to stretch over into that territory.

"The negro is hopeful, but he is poor. I know negro women earning $4 a month, who spend $3 of it to send a boy or girl to school. He also knows that he must fight prejudice to the bitter end.

"Judge us not by the heights to which we have ascended; rather, judge us by the depths from which we have come."

THE MORNING SESSION.

At 10 o'clock gallery and floor of First Church were filled with women devotees of the home missionary cause. Masses of roses, sweet-peas and carnations decorated the rostrum, upon which sat all the participants in the morning exercises, and behind the pulpit, in the high-backed ministerial chair, was Mrs. Darwin R. James, national president of the organization. Mrs. James is a presiding officer of rare grace; she is a mistress of the high art of penetrating human motives, and is skilled in diplomacy. There was more than one whispered comparison with that queen of women rulers, Mrs. Rebecca Douglass Lowe of the National Federation of Women's Clubs.

The morning scripture lesson was read by Mrs. J. V. Milligan of Oregon; and after prayer by Mrs. W. M. Ferry of Utah, the annual treasurer's report, read by Mrs. Knapp of New York, was listened to with great interest. For the second time receipts have passed the $400,000 mark, reaching this year, $44,174.77. Of this sum church congregational offerings have amounted to $5,821.61; woman's auxiliaries, $183,599.21; young people, $22,-872.91; Y.P.S.C.E. and juniors, $21,-855.90; Sunday-schools, $22,498.71; legacies, $31,414.11; interest on funds, $1,-825.19; tuition and board, $54,545.55; literature, $2,276.75; monthly magazines, $2500; miscellaneous, $27,534.38; special donations, $94.61.

There have been disbursements of $372,732.60. Teachers' salaries and school expenses have, of course, been the largest figure, $212,297.48. The treasurer reported herself highly gratified with the work of her department during the past year.

This year a number of buildings have been erected or purchased at Muskogee, I. T., by the society; a new dormitory has been added to Henry Kendall College; a chapel and teachers' home have been built at Harlan, Ky.; a teachers' home has been built at Manchester, and over $12,000 has been given for the great Presbyterian hos-wooing this meeting of the General Assembly, and that now the city is like a blushing and radiant bride, receiving her guests. He assured the members of the assembly that their welcome is "warm, but not so warm as that of the Cleveland man, who promised sunstrokes every day."

In his response, which was likewise short and felicitous, Dr. Coyle said that the members had "come, had seen and had been conquered." He said he felt sure that all would prize the beautiful experiences had, and that the thoughts awakened would remain long as an inspiration.

At the time for the presentation of the gavel, a handsome, serviceable instrument, made from twelve of the representative woods of California, bound together with gold bands, Dr. William F. Young said:

"Mr. Moderator, in presenting this gavel, I am minded to say that many of us had hoped that it would be presented to Dr. Chichester, one of whose enduring monuments is this church. But God had higher honors for him. However, Dr. Coyle, we are glad to present it to you, for you are one of us. By your own testimony your heart is here. Livingstone's heart is in Africa; who cares that his body is in England. We of the Coast are honored once more in having a moderator in you.

"In planning for a gavel for the 115th General Assembly, we found we had no memorials that were historic. Our missions are not Protestant. Protestantism is scare more than fifty years old in California, but we have a land very similar to that which God chose as the land in which to cradle His people, and write a book for all ages.

"Our land is a land of wheat and barley, of vines and fig trees, and pomegranates; a land of oil, olive and honey. Our climate, our mountains and valleys, our wet and dry seasons, are very similar to those of Palestine, as well as the products of the field.

"This gavel is of twelve woods found here, which are in the Bible and found in Palestine. It might symbolize the twelve tribes, the twelve apostles, the twelve great arms of our beloved thought; and last is the juniper, the tree of Elijah. The church of Los Angeles and California, and the whole church at times, has had its scene under the juniper, but it is well the handle is not in the juniper, for the handle is palm, which means victory. The church has had victory. This gavel is a beautiful symbol of the Catholicity of the Presbyterian Church, which, like the story of the Persian tent, takes all under its folds when pitched.

"Mr. Moderator, this concrete thought is that of a pastor and minister, but the work of making is that of Walter B. Byram, a ruling elder in Knox Church. It suggests that the work of the church is largely carved out by the eldership. These bands of solid gold are unending circles. They suggest the bonds of love that have bound the hearts of the committee together, and which binds us together in Christ, and they remind us that His banner over us is love. They bind; they hold.

"Mr. Moderator, it gives me great pleasure in behalf of the Executive Committee, to place this gavel in your hands."

On the gavel was engraved, "To the moderator of the 115th General Assembly, Immanuel Church, Los Angeles, Cal., May 21, 1903. Presented by the Executive Committee."

ANOTHER GAVEL.

Following this John F. Patterson of Orange, N. J., presented a gavel made of sapote wood as a gift from the synod of Mexico, which was once a part of the General Assembly, but which is now distinct in its organization. Delicate silver bands inclosed it and it bore this engraved inscription, "General Assembly, Los Angeles, 1903, from Synod of Mexico."

Dr. Coyle gracefully accepted this gift, as well as the former, and then announced, as forecasted by in yesterday's Times, that he had appointed Dr. W. N. Page of Kansas as vice-moderator. Dr. Page then took the chair and occupied it through most of the morning session. The report of the stated clerk on revision was read and received with silence, as the members were reserving their comments for next Thursday, when the overtures will come up for detailed consideration.

The following committee was appointed for ministerial relief:

Ministers—S. Baxter Nelson, Rochester; W. G. Browning, Chile; W. L. Everett, Baltimore; W. Scott Bowman, Ridgetone; Hugh P. McAdams, Columbus; W. K. Wright, Petoskey; John McCoy, Winanbago; Phil C. Baird, Fort Dodge; O. K. Miller, Nebraska City; L. H. Mony, Boston; W. K. Guthrie, San Francisco.

Elders—Paul Cook, Troy; H. Edwards, Rowland, N. Y.; W. H. Furnam, Baerneville; Henry G. Goodrich, Philadelphia; Livingston Fewsmith, Cleveland; Otis B. Fitch, Ft. Wayne; Joseph E. Fisher, Peoria; E. S. Swain, Louisville; W. E. Higginson, Emporia; M. A. Strain, South Oregon.

DISTRIBUTION OF BIBLES.

The Rev. Dr. Fox of Brooklyn, secretary of the American Bible Society, then held the pulpit for half an hour and emphasized the need of a larger activity in the distribution of Bibles among the foreign missions. He protested against the general attitude toward the translation and distribution of Bibles as something of a beneficent luxury. "This year," he said, "we have $75,000 less in bequests than last year. The falling-off is chiefly in legacies, but not entirely. There should have been an advance of at least been mentioned before the Assembly. He spoke to enlist the sympathies of aries and the translation of the Bible Society. He declared it to be one of the most important aids to be obtained in missionary work. It has two branches, he said, the putting of the Bibles into the hands of the missionaries and the translation of the Bible

He urged his hearers not to neglect "the great work of furnishing the heathen world with the Christian Bible."

Acting Moderator Page, after Dr. Mateer's address, announced the appointment of the following committee to canvass the overtures on revision: Rev. Robert Westly Peach, Camden, N. J.; Rev. James H. Hoadley, New York; Rev. Guy Wadsworth, Los Angeles; Elder Charles T. Thompson, Minneapolis, and Elder George B. Gray, Oakland.

ON SUNDAY OBSERVANCE.

The first of the reports of the special committees was that on Sunday observance. This was the only one reached in the forenoon session, as there were three speakers heard on this absorbing subject. The Sunday theater and especially the Sunday newspaper were heavily scored. James Yearance, the chairman of the committee, read the report, which is as follows:

Notwithstanding the tendency of so many thousands of American citizens to treat the claims of the Christian Sabbath with indifference, if not with contempt, and to denominate all efforts to maintain the sacred character of this day as attempts to perpetuate "blue laws" and to interfere with personal liberty, and with the carelessness of so large a percentage of professed Christians, there are indications of a quickened appreciation and a more comprehensive apprehension in the minds of our people of the value of this divinely appointed rest day, shown by the larger discussion of the Sabbath question in both the religious and secular press, and by the prompt and strong opposition manifested against all attempts to destroy the legal safeguards which the Penal Code of nearly all the states of our Union have thrown around this day.

The committee recommended the passage of the following resolutions:

"Resolved, that the General Assembly hereby expresses its strong conviction that the sacred character of the Sabbath must be carefully and strenuously maintained, at whatever sacrifice

SOLDIER-COMMISSIONERS TO HOLD MEETINGS.

CAMP FIRE AND MEMORIAL SERVICES ARE PLANNED.

Fifty War Veterans in Membership of Assembly—Great Results Reported From Japan—Scarcity of Ex-Moderators—Negro Speakers.

A meeting of the old soldiers among the Presbyterian commissioners was held yesterday afternoon, and it was reported that there are over fifty soldiers in the assembly. The meeting organized by electing Rev. Dr. Robert N. Adams of Minnesota president and Rev. Dr. S. S. Gilson of Pennsylvania secretary. A committee was appointed to arrange for a camp fire, to decide as to memorial services and to secure speakers. The committee consists of Rev. Dr. Duncan J. McMillan of New York, Solomon Zarbaugh of Ohio, and Rev. Dr. James Mitchell of Massachusetts. This Committee of Arrangements will call a meeting again early in the next week.

Addresses will be made at the camp fire by Rev. Dr. Douglas Putnam of Indiana, Rev. Dr. Benjamin L. Agnew of Pennsylvania; Rev. Dr. Robert N. Adams of Minnesota, who was a brigadier-general; Rev. Dr. James A. Worden and Rev. Dr. S. S. Gilson of Pittsburgh, on behalf of the private soldiers. It is hoped also to have an address from Gen. Harrison Gray Otis of Los Angeles.

A guest of honor will be Mrs. Ellen M. Watson of Pittsburgh, who was well known to multitudes of soldiers on both sides of Mason and Dixon's line. She served in the Sanitary Commission service through the war, and wears a badge of honor presented to her by George Stuart, president of the commission, in recognition of her distinguished services. Mrs. Watson is now 72 years of age, but is as active as ever and attends every General Assembly. She is now at the head of the temperance work in Pennsylvania, and raises and disburses much money in the interest of the cause.

WORKERS FROM JAPAN.

Rev. Dr. Frederick J. Stanley and wife are missionary visitors from Japan. They labored several years in Tokyo, the capital of the empire. Dr. Stanley was professor of history and English literature four years in the Semmon Gakko University, founded by Count Okuma, the Gladstone of Japan, some twenty years ago. This university of elective studies contained seventy-seven native instructors, three foreign professors and 1100 students. The two academies in another part of the city had 1400 students enrolled. In these three institutions the instruction was given in the English language. Saturday and Sabbath day were employed by Dr. Stanley in special mission work, connected with our Presbyterian body, teaching a Bible class of young men from the university in a chapel erected by Presbyterians in Japerica. No religion was promulgated in the university, as it was independent of Buddhism, Confucianism or Christianity, yet within three years after the university was founded, a Y.M.C.A. was organized. Mrs. Stanley was occupied as teacher in a girls' school in the district.

NEGRO PREACHERS.

A man who fills more than the ordinary space in a pew is the Rev. Wiley Homer a full-blooded negro, six feet tall, and weighing 250 pounds. Mr. Homer preaches in the Choctaw Nation to his own people, in English, and to the Indians in the Choctaw tongue. His own people were slaves to the Choctaws before the war, and he himself was a slave boy belonging to a full-blooded Choctaw. Mr. Homer has two churches, one having twenty-two and the other twenty-six members. Mr. Homer has been in the ministry twenty-five years, and is now but 52 years old. He will be a prominent speaker on Monday night at the mass meeting in the interest of the freedmen's work. Several other colored men will also speak. The main address of the evening will be made by Rev. Dr. Edward P. Cowan of Pittsburgh, secretary of the board.

FEW EX-MODERATORS.

There is a remarkable scarcity of ex-moderators in this assembly. Usually ten or twelve are present. The only ones here now are Rev. Dr. Henry H. Jessup of Syria, Rev. Dr. Charles A. Dickey of Philadelphia, Rev. Dr. Elijah R. Craven of Philadelphia, Rev. Dr. Charles L. Thompson of New York and Rev. Dr. Henry Van Dyke of Princeton. Dr. Dickey is understood to be here to look after the interests of the ministers who belong to the Union League of Philadelphia, and Dr. Craven is here to address the assembly in the interest of the Board of Publication and Sabbath-school Work.

SOME NOTABLES.

Two of the oldest and most active assemblymen are James Yereance and George E. Sterry of New York City, the first an elder in the Central Presbyterian Church, and the other an elder in the Fourth Presbyterian Church. Both men are prominent in business circles in the nation's metropolis. They have been in more General Assemblies than any other elders in New York.

Rev. Dr. Erskine E. White of New York, secretary of the Board of Church Erection, will address the assembly next week. His board has assisted in the erection of many churches in California.

Rev. Dr. Edward C. Ray of Chicago, secretary of the Board of Aid for Colleges and Academies, will speak early in the week. As it is planned to make this assembly an educational one, his address will be heard with unusual interest, especially as he is one of the very attractive speakers of the assembly.

Rev. Dr. John F. Patterson of Orange, N. J., a member of the Board of Foreign Missions, put in an appearance in the assembly yesterday, and will work while here in the interest of this board.

Rev. Dr. Thomas C. Kirkwood, synodical missionary of Colorado, arrived yesterday, and is working to secure more preachers for Colorado. He is one of the oldest synodical missionaries in the country.

One of the largest and most impressive-looking men in the General Assembly is Rev. Dr. Robert N. Adams, synodical missionary of the synod of Minnesota. He is the only minister in the assembly who was a brigadier-general during the war of the rebellion. He served under Gen. Grant, and led his brigade in the bloody battles of Corinth, Shiloh, Pittsburgh Landing, and many others.

Darwin R. James, the distinguished importer of Brooklyn, N. Y., an elder in the Throop Avenue Presbyterian Church, is a commissioner to the assembly. He is now 70 years of age, and has been a Presbyterian elder fifty years. He was in Congress, the sessions of '48 and '49. He is chairman of the Financial Committee of the Board of Foreign Missions. He is accompanied by his wife, who is as well known in the church as himself. She has been president of the Women's Board of Home Missions since its organization, twenty-six years ago. Mrs. James has attended twenty-two General Assemblies. She presides at the women's meetings.

A man who was pointed out to everybody in the General Assembly yesterday was the venerable Rev. Dr. Clarence Edward Babb of San José presbytery. He occupied a pew in front of the moderator. Dr. Babb is the oldest ministeral commissioner in the assembly, being 82 years of age. He was born in the Wyoming Valley, Pa., graduated from Dickinson College in 1840, and from the Dickinson Law School in 1842, and practiced law in Hillsdale, Mich., until 1846. While here he published a campaign paper in the interest of James K. Polk. Associated with him was Isaiah McCollum, who is in the assembly as a commissioner from Minneapolis. He and Dr. Babb met yesterday for the first time since 1847. McCollum is 83 years of age. The oldest lay commissioner is Judge J. R. Wheeler of San José presbytery, who is 84 years of age.

After Dr. Babb graduated at Union and Lane Theological seminaries, he was sent by Rev. Dr. Lyman Beecher to Indianapolis to succeed Rev. Dr. Henry Ward Beecher in the Second Presbyterian Church, where he remained five years. He went to this church at the close of the Mexican War. In 1852, Dr. Babb entered journalism, in which he has worked continuously until today. He is now the oldest journalist in active service in the church. In 1852 he was associated with the famous Rev. Dr. Thornton A. Mills in conducting the Christian Herald, whose son, Rev. Dr. Thornton A. Mills, is now Dr. Babb's pastor in San José, and is at the assembly.

FOR SABBATH SCHOOLS.

ENTHUSIASTIC RALLY.

The largest and most enthusiastic gathering ever assembled to consider the Sabbath-school question in the Presbyterian Church, as stated by the Rev. Dr. J. V. Worden, was seen last evening at the Immanuel Presbyterian Church. The auditorium was entirely filled and the attention shown was both courteous and sincere. The day audiences are formal and businesslike, but at night a different feeling—one of fervor and repressed exaltation—is manifest. Last night the whole audience seemed imbued with the spirit of mighty enthusiasm.

John H. Converse of Philadelphia, president of the Baldwin locomotive works and one of the notable figures of the assembly, presided. The Rev. Dr. Paton Hage of Louisville, Ky., read the scripture lesson, and the Tennessee Quartette, composed of four Southern ministers, rendered several selections. The audience, prompted by the great pipe organ, also sang several of the most important hymns.

The tone of the meeting was that of Sabbath-school evangelism. There were four speakers, and all agreed that the work of the church was useless unless founded securely in the fostering care of the minds of the young. All appealed for a furtherance of Sabbath-school work and two did not hesitate to assert that the best instruction for children is the precept that is implied from practice.

The Rev. Dr. J. A. Worden admitted that the Sabbath-school has its defects, and pleaded that these be remedied, not by critics, but by friends. The Rev. J. V. Milligan of Oregon made a graphic showing of his State in describing it as larger than the combined States of New York and Pennsylvania, with a population less than a quarter that of Philadelphia. For this vast territory, he said there are two missionaries, and he asked for more. The Rev. Dr. Holt of Oregon also talked.

Col. S. P. Berry of Mississippi caught the fancy of the audience and amused his hearers by telling them that they had "Never berfo' in yo' lives seen this magnificent specimen of the Southern blackberry." He told of being born in slavery and asked for money to send Sabbath-school missionaries into the black belt of Alabama. He didn't ask for the $600,000 that "Mr. Carnegie done give Booker Washington. I am modest in my claims," he said. "Mr. Carnegie thinks the negro problem is now solved, [prolonged laughter] but I tell you the negro problem will never be solved until you give the black man Christian education."

ASSEMBLY NOTES.

GATHERED ON THE SIDE.

Rev. Dr. Joseph Sanderson of New York, upwards of 80 years of age, arrived in the city ill, and yesterday was removed to a hospital. By unanimous consent his name was entered upon the roll of the assembly, thus entitling him to his mileage allowance. The aged minister has never been fortunate enough to sit as a commissioner in the General Assembly and when at last he had reached the goal of his ambition sickness prevented his taking the seat to which he was entitled. It is hoped he may be able to appear before adjournment.

The assembly postoffice is doing a heavy business under the superintendence of F. B. Manley who has been detailed by Postmaster Groff from the regular force of the main postoffice. He was assisted yesterday by F. J. Lynn. They have now in the case about 1000 undelivered letters and a cartload of papers.

Both the Postal and Western Union have telegraph offices in the visiting-room. There are undelivered telegrams there for Rev. F. L. Laverty, Mrs. G. Hamilton, Clara Shepard, Hugh Taylor and A. L. Reed.

In the writing-room, Miss S. C. Du Bose operates a typewriter for the accommodation of the commissioners, and almost every other convenience is at their hand.

William H. Roberts, Jr., son of the stated clerk of the assembly, is in charge of the mileage office, where all commissioners are expected to file their mileage claims by 5:30 o'clock Monday evening, and mileage will be paid on Thursday or Friday. These claims aggregate quite a large sum, though no good estimate of it can be yet made. At the New York Assembly it amounted to $31,656.46, and it will largely exceed that sum here. The mileage allowed a commissioner from New York is $135, while those from "way down in Maine" will figure considerably more. Young Mr. Roberts is a genial fellow, who handles the business pleasantly.

Tickets for the big banquet were placed on sale at the assembly yesterday. Hazard's Pavilion is being handsomely decorated for the occasion, which will be a memorable feature of the assembly. The after-dinner speeches will be made by Dr. Coyle, Dr. Van Dyke, Dr. Roberts, Robert J. Burdette, Dr. Chapman and Dr. Hays.

The Japanese Presbyterian Mission will tender a reception to the visiting members of the Foreign Mission Board and Dr. and Mrs. Sturge of San Francisco, at Bible Institute Hall, No. 320½ South Broadway, at 8 o'clock this evening. A general invitation is extended to people to meet the guests.

In the First Methodist Church a popular meeting of the General Assembly will be held to discuss the Sunday-school question, on Sunday evening. Hon. James Yereance of New York will preside, and other speakers will be Hon. Darwin James of New York, Dr. M. D. Kneeland of Boston and Dr. J. W. Hathaway of New York. The last named will talk on the subject, "Is Sunday the Sabbath?"

At the mass meeting in the First Presbyterian Church at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon the speakers will be Rev. Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman of New York and John Converse of Philadelphia.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

RECEPTION TO DELEGATES.

Most of the visiting Presbyterians enjoyed to the fullest extent the "open house" held yesterday afternoon by the Chamber of Commerce in their honor. One of the largest crowds of the year thronged through the exhibit hall, and the wonderful productions of California's soil were examined with as much care by the representatives of the church as if they had been farmers born and bred.

Lined up from the head of the stairs at the Broadway entrance to the door of the reception room stood the members of the Reception Committee, extending the glad hand to the brethren and passing them on the wonders to behold, and to each was presented fragrant memsettes, in the form of a white and a red carnation. In the reception room iced lemonade was dispensed from great bowls and pitchers, augmented by dainty dafers. The Venetian Mandolin Club, in costume, dispensed music during the receiving hours, from 4 to 5 o'clock.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

PRAYER THAT HAS POWER

Terse Comments on the Uniform Prayer-meeting Topic of the Christian Endeavor Societies, the Baptist Young People's Unions, etc., for May 24. "Power and Prayer." [Acts i. 12-14; ii. 1-4, 41.

By William T. Ellis

The two big facts about prayer are that a man is on his knees and God is on His throne. These typify the essentials of successful prayer. Sometimes, though, prayer fails because it remembers only that man is on his knees and forgets that God is on his throne. For God's will and glory must be considered, as well as man's necessity.

There is power in the prayer that seeks spiritual gifts first. God gives quickest heed to the cry for more of divineness in the human soul. The person who seeks first the kingdom of heaven, in his own heart and in the world, has all lesser gifts added to him without asking for them.

Beautiful prayers may affect men's ears, but they do not affect God's heart. He answers prayers, not because of their phrasing, their learning, their symmetry and their beauty, but because they express the real needs of sincere hearts that depend upon him. The broken cry of the publican. "God be merciful to me a sinner," winged its way to the throne of God, and has its answer, while the formal and correct prayer of the Pharisee was still echoing among the pillars of the temple.

Every honest prayer is an outcropping of the divine nature in man. It is the soul seeking to return to its source.

The divine power is definitely pledged to the satisfying of human needs. God assumes the places and the responsibilities of a father, and He finds joy in doing a father's part by his children.

There is no need of man too slight to concern God and to become the object of his omnipotent beneficence.

Whatever is worth praying for is worth keeping on praying for.

God does not regulate his dealings with man by the human calendar. He has his own time for doing his own will, and it is always the best time.

Every sincere prayer extends in two directions; it goes upward to the presence of God, and it goes inward to the heart of the person offering it, to prepare him for the answer. There is a real sense in which prayer is an end, as well as a means.

The price of power in prayer is willingness to accept the whole of God's will as best, no matter what that will may be. All prayers are answered in the ability to say "Thy will be done."

He who has power with God will not lack power with men. Influence is an attribute of strong souls, and souls are made strongest by often entering into the presence of the Most High.

A praying church becomes a prevailing church.

The prayer train can run only on the tracks that have been laid down by God.

WHY GO TO CHURCH?

Comments on the Epworth League Topic for May 24: "Attendance on the Means of Grace." —Heb. xii, 25-28.

A man may be a Christian apart from the church. But he is likely to be a pindling one. He will have a harder time sustaining his Christian life than the man who is faithful to the means appointed by God for the development of Christian character. What is more, he will miss a large share of the pleasure of being a Christian, which comes from fellowship with other disciples. There is no good reason why every friend of Jesus should not be in his church, but a number of divinely-given reasons why he should.

The habit of church-going provides the soil for the growth of all other good habits.

The people who talk most about worshiping in the temple of nature usually spend their Sunday mornings in bed, or behind a Sunday newspaper. As a matetr of fact, most of the true worshipers of God in His works will be found to be those who also worship Him in the time and place appointed, and in the presence of his people.

Church going is an education. The person who is a regular attendant upon a church's services is bound to become familiar with the loftiest thought, the greatest literature, and the true significance of history.

The church, the Bible, prayer, the sacraments, and the Spirit, are significantly spoken of as "means" of grace. They are not an end, but a means. The end of them all is the conformity of the discipline to the divine will, his personal holiness and joy and his service of God in this world and perfect bliss in the world to come.

WOMAN BEHIND A GUN SHOCKS A BURGLAR.

NERVY MRS. HOGOBOOM BELIEVED TO HAVE HIT HIM.

Commanded to Hand Over Money and Threatened With a Knife, She Cleverly Gets a Revolver and Shoots Intruder Out of Her Home.

Another burglar bilked—and by a woman, too.

While in a playful humor yesterday morning, Mrs. Franklin D. Hogoboom, who lives in a pretty house at No. 3425 South Flower street, ran into an ugly burglar upstairs, was threatened with a knife, and sent the intruder running for his life like a whipped cur, before a six-shooter that she secured with remarkable presence of mind.

Mrs. Hogoboom, who is a petite Southern woman of 23, was shelling peas in the kitchen an hour before luncheon time. She heard the front door open and thought her husband had come home. She called, but received no answer. She thought he was playing a joke on her; that he was going to hide and then jump around a corner and try to scare her. She summoned her nerve against the shock.

As she went upstairs with a bubbling laugh in her throat, she saw above her on the landing a young man without a coat, dressed in dark blue flannel shirt, dark trousers and a cowboy hat.

She thought he was a man to fix the gas meter and went up to talk to him on that subject. She asked him what he wanted. He started toward her with an ugly expression on his face and did not answer. When he came close to her he said: "I want all the money you have in the house and I want it quick! Stand still," he commanded, "or I'll cut your throat."

Mrs. Hogoboom's recollection is that she turned pale when she saw the knife clenched in the desperado's hand and the murderous glare of his eyeballs. "Why, we haven't any money in the house," she told him.

"Yes you have," he persisted, "and if you don't get it quick I'll kill you."

Mrs. Hogoboom contemplated a minute, and then she had an inspiration. Her face lighted up pleasantly and she said sweetly: "Oh, do you mean the money we got last night?"

"Yes, yes, that's it, and hurry up and git it," replied the robber.

"Then you remain just where you are standing and do not move," commanded Mrs. Hogoboom: "I don't want to be bothered while I am getting it."

The burglar said he would be good, and so Mrs. Hogoboom entered her room, which is near by, and went with a great deal of positiveness to the bureau. The desperate intruder moved up to the threshold of the door to watch her.

Mrs. Hogoboom rummaged in a drawer of the bureau and her hand stole to a six-shooter. Turning suddenly, she covered the burglar. He made a quick start toward her, with his knife drawn back. At the same instant Mrs. Hogoboom fired point blank and the burglar turned and ran down the stairs. Mrs. Hogoboom gathered up her skirts and also ran. When she reached the top of the stairs the frightened burglar was at the bottom. She shot at him again. The object of her aim turned a corner and ran out of the house through the back door.

The mark of the first bullet was found in the woodwork upstairs, but there was no sign of the second, except that a piece of broken button was picked up on the lower floor. It had been worn on the man's shirt and the lead mark of a bullet was very plain on the broken edge. It is believed from these circumstances that the leaden missile found lodgment in the fellow's body.

After it was all over, Mrs. Hogoboom sat down and cried, not for more burglars to conquer. She described the burglar as about 30 years old, of medium height and with a noticeably red face.

LOCAL RAILROAD RECORD.

RAILROAD OFFICES FEEL LOSS OF STERRY.

MANY EXPRESSIONS OF GRIEF AT HIS DEATH.

Solicitor Norten of Arizona Comes up to Assume the Duties of Chief Counsel of Santa Fe, Pending Other Arrangements—Judge Sterry's Record.

Closed all days yesterday was the law department of the Santa Fé lines west of Albuquerque, on account of the death of its chief solicitor, C. N. Sterry of Los Angeles, whose demise came suddenly Thursday midnight from heart failure and degeneration of other vital organs. At his offices in the Conservative Life building the door is heavy with crepe, and heavy are the hearts of his many friends and business associates scattered all through the country west of Chicago. The bereaved family is the recipient of many messages of condolence; the prostrate widow and four surviving children have the united sympathy of a host of sorrowing acquaintances.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the family residence on Wilshire Boulevard, and interment will be at Hollywood Cemetery. Rev. B. W. R. Taylor will officiate at the obsequies, using the Episcopal ritual.

The sudden death of Capt. Sterry was telegraphed to General Manager A. G. Wells yesterday morning. Mr. Wells is en route from a business trip to Chicago and will reach home today. Pending other arrangements, T. J. Norton, Esq., the company's solicitor for the Territory of Arizona, will conduct the affairs of the law department. Mr. Norton arrived yesterday morning, having left his Territorial assignments to attend Capt. Sterry an opportunity to take a two months' rest. Great was his surprise, then, to find upon his arrival his chief dead. Accompanying Mr. Norton was deceased's elder son, C. N. Sterry, Jr., who has just been graduated from the law school at Ann Arbor, and has secured a special dispensation from the faculty to obtain his certificate and gain admission to the bar of Michigan, that he might hasten home on account of his father's failing health.

The young man is overcome with grief that he could not have arrived home one day sooner. At San Bernardino yesterday morning he was handed telegrams that gave him an inkling of the worst by telling of the father's low condition. The telegrams were sent after Capt. Sterry's death.

Capt. Sterry had been a successful lawyer for thirty-five years, having studied law in the same institution from which his son is just graduated. He began to attract attention in Kansas about 1872, when he became associated with C. F. Pinch, afterwards United States Senator Plumb, who was junior Senator with the famous Senator John J. Ingalls. From that day until his death he was everywhere recognized as a strong, keen, tireless worker and in private, by all who knew him, as an honorable, generous, loyal friend. His connection with the Santa Fé began in 1882. In 1892 he was appointed general attorney for the road for New Mexico, and became general solicitor for the system west of Albuquerque in 1896, when he came to Los Angeles, where he has resided ever since, winning for himself in California the same "golden opinion from all sorts of men" that he won in Kansas.

The title of captain was earned by him in the Civil War. He had been in school in Oberlin College less than a year when Fort Sumter was fired upon, and he marched away with the "tooth-brush brigade," which belonged to the Seventh Ohio. He served a year and a half and was sent home to die, but recovered to organize a company, reëntering the army as captain of heavy artillery of the First Minnesota, serving until mustered out in 1865.

All of Capt. Sterry's business associates in Los Angeles yesterday were at a loss to find words expressive enough of their appreciation of him, both as a lawyer and a man.

"Capt. Sterry was known throughout the country," said Mr. Norton yesterday, "as an able and successful railroad and corporation lawyer. His extensive training for years as the company's trial lawyer in Kansas made him masterful of law and facts in a marvelous degree. He had a wonderful faculty or getting at the very meat of a matter in controversy. His industry was untiring, and he was never perturbed in the conduct of a trial. He was a scientific lawyer in every sense, reaching conclusions by application of principles. A great legal fighter and considerate at all times of his help, he was always most faithful to his employers, as evidenced during the last few weeks of his life. He would persist in going to his office to work when he should have been at home resting. In everyday life he was genial and delighted to entertain his friends."

Even the office boy, said Mr. Norton, was constantly the recipient of his favors.

J. R. Hitchcock, assistant to General Manager Wells, said: "Capt. Sterry was a big man in every way, and it will be a difficult task for the company to fill his place at once."

J. J. Byrne, general passenger agent of the Santa Fé, confessed that he was very fond of Capt. Sterry and considered him one of the clearest-headed lawyers of the hundreds he has known.

Henry J. Stevens, Esq., for six years assistant solicitor of the Santa Fé, working in intimate association with the lamented dead man, said: "Capt. Sterry was one of the strongest and best-equipped lawyers in his line of work I ever knew of. As a man he was about everything that makes up a good citizen. Generous, steadfast, loyal to his friends, he was of course honorable to the highest degree."

Already there is quiet speculation as to a successor of the deceased, but the company will have no details to give out till next week.

AT THE CITY HALL.

BLANKET FRANCHISE AGAIN REVIVED.

AMENDED APPLICATION FILED BY GARLAND YESTERDAY.

Three-cent Feature Retained by the Clark-Harriman Syndicate — Many Miles of Street Covered by the Revised Routes of the Proposed New System.

William M. Garland filed an amended application for a street-railway franchise with the City Clerk yesterday afternoon through his attorney, Clarence A. Miller. By taking this course the representatives of the Clark-Harriman syndicate forestalled the proposed action of the Board of Public Works, which body would have referred the application back to the Council had it been presented yesterday.

The amended application covers fifty-seven miles of street, according to Frank H. Olmsted engineer for the syndicate, or 114 miles of single track. The description of the routes covers ten typewritten pages and thirty-one separate lines are indicated.

Notwithstanding the attitude of the City Fathers, the applicants have retained the 3-cent fare provision. The application sets forth that the rate of fare shall not exceed 3 cents, and that the grantee shall issue and have on sale during all hours and on all cars books or slips of five tickets each to be sold for 15 cents a piece.

When the application comes before the Council on Monday an attempt will be made to have it referred to the committee of the whole, which is distinguished because it has met but once in three years. Doubtless this move will meet with opposition from the sponsers, for the franchise, and it is exceedingly doubtful whether it will receive the necessary number of votes.

Thus far the Councilmen are impressed with the fact that the applicants do not evince any great concern over the fate of the blanket franchise. A member of the Board of Public Works stated his belief last night that the application was presented merely to carry out the bluff made several weeks ago, and that the 3-cent agitation would die a natural and speedy death.

Attorney Miller and Engineer Olmsted attended the session of the board yesterday afternoon and made objection to the consideration of franchises which interfered with the routes outlined in the application, but they were the only persons present who appeared to take any interest in the "blanket."

As amended, the proposed franchise presents a reasonable basis for a street-railway system. The ridiculous features contained in the first application have been cut out. Engineer Olmsted has spent several weeks of hard and conscientious labor straightening out the tangle of routes which the Clark-Harriman syndicate first presented to the Council for consideration.

The routes as now outlined are as follows:

Commencing at the intersection of Seventh and Hope streets, thence on Seventh street and over the existing tracks of the street railway thereon constructed to Spring street; on Seventh street to Boyle avenue; on Boyle to Stephenson avenue; on Boyle avenue and over the existing tracks of the street railway thereon constructed to Sixth street; on Boyle avenue to Fifth street; on Fifth street to the intersection of Fifth and State streets.

SCHELLER FRANCHISE.

It rests with Manager W. S. Hook of the Los Angeles Traction Company whether the franchise for which application was made by L. C. Scheller is advertised as a whole or in sections. If the Traction officials will bid for available portions of the franchise the Council will divide the route in such manner that competitive bids can be received. Otherwise the notice of sale will be prepared as requested in the Scheller application.

This conclusion was reached by the Board of Public Works yesterday afternoon after a protracted session. Attorney Frank Thomas appeared for the Traction Company. Scheller was not represented. A report one way or the other will be submitted to the Council on Monday unless plans are changed in the meantime.

Attorney Thomas made a final stand for the railway franchise to Pasadena, which the Traction Company has sought unsuccessfully for several months. Owing to the contour of the country the company is obliged to include certain streets in their application, which for the most part is over private right of way. The board refused to grant a railroad franchise along any public streets and insisted that the Traction Company must buy street-railway franchises over those portions of the route where streets were used.

The attorney argued that such a procedure would enable an opponent to purchase one section of the route at an inflated figure and thus stop the construction of a competing road into Pasadena. He agreed that the Council should restrict the franchise by providing that no steam engine should ever be used on the road, that a street-car franchise might be granted over the road where it touched streets for five blocks, that suitable restrictions should be placed on the hauling of freight and offered to pay the city $10,000 cash for the franchise.

Attorney Thomas said he would be glad to bid for a section of the Scheller franchise at competitive sale if given assurance that the remainder of the franchise would be granted to the company if they were successful in acquiring the franchise.

The particular section of the Scheller route through Highland Park that holds the key to the situation is on Marmion Way from Avenue 37 to Avenue 45. The contour of the country makes any other route through that section unavailable for railway purposes.

Councilman McAleer declared that he had favored the Traction application at first because the people of his ward desired it, but on mature reflection he deemed it inexpedient to grant a railroad franchise over streets. He said that when the application was presented the Traction Company was fighting a more powerful rival and that he was always ready to assist the weaker in every legitimate way but since the Traction road had been acquired by a powerful corporation he felt that the owners should be made to pay the city handsomely for competing lines.

"We are here acting for the city and we want to get all we can for the city out of these franchises," declared Chairman Nofziger.

"Knowing your great love for the city, I offered $10,000 for the franchise," replied Thomas, quickly.

"If we could get another bidder we might get $20,000 for the franchise," declared Nofziger.

The Traction Company has purchased a private right of way for a loop franchise beginning at Hayden street and Avenue 20. One side of the loop runs east and the other west of the Arroyo Seco to the northerly city limits. A street-railway franchise cannot be granted over a private right of way and the Council seems reluctant to grant a railroad franchise on the portions of streets covered by the route.

FRANCHISE PETITIONS.

Franchise applications of the Los Angeles Railway Company covering Orange street, Twenty-ninth street, Thornton avenue, and the streets around the Plaza were denied by the board yesterday.

The application for a franchise on East Seventh street was briefly considered and action deferred one week. A very large petition for the sale of the franchise is now before the board.

Similar action was taken on the application for a franchise on Main street from Jefferson street to the south city limits.

A communication from the Municipal League relating to the form of the notice of sale and suggesting certain additions to the provisions was filed.

The original blanket franchise application of W. M. Garland was filed without prejudice to his new application.

W. D. Hammon, who desires a burglar-alarm franchise, did not appear and no action was taken on his petition.

Col. J. J. Eddy appeared before the board and offered to pay 2 per cent. of the gross receipts of his proposed incline road to the highest peak in Griffith Park for the first five years and 5 per cent. during the subsequent years if granted a franchise for his intended cable line. Action was postponed. A form of agreement was submitted by the City Attorney providing that Eddy might erect a pavilion, assembly hall, observatory and power-house on the peak and that all these places must be free to the public. The agreement provides that no liquor can be served. The fare must not exceed 25 cents for a round trip and must not be more than 15 cents on Saturdays and Sundays.

At the request of the Los Angeles-Redondo Railway Company the proceedings for the opening of Grand avenue from Jefferson street to the Southern Pacific tracks will be abandoned if the recommendation of the board is followed.

DRUG CONTRACT

IRREGULAR BID WINS.

Prize fight variations came near being introduced at the session of the Supply Committee yesterday morning. Bids for the city drug contract were under consideration, and in the midst of the discussion Davenport became very angry and shook his fist at Summerland. A truce was finally patched up and Davenport will present his views to the Council in a minority report, as Todd saw fit to agree with Summerland in regard to the drug bids.

Three bids were before the committee. The Sun Drug Co., Dean's Drug Co. and Off & Vaughn desired the contract. The specifications required that bidders should state what brand of drugs they proposed to furnish when bidding on each article. Off & Vaughn failed to do this, but their bid was much lower than either of the others.

Davenport alleged that the figures quoted by Off & Vaughn were far below what the articles could be purchased for in the market at wholesale. He intimated that the firm expected to cinch the city in some way to make money on the contract. He objected to accepting the bid of the firm to insert in their proposal the names of standard manufacturers and thought the contract should be awarded to the Sun Drug Co. on the 872 articles on which their bid was lower than that of the Dean Drug Co., and that the latter company should be given the contract for 254 articles.

Summerland at first favored readvertising the contract a second time in order to get regular bids, but he finally sided with Todd, who declared the contract should go to Off & Vaughn and that the firm should be required to specify standard manufacturers and furnish a $1000 instead of the $100 check required by the specifications.

"Then, Mr. Davenport, we can hold them to their contract," declared Summerland.

"You know you can't choke any of that down my throat," declared the big Sixth Warder, dancing excitedly up and down the room. "You know you can't. That's all very well to talk about, but you can't prove to me that this firm is in business for pleasure and that they will furnish drugs to the city at 50 per cent. of the wholesale price. No, sir, and you know how this drug business is worked. You can't tell any of that to me, not much."

"I don't want to cram it down your throat; it's a simple business proposition of accepting the lowest bid," urged Summerland.

"Well, if that bid was regular in every way I would not accept it. It is ridiculous on its face and I believe the lowest and best bid should be awarded the contract, and that is the bid of the Sun Drug Co.," declared Davenport, hotly.

Finally it was voted by Todd and Summerland to give the contract to Off & Vaughn. Davenport said he would submit a minority report.

Later, he said that a tremendous pressure had been exerted to have the drug contract go to Off & Vaughn, and that he had found it impossible to walk along the streets without being taken to one side and told that the Off & Vaughn bid was all right and they should have the contract.

Transcript Ready.

Deputy City Clerk Wilde has just finished a complete transcript of the proceedings leading up to the $2,180,000 issue of bonds for sewers, schools and bridges, which is to be sold June 1. The transcript covers many pages and will be forwarded today to Dillon & Hubbard, bond attorneys, for their approval.

SYMPATHY FOR JEWS.

MAYOR CALLS MASS MEETING.

The Mayor issued a proclamation to the people of the city yesterday calling a mass meeting at Simpson Auditorium tomorrow (Sunday) evening at 8 o'clock to voice the feeling of the populace in regard to the massacre of the Jews by the Russians at Kishineff. Similar mass meetings have been called in many American cities, and it is designed to call down the condemnation of Christendom on the Russians for their outrages.

Prominent men will address the meeting Sunday evening. It is hoped that Rev. Henry Van Dyke of Princeton and Rev. Robert F. Coyle, respectively, past and present moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly, will speak. Other prospective speakers are Rabbi Hecht of B'nai B'rith; A. Hamaker, Judge B. N. Smith, Dr. John R. Haynes, Henry O'Melveny and Rev. Robert McIntyre.

In his proclamation the Mayor says:

"Our Christian nation has always defended the persecuted and upheld the rights of the weak; it has always been ready to relieve the suffering of unfortunates, and protest against the abuse of the helpless. From all sections of the country, American sentiment in the matter of the Russian outrages on the Jews is finding public expression. Los Angeles will take this opportunity of telling to the world her condemnation of such outrages, and of offering relief to the sufferers."

A Boomerang.

The attempt of the Hay-Biddle-Fennessy gang of strikers and mischief-makers to make capital against Chief Elton out of his letter to John A. Muir is a boomerang. The letter but shows the courtesy and gentlemanly high-mindedness of Chief Elton besides his devotion to duty in the execution of the law and the prevention of violence by the anarchistic gang set on by Hay and Biddle. The letter follows:

Office of Chas. Elton, Chief of Police.

Mr. J. A. Muir Gen. Manager L. A. Ry. Co., Los Angeles, Cal.

Dear sir: I have received with pleasure your very courteous, and appreciative letter of the 5th inst., relative to the attitude taken by, and work of myself and the officers of the police department during the recent trouble on your line, and asking if we had incurred any extra expense in connection with this work, and offering to liquidate the same. I take great pleasure in assuring you that we have not had any extra or unusual expense in this work, and also that while all that was done, was strictly in the line of duty, yet we are pleased that in performing a public duty, we also had the opportunity of serving you and your company, and thus in a measure repaying some of your kind favors in the past.

Congratulate you on the successful outcome of the matter referred to here. I am, yours very truly,

CHAS. ELTON, Chief of Police.

Mayor Snyder sized it up just right yesterday when he said:

"That is only a letter such as one gentleman would write to another."

That is why the Hay-Biddle lawbreakers thought there was something wrong about it. A "letter such as one gentleman would write to another" is beyond their ken.

AT THE COURT HOUSE

BEWILDERING MASS OF STINGING CHARGES.

EVERYBODY IS ACCUSING EVERYBODY ELSE OF FRAUD.

Many Suits Filed in Which Bad Faith is Alleged—Real Estate Deals and Mining Transactions—Black Friday in Temple of Justice.

Yesterday was Black Friday at the Courthouse.

Something must have been wrong with the astrological conditions. The heavenly wires may have been crossed.

Probably there never was so many bitter lawsuits filed in the local courts in one day before. Suit after suit was filed, brimming over with hissing charges that stung like vitriol. Almost every suit filed charged some one with something ugly or mean.

The first one filed was brought by A. T. Mead against his wife, Elizabeth Mead, from whom he is living apart. The suit was a stinger. Mead brought it to get the custody of their son, Walter Mead, aged 10, who is now living with the mother at No. 1024 Jesamine street. He claims that Mrs. Mead is not a proper person to have charge of the boy.

He asserts that he and Mrs. Mead have been separated four years and during this time she has kept the boy so jealously guarded that the father could not visit him.

Mead claims that he went down to the home one day and tried to talk to the boy who was playing outside the house. Mrs. Mead came flying out, he says, and drove the child back into the house. She then brought out a gun and with vulgar language, pointed it at her husband and threatened to fill him full of lead if he ever came back.

He claims that she treats the little fellow harshly and cruelly; that she does not even give him sufficient food. She has a daughter by a former marriage, and Mead avers that this girl treats her little boy brother very cruelly and abusively.

A short time ago, Mead says, the little boy ran away from his mother and came to his house. He begged his father to keep him. The mother came after him, however, and forcibly took him away.

Mead asks the Court to give the child over into his custody and in the meantime to enjoin the mother from sending him beyond the jurisdiction of the Court.

CLAIMS IT WAS FLIMFLAM.

Another hot suit has been filed by Mrs. Una E. G. Moss and Ralph Moss against Milton Meitzler and Joseph Metzler. Plaintiffs claim that defendants palmed off some rocky land in Colorado under the representation that it was a whole town decorated with rent-paying buildings.

In detail, Mrs. Moss alleges that they were the owners of fifteen shares of Lytle Creek Water Company, worth $1560, and ten acres of lemon land in Rialto, worth $6500. This Mrs. Moss traded with a $1000 note for land in Las Animas county, Colo.

There were glowing representations in regard to this Colorado land, she asserts. It is claimed that defendants represented that it was the townsite of a town called Rugby, located at the mouth of a cañon filled with coal mines. The defendants are alleged to have claimed that the land had on it five miners' houses, one store, one saloon, one bottling establishment and two wells. The buildings were alleged to be bringing in 50 per month, and the wells $25 per month, and the only access to the coal mines was across this property.

A railroad company and a mining company were each represented to be in a state of burning eagerness to acquire a right of way across the property.

Mrs. Moss claims that after she made the swap she learned that there was no town on the place at all; that the railroad company and the mining company did not want a right of way, and that there were no buildings of any kind on the place. She wants her $1600 note canceled and the deal rescinded.

MINING MAN ACCUSED.

A suit against Col. Thomas Ewing, the mining man, supplied more burning charges. J. Irving Crowell charges him with beating him out of a $50,000 commission.

Crowell claims that he was agent for a Salt Lake City man, M. P. Gilbert, who wanted to buy a mine. He went to Ewing, who said that the Leland group in Mojave county, Ariz., was what the Salt Lake man would like. The price was $250,000. The commission was to be $100,000, which Ewing offered to divide.

Cutting out many details, Ewing is alleged to have purchased the Leland group himself at a low figure and then afterward sold them. Under those circumstances, he declined to give the $50,000 to Crowell.

Ewing's statement is yet to be made.

WOMAN AGAINST WOMAN.

One woman is accusing another of fraud.

Mrs. Emma Kunigunde Seifert has sued Louise Ashton, claiming that the latter took advantage of her ignorance of business to palm off a bill of sale on her in place of a deed to a house and lot.

The defendant had a place at Ocean Park and Mrs. Seifert alleges that she bought it of her for $400 cash and a $100 note.

After paying the money she says that she discovered that she was not buying the lot, but only the house and furnishings, and that the house had on it a lien for rent of the land. She wants the note canceled and the money back.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

WAY NOW CLEAR TO PROSECUTE MURDERERS.

NAME OF "BILLY DE YEGG" WAS JAMES BROWN.

Daugherty and Walters, Accused of Bloody Crime in Lodging-house, Face Legal Charge—Fighting Couple Heavily Fined—Runnels Arraigned.

Richard M. Daugherty and Jim Walters, accused of the murder of "Billy de Yegg," were in Justice Chambers's court yesterday on two occasions. In the morning the case was continued until afternoon. The charge was then withdrawn and filed before Justice Pierce of the Township Court.

On the new complaint the men are charged with the murder of James Brown, as it has been ascertained that this was the name of the man slain in the Mariposa lodging-house about three months ago. The tangles have been straightened out at last, by this unearthing of a name, and the evidence pertaining directly to the crime will be the thing from now on.

Daugherty, alias "Dummy" Daugherty, was counting over his cash while the attorneys were talking. He smiled in an artless sort of way, as he fingered a few notes, and "Red" Walters, whom a double hand full of the paper couldn't save from a consumptive's grave—a grave that will soon be dug, too—looked on with interest. Daugherty has preserved a neat appearance throughout the whole ordeal, and this circumstance and his general demeanor bespeak the man who has had something other than a hobo's "bringing up."

HOW NOT TO BUY.

DID MRS. DENHAM DO IT?

Mrs. Tillie Denham, wife of Clarence Denham, a conductor employed by the Pacific Electric Company, was arraigned in the Police Court yesterday on the charge of false personation, and her trial was set for Monday. It is alleged that Mrs. Denham represented herself to Rivera Bros., grocers, to be a Mrs. C. M. Potter, and induced them to send $2.70 worth of goods to her home at No. 231 Court street.

Mrs. Denham appeared in court and strongly protested her innocence. With her was her three-year-old daughter, who gazed in a frightened way at the court and regarded her mother with the greatest sympathy. She was released after she told the justice that she had housekeeping duties to perform.

Acts xxvi. 19-29: "Paul Before Agrippa."

THE CONNECTION.

[illegible] years have passed since the [illegible]s scene of last lesson. Festus [illegible] Paul in prison, though [illegible] Paul was innocent, and his [illegible]ment are all the blacker on that [illegible]count, desire to please the [illegible] the hope that the members [illegible] would pay him a large [illegible] the release of their leader. [illegible]rrested at Rome by the [illegible]s removed from office, he still [illegible]s prison with the hope of [illegible] the influence of the Jewish [illegible] to promote his other ambi[illegible].

[illegible], Porcius Festus, a wise [illegible], made a visit to Jerusa[illegible] acquainted with the tem[illegible] new province. Paul's ene[illegible] not lost their eager thirst [illegible]. Their request to have [illegible] back to Jerusalem was [illegible]ented and they were in[illegible] down to Cæsarea to [illegible] charges. They soon fol[illegible] down and in his presence [illegible] former charges of treа[illegible] and sacrilege. Festus [illegible]ed with their malice and [illegible]dismissed the case. But [illegible] got on a good footing with [illegible] and knowing their object, he [illegible]uestion of his return to [illegible] trial. Now for the first [illegible] arrest Paul has reached [illegible]ion that he cannot get jus[illegible] this side of Rome, and know[illegible] was leading him to Rome, [illegible]ed that the time has come [illegible]. To the question "of [illegible] he is willing to be [illegible] to Jerusalem for trial be[illegible]dotatis, Paul replies in [illegible]mory and dignified asser[illegible] rights, that if he were guilty [illegible] willing to die, but that [illegible] to be tried before Cæ[illegible] Cæsar he will go. That [illegible] case is thrown out of [illegible] must send him with[illegible] delay to Rome and [illegible] the records of the case, [illegible] and depositions of wit[illegible].

[illegible] one more chance to [illegible] he goes. Herod Agrippa [illegible] Chalcis, comes to visit [illegible], a great grandson of [illegible] mother of Drusilla, the [illegible] of Felix, and of Bernice, [illegible] partner. Agrippa [illegible] the distinguished pris[illegible] wants his advice as to [illegible] to Rome about the [illegible] seemed so ridiculous to [illegible] about a dead man who [illegible] him. This speech of [illegible] Agrippa is a model of [illegible] It refers to Agrippa's [illegible]ntance with Jewish [illegible], tells his experience [illegible], as a persecutor, de[illegible]s and tells of his [illegible] "spells."

LESSON.

I.

[illegible]". (Verses 19-23.)

[illegible]ing Agrippa, I was [illegible] to the heavenly vi[illegible] both to them at [illegible] at Jerusalem, and [illegible] country of Judea, [illegible] Gentiles, that they [illegible] turn to God, doing [illegible] repentance. For this [illegible] me in the tem[illegible]. Having [illegible] to be reaching a transition, when Festus breaks in with a suggestion to this lofty soul that he has a mania on account of long and absorbed study in such religious questions. Fetus was of the earth, earthy. He could not understand how a man could devote himself to such a chimerical business as fitting people for the world beyond. It was unthinkable to him. Festus is still alive. He lives in America. He is ubiquitous and appears on all occasions. Paul's reply to this interruption is worthy of the hero. It has no bitterness in it, no hysterical cry of whipped weakness. It is sober and truthful. No one is counted mad who is absorbed in making money; why should one who spends every hour of his life in making manhood be called a crank?

Paul skilfully turns to Agrippa for confirmation of the truths which he had avowed as to the Jewish faith and Christ. It probably irritated Festus that Paul made him secondary to Agrippa all the way through and it must have equally annoyed Agrippa to be compelled to confirm the enthusiast's claims. Agrippa knew it was true, because: (1.) He was part Jew. (2.) The events were open and public. (3.) This was now 60 A.D. and proof well known to Agrippa had been accumulating for thirty years.

At this point Paul turned sharp upon the king with the question, "believest thou the prophets?" which he immediately answered himself, thereby committing Agrippa to an unwilling testimony.

It evidently irritated him. This audacity in addressing a king, and a Herod at that, in so familiar way as if he were an ordinary man, was not to Agrippa's liking, and the first weapon at his command for reply is a jeer—"you seem to think that with very little persuasion you could make a Christian of me"—with scorn in the words. "Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian" was a very inappropriate translation. The man, the circumstances and the words he uses show that he was trying to taunt the zealous preacher. The smile went round on the faces of the sycophants as this scorn was flung at Paul, but Paul was ready with the most suitable reply. He may not have had any hope of persuading Agrippa, but he was quick to assure him that, whether it took little or much persuasion he would to God that Agrippa and every one then present were altogether as he himself was. No; not exactly, for he had chains on the hands he now held up to view and it was not in his noble soul to want any one to suffer. "Such as I am, except these chains," he said, as he probably looked at Festus who ought to have stricken them off long ago. Paul would not have them receive injustice of any kind and these chains were the sign of the wrong done him.

The impression made by Paul's story and his replies to the interruptions of Festus and Agrippa must have been powerful and serious. It had ceased to be a mere entertainment to the listeners. He was coming to grips with their consciences. Agrippa had partly sneered off the spell of his commanding earnestness, but it lingered upon them all. There was no laughter going around at that moment. And when it was all over, Agrippa said to Festus that Paul could be set at liberty, if he had not taken an appeal to Rome. To Rome he must go, for God has work for him to do there.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

It was a mysterious providence which thus arrested his energies and condemned the ardent worker to inactivity. Yet we can see now the reason for it. Paul was needing rest. After twenty years of incessant evangelization he required leisure to garner the harvest of experience. During all that time he had been preaching that view of the gospel which at the commencement of his Christian career he had thought out, under the influence of the Revealing Spirit, in the solitudes of Arabia. But he had now reached the stage when, with leisure to think, he might penetrate into more recondite regions of the truth as it is in Jesus. And it was so important that he should have this leisure that, in order to secure it, God even permitted him to be shut up in prison.

During these two years he wrote nothing; it was a time of internal mental activity and silent progress. But when he began to write again the results of it were at once discernible. —[Stalker.

Agrippa and Bernice, brother and sister, were the last of the house of Herod to exercise any influence in the affairs of Palestine, and with them the family of the cruel and crafty Idumean disappears from history. Agrippa never was popular with his fellow-countrymen, and in the final struggle, when the nation's liberties and very existence were at stake, he sided with the Romans. From his place at the side of Titus he must have beheld the burning and destruction of the sacred edifice. In the finishing and adornment of which he had taken such pride. Retiring to Rome, he died at the age of seventy-three, in the third year of the Emperor Trajan.—[Ewing.

TRUTHS TO IMPRESS.

(1.) That it is more important to be faithful to duty than free from dungeons.

(2.) That in the hardest circumstances one can still take an unselfish interest in others as Paul did in Agrippa.

(3.) That opposition to God's servants always injures the opposer.

(4.) That knowledge of God's word should lead to personal knowledge of Christ.

(5.) That one is not a crank, simply because he is always zealous for Christ.

(6.) That love for Christ destroys vindictiveness.

(7.) That the sober sense of mankind approves the Christian life.

WORSE THAN WORMS.

Two Rank Frauds Sellings as "Exterminator" and Deceiving Buyers. Public Warned to Beware.

Are you troubled with cut worms or army worms, thousands upon thousands of which have been attacking the flower gardens, lawns and other growing things throughout this part of the State? If you are, beware of two shrewd sharpers, who have been profiting by the visitation of this pest. The police have been notified of the operations of fellows who are selling what they say will exterminate these worms. If the directions given by these men are followed their exterminator will do its work, but it is a fraud and they should be put out of business.

Their plan is this: They will call at a residence and offer for sale a closely-wrapped package of powder which they say is sure death to the worm. Accompanying the package is a printed slip giving directions for use, but the text is so long that no person will read it all while making the purchase. They tell their customer that it is easy to use and that the directions, if followed closely, will result in the extermination of the pests. The price is 50 cents a package. Having made a sale, the men hurry away.

The fraud is discovered after a careful perusal of the printed directions. They contain, first, a long account of what the worms are, how they grow, what damage they will do, and then, at the bottom of the printed slip, the customer is told to first catch the worms and either stuff a sufficient quantity of the powder down their throats to choke them, or bury each worm in the powder and keep it there until life is extinct. The police have not received a copy of the printed circular, their information having been transmitted by a citizen by telephone. It is not known how many packages of worm exterminator the two men have sold.

SHAKESPEARIANA.

Shakespeare's Portraits.

A NEW PORTRAIT OF SHAKESPEARE. By John Corbin. John Lane, New York.

IN explanation of the appearance of a very dainty and attractive production called "A New Portrait of Shakespeare," the author, John Corbin, says in his prefatory note: "Many portraits of Shakespeare have been regarded by their partisans as taken from life; but none of them has been accepted as unquestionably genuine. Of late a painting, recently discovered—the so-called Droeshout original—has been looked upon by the highest authorities as, in all probability, a life portrait, and has been reproduced as of chief interest in biographies of the great dramatist. As yet this painting has not been described adequately, nor indeed, in any but the most superficial manner. At the same time another painting—the Ely Palace portrait—which, in certain points at least, is admitted to be of even greater interest, has been even more strangely neglected. The purpose of the present essay is to relate the history of these paintings as far as is known, and to discuss their respective claims to be regarded as genuine. The aim of the discussion will be to show that the so-called Droeshout original is probably a fabrication, and that the Ely Palace painting is probably a life portrait of Shakespeare." While the circulation of this work will naturally be limited to those who are specialists in Shakespeariana, those who take even a passing interest in the Bard of Avon will find that it contains much that will interest them. The latter part of the eighteenth century witnessed the outbreak of an astonishing enthusiasm for everything pertaining to Shakespeare; as a result, there appeared a perfect deluge of spurious portraits of the famous bard, all purporting to have been painted from life. The most prolific producers of this sort of wares were one Zincke and one Holder, who succeeded in gulling a large number of professed connoisseurs. The most remarkable of the forgeries of these two men mysteriously disappeared and has never been traced. Consequently, whenever there is reported the discovery of an "authentic" portrait, there is always the possibility to face that it may be the missing work of Zincke. It will thus be seen that a decision regarding the genuineness of a Shakespearean portrait is a matter involving not a few complications. Mr. Corbin treats his subject dispassionately, and yet with an enthusiasm which is imparted to the reader; he handles the theme in a most lucid manner, drawing deductions with a care and precision that should call forth hearty admiration. NATURE.

For Nature-lovers.

OUR NORTHERN SHRUBS. By Harriet L. Keeler. Charles Scribner's Sons, New York.

One of the most promising signs of the present day is the increased love for Nature and everything pertaining to it. The demand for nature books grows apace, and apparently exceeds the supply. In the production of this sort of literature, Harriet L. Keeler ranks among the most successful, a state of affairs easily accounted for by those who are fortunate enough to have the opportunity to examine her work on "Native Trees," of which more than ten thousand copies have been sold. We now have under consideration the last work of this author, which is intended for a companion volume to the previous one and is entitled "Our Northern Shrubs." The writer thus sets forth its purpose: "This volume is prepared not only for the amateur botanist who seeks a more complete description of plants than the text-books in common use can afford; not only for the lover of Nature who desires a personal acquaintance with the bushes that grow in the fields and the fence corners; but also to serve those who are engaged in the establishment and decoration of city parks, roadways and gardens; those who are seeking to beautify country roadsides, school yards and railway stations, as well as those who, in the decoration of their own home grounds, would gladly use our native shrubs were their habits and character better understood.

"It is hoped that this volume may lead to a clearer appreciation of the wonderful variety, the exquisite beauty and the real value of this neglected part of our native flora, the shrub." It will thus be seen that the volume is not in any sense a dut and dried botany, designed only for those who are interested in flowers and shrubs merely from the student's point of view; it is intended to appeal to the nature lover in general, from the most ambitious florist to the little child, who will find rare delight in identifying, in the pictures in Miss Keeler's book, some familiar and beloved friends of the woods. Apropos of the excellent illustrations in this work, we are one of the many who have had sad experiences with those in even the most pretentious and expensive books of this nature. In vain have we endeavored to class some new-found and unfamiliar species by comparison with the pictures of the book; if it were there represented, we were unable to recognize it, and many a well-known plant appeared to us a total stranger as depicted in the book. But the illustrations in "Our Northern Shrubs" are not only beautiful, but—which is more to the point—are eminently satisfactory. They consist of 205 photographic plates and 35 pen-and-ink drawings. As is to be expected of the author of "Our Native Trees," the arrangement of the present work is admirable: the shrubs are grouped into families, each member of which is first analyzed scientifically and then described popularly; much interesting information concerning the derivation of the name is given, and not infrequently some quaint tradition regarding the plant is related; in case of a rare and therefore not easily obtainable shrub, the reader is informed as to the place where one may be seen. POETRY.

More Love Songs.

LOVE SONGS FROM THE GREEK. By Jane Monot Sedgwick. John Lane, New York.

The most recent addition to Lane's "Lover's Library" is called "Love Songs from the Greek," and is by Jane Monot Sedgwick, who, we are informed, is a lyric poet of no limited qualities. We read in the editor's notes that "The wealth of material of this character in Greek poetry is considerable, though some of the most perfect poems remain the sole memorial of their author, whose other verses the world has been willing to forget." It is, perhaps, not out of place to remark here that the world certainly deserves no censure for this. Continuing the note: "As to the musical qualities of Miss Sedgwick's English versions, it is sufficient to mention that several of her poems have been selected by the distinguished composer, Miss Liza Lehmann, for the purpose of libretto, as it were, to a song cycle such as she wove about the Fitzgerald Omar Khayyam." It is to be inferred, from this part of the note, that the volume contains "English versions." The author has invested many of them with a meter that sounds strangely like the hymns of Wesley and Toplady—a style not often met with in any form of Greek love songs. The words, in many instances, are incomparably dull, and the rhyme is too often tiringly bad. That Miss Sedgwick has a keen sense of the proper way to effect a union of the sublime and the ridiculous, is attested by the following, entitled "A Midsummer Night:

"Merciless little mosquitoes, who drink of our blood with delight,
Two-winged torments that buzz round
my bed in the silence of night;
Leave my beloved to slumber; fly over to me if you need,
Light on my limbs if you like it, and linger to feast and to feed.
Why do I reason with you, O relentless? for now as I speak, Lo, you have reached my beloved, and seem to be stinging her cheek."

The author seems to have a very wholesome respect for the mosquito as a factor in young love, as will be seen in "The Message:"

"Bear her my message, mosquito; go touch but the tip of her ear,
Sing to her ever so softly, so she, and she only, can hear;
Tell her that he who adores her is waking and waiting alone,
While she forgetteth and sleepeth; O musical singer, begone!
Whisper it low that none other may happen to hear in the house,
Lest the mere message I send her an envious pang should arouse;
And if thou bring the dear maiden I look for and long for, to me,
Listen, O little mosquito! I'll make a great hero of thee."

Out of the eighty-six selections in the volume, there are scarcely more than a half dozen that are touched with poesy. T. A. K.

RELIGION.

Evangelism.

PRESENT-DAY EVANGELISM. By Wilbur Chapman, D.D. The Baker & Taylor Co., New York.

We have little doubt that the inexperienced minister of the gospel will find much that is both instructive and interesting between the covers of a little book recently issued under the title of "Present-Day Evangelism." The author, J. Wilbur Chapman, D.D., is secretary of the General Assembly Committee on Evangelistic Work for the Presbyterian church. It can scarcely be said that there is much that is new in the volume, and though the writer as a rule displays breadth of view, he occasionally permits his enthusiasm to betray him into something which strongly resembles fanaticism. Dr. Chapman has endeavored to produce a handbook which would be a guide to the successful organization and carrying on of the work of an individual church or a community. In its entirety, his book is a presentation of present-day evangelism, and a discussion of the old methods of evangelistic work. He says: "Truth never changes, it is always the same, but the adaptation and application of truth may be a matter of times and seasons. The evangelism of the present day must be the evangelism of the first century or it is not true of Christ and his work. . . . The evangelist is frequently spoken of as being professional. I do not at all like the word professional, as applied to the evangelist, and only use it in the sense in which one might speak of the pastor as professional, and for want of a better expression. I have known the church long enough to know that he is needed and his work is absolutely necessary to the well-rounded out completeness of the church. I have studied my Bible with sufficient care to know that his office is of divine appointment, and can no more be obliterated than the office of pastor or teacher, and yet as a matter of fact the real soul winner is the pastor, his first assistant is the church member, and the evangelist is a specialist who comes to perform a needed service at a critical time. If he is a man with a message he ought to be received with widespread arms and with true heartfelt sympathy by those with whom he comes to labor." Clergymen who have found many obstacles in the way of the successful performance of their duties and who are discouraged thereby, will probably find this work useful and will welcome it accordingly. FICTION.

The Clock-tinker.

DARREL OF THE BLESSED ISLES. By Irving Bacheller. Lothrop Publishing Co., Boston.

That Mr. Irving Bacheller should do anything mediocre in the literary line, is not, we believe, within the range of probability. At least, he has not so far exhibited any indications of a capacity in this direction. Than "invigorating" we can think of no other word which is so applicable to his latest work, "Darrel of the Blessed Isles." This is another tale of the north country, fragrant with the atmosphere of the untrammeled things of Nature. In Mr. Bacheller's own words: "The author has tried to give some history of that uphill road, traversing the rough back country, through which men of power came once into the main highway, dusty, timid, footsore, and curiously old-fashioned. Now is the upgrade eased by scholarship; young men labor with the foot-ball instead of the buck-saw, and wear high collars, and travel on a Pullman car, and dally with slang and cigarettes in the smoking-room. Altogether it is a new republic, and only those unborn shall know if it be greater.

". . . In Darrel it is sought to portray a force in fetters and covered with obscurity, yet strong to make its way and widely felt. His troubles granted, one may easily concede his character, and his troubles are, mainly, no fanciful invention. There is good warrant for them in the court record of a certain case, together with the inference of a great lawyer who lived a time in its odd mystery. The author, it should be added, has given success to a life that ended in failure. He cares not if that success be unusual, should anyone be moved to think it within his reach."

Through paternal love, Darrel became a criminal, through brotherly love—a philanthropist, and again through paternal love—a convict. A character uplifting, encouraging, and altogether good to know, is this clock-tinker by trade, wit and philosopher by nature, man of mystery through fate. His philosophy is charming, being purely Shakespearian in character and language, and delivered with a brogue which is perceptible even in print. "His tongue had long obeyed the lilt of classic diction; his thought came as easy in Elizabethan phrase. The slight Celtic brogue served to enhance the piquancy of his talk. Moreover he was really a man of wit and imagination." Here are three bits of combined wit and philosophy:

"'Mind the two hands on the clock an' keep them to their pace or they'll beckon thee to poverty.'"

"'In the day o' the last judgment God'll mind the look o' thy horse.'"

"'Who drains the cup o' another's happiness shall find it bitter, but who drains the cup o' another's bitterness shall find it sweet.'"

The mystery is absorbing, as, indeed, is every other feature of the book. But above, and apart from all else, stands Darrel of the Blessed Isles of literature—unique but natural, lovable and uplifting, and destined to be an unforgettable and oft-quoted personage in the world of fiction.

A Crockett Romance.

FLOWER-O'-THE-CORN. By S. R. Crockett. McClure, Phillips & Co., New York.

The reader who acquaints himself with the contents of the 411 pages in Mr. Crockett's latest book, "Flower-o'-the-Corn," will do so under one of three influences: a dearth of other reading matter; an uncapitulating admiration for Mr. Crockett; a desire to make idle hours seem less interminable. The book gives the impression that the writer, without any well defined idea of his own intentions regarding it, started out to write it hoping that things would take care of themselves. The result is the one to be expected—numerous inconsistences and various things which should be explained and are not. He goes to a great deal of trouble to get his heroine christened "Flower-o'-the-Corn," and then the situation is far from being either satisfactory or plausible. The style is artificial, overly dramatic, and in many places gives evidence of having been "forced" to meet the demands of the occasion. In fact, the book might be a "composite" of the works of several other writers, among them Laura Jean Libbey, Marie Corelli, and the creator of the "Dead-wood Dick" series, whose name we cannot recall. This is the author's preamble: "It was the age of the Grand Louis—the Fourteenth of the name (Louis the least of all great kings and great men,) and question and answer were still quick and straight as the give-and-take of sword-play. That is, save about the Court of the King, where all things grow naturally crooked as the head of a thorn stick that is cut from the hedge-root to fit the hand of him who cuts it.

"But of this pride of life in high places we shall see little, having for the most part to do with the living and dying of poor men embattled against the powers of this world, against spiritual wickednesses in high places—together with the strange ever-new to-and-fro of life—and especially with what men will do or love, each according to his spirit and understanding of the meaning of the inwardness of the word."

The scene is laid for the most part in the fortified village of La Cavalerie, in the district of the Cevennes, the stronghold of the rebel Camisards—Calvinists who were fighting for the privilege of worshiping God in their own way. The principal characters are: Capt. Maurice Raith, favorite secretary of His Grace the Duke of Marlborough; Patrick Wellwood, a chaplain in the service of the Queen of Great Britain, France and Ireland; the latter's daughter, Frances, otherwise Flower-o'-th-Corn; Yvette Foy, a French spy; and Jean Cavalier, leader of the Camisards.

MISCELLANEOUS BOOKS.

A Unique Collection.

A BOOK OF CURIOUS FACTS. Compiled by Don Lemon. New Amsterdam Book Company, New York.

One of the most astounding productions that ever came out of New York lies before us. It is labeled, "A Book of Curious Facts of General Interest, Relating to Almost Everything Under the Sun. A Perfect Mine of Nuggets for Table Talk." We have investigated its claim to embodying facts relating to nearly everything under the sun, and have discovered it to be perfectly well founded; indeed, we consider that it would have been scarcely a mistake to omit the qualifying word "almost." When we emerged from the confusion into which we were thrown by our well-meant attempt to familiarize ourselves with the contents of the volume, we were conscious of a determination to imitate Sherlock Holmes in at least one particular; that is, we would endeavor to forget as speedily as possible much that we had learned, in order to make room in our memory for things of more importance. Seriously speaking, however, this compilation (or conglomeration of strange and wonderful data will be warmly welcomed in many a home. This will be the case in those households wherein abide the young, the impressionable, the superstitious and the visionary; for this class of readers, it contains a wealth of material of a varied nature. For instance, on the first page we find an ancient formula for the regulation of the paring of the nails, the last two lines of which read thus:

"A man had better ne'er been born
Than have his nails on Sunday shorn."

Two pages further on, we discover a dissertation on the marking, shape and color of the nails, an item which is already preceded by the family tree of the rat; and the signs and omens of different countries are allotted a generous share of space. Turning the pages rapidly, we find "heads" whose variety is comprised under such captions as "How to See the Wind," "The Flapping of a Fly's Wing," "The Power of Kindness," "Evolution of the Piano," "Venus of Milo," "What are 'Morganatic' Marriages?" "Superstitions About Gems," "Errors of History," "How to Tell a Person's Age," "Superstitions About Babies," "The Parodoxes of Science," "The Female Athlete," "Variety in Domestic Life," "How to Enjoy Life," "Rules for Getting Rich," "Deaths of the Apostles," "Origin of Mathematical Signs," "What is Beauty," and so we might continue almost indefinitely. The book is a faithful witness to the originator's industry as a collector of interesting items.

A Much-needed Book.

THE BODY BEAUTIFUL. By Nannette Magruder Pratt. The Baker & Taylor Co., New York.

"Talk health. The dreary, never-changing tale
Of mortal maladies is worn and stale.
You cannot charm, or interest, or please
By harping on that minor chord, disease.
Say you are well, or all is well with you,
And God shall hear your words and make them true."

This is the inspiring little verse which we find heading some equally inspiring talks on physical well-being. The verse partakes largely of mental science; but the book itself is founded entirely upon something that is more generally comprehensible, namely, common sense. The author, Nannette Magruder Pratt, calls her volume "The Body Beautiful." She says: "I know you think I am a cranky old woman, but I am not. I am just in the heydey of my youth, and I am leading a perfectly healthful life, and I cannot keep it to myself. I want to let others know how to be well, and I am giving out facts, not crankyisms. . . . Wake up, everybody, and get out of your slothful, ignorant way of living, and mount to the platform of health." Mrs. Pratt talks how to obey the latter injunction as the letter. She takes the standpoint that beauty is dependent upon health and health upon a proper diet; she then effectually dissipates a popular fallacy by adding: "Dieting does not mean living on bread and water—far from it; but most people shrink from the word 'diet'. . . . To people, men and women, who take for their luncheon coffee and pie, or coffee and doughnuts, I have nothing to say. I could not do the subject justice. . . . Right here, calling down wrath upon my head from the soda-fountain man, let me enter a strong protest against ice-cream soda, egg phosphate, egg chocolate, and many other concoctions that soda foundtains are responsible for. The only good thing about an egg phosphate is the egg. The only good thing about a glass of ice-cream soda is the glass—and that is not always as clean as it might be." Mrs. Pratt has, to the best of her ability, avoided the common error of preparing her book for the elect who have nothing to do but be beautiful; she has made a laudable effort to adapt it to the needs of the many as well as the few; and if she has laid down rules the observance of which will be found impossible by a large percentage of her readers, the fault lies not with the rules, but with the faults in the enforced routine of these strenuous times. She is fully alive to the fact that it is only the privileged ones who can control their diet, and in this connection says: "I know it is hard for people in a boarding house to follow a diet, but out of all that is set before one surely a few healthful things can be selected. . . . If your landlady gives you ham and eggs three times a day, with roast pork and apple sauce apple sauce is good) on Sunday, change your boarding place." Mrs. Pratt lays much stress on the value of systematic exercising, particularly in the open air. The exercises which she minutely describes require no apparatus, and consume a comparatively small amount of time. In the back of the book are several excellent recipes for toilet articles; many of the illustrations are quite attractive, representing the author in various graceful poses which serve to accentuate the desirability of a "body beautiful."

OTHER REVIEWS.

BY A TIMES REVIEWER.
NEW MAGAZINES.

Howard Crosby Butler, lecturer on architecture at Princeton University and author of "The Story of Athens," has written for the June Century a description of the journey of the American expedition to Northern Central Syria, undertaken in 1899 and 1900, under the charge of Mr. Butler.

John Burroughs has an article on "The Ways of Nature" in the forthcoming June Century, which contains high praise for Kipling's work in natural history. He says that we are never at a loss how to take Kipling in the "Jungle Books" and of the story of "The White Seal." Mr. Burroughs says that he could not detect one departure from the facts of the life history of the seal, so far as it is known.

Gunton's Magazine for June contains a leading article on the "Application of the Monroe Doctrine by Europe," by R. S. Guernsey; an article on "The Czar's Reform Proclamation;" a description of "How Cables Are Laid, Worked and Mended;" a discussion of "The Wealth of the World," by Eugene Parsons; and a number of other equally pertinent articles and editorials.

Everybody's Magazine for June is the first issue under the management of the Ridgway-Thayer Company. Mr. Ridgway was for seven years vice-president of the Frank A. Munsey Company, and Mr. Thayer was associated for seven years with the Ladies' Home Journal. The combination of so much experience ought to insure success. The advance notices of contents promise a large and varied assortment of literary matter for this initial number of the magazine.

The complete novel in Ainslee's for June is "Partners," by Ethel Watts Mumford. Other well-known contributors in the same issue are Richard Le Gallienne, Katharine C. Thurston, John D. Barry, Edgar Saltus, Douglas Story, Bliss Carman, Geraldine Bonner, Clinton Scollard, Harvey J. O'Higgins and Elia W. Peattie.

The expression, "The Wandering Home," which Richard Le Gallienne takes for the title of an essay in Ainslee's for June, the author admits to be paradoxical, as the idea of home is identical with the idea of permanency. But the wandering home is not for the mediocre mass, but for that rare type to whose temperament "that sense of rootedness of anchorage," is one to inspire it with feelings little short of terror." No doubt Mr. Le Gallienne will also admit that it is better for the world that the majority of people long for permanency in their homes.

A timely article in the June Success is Ridgely Torrence's "The Young Men of the Administration." Orison Swett Marden claims that "Stamina and Power Are Country-Bred." Frank Fayant contributes an article on the economic problem of "Financing a Nation," and Julius Norregard a pen sketch, "Communing with Nature—Without a Gun."

Owen Kildare's "The Requiem of the 'Has-Beens'" is announced to appear in the July issue of Success. It is a study of the idle in a great city—the men who live in yesterday, and who know nothing of today or tomorrow.

PEOPLE AND THINGS LITERARY.

The Macmillan company are publishing "Representative English Comedies under the general editorship of Charles Mills Gayley of the University of California.

About the end of the present month the Macmillan company will publish a new edition, the third, of "The Roentgen Rays in Medicine and Surgery," by Dr. Francis H. Williams. This work became the standard as soon as it was published, and it is practically the only book of importance in its field. The author has made considerable additions to the volume for the new edition.

On June 28 there will occur the bicentenary of the birth of John Wesley. It is that circumstance, perhaps, which has suggested to Holden Pike a volume on "Wesley and His Preachers." It is to be published by Fisher Unwin soon. Within this plan there comes an account of his characteristics as a man, and little sketches are given of the preachers who helped him to make Methodism what it now is. The book will include a concise history of Wesley's Chapel, and will have many illustrations.

Henry James has now finished his book about William Wetmore Story, the distinguished American sculptor and man of letters. With his old college contemporary, James Russell Lowell, and with the Brownings, Story maintained a warm friendship and a voluminous correspondence. His biography is also rich in reminiscences of many notable English visitors to Rome during the latter half of the nineteenth century. Story had been intended to follow the law, but a chance led him to become a sculptor. He went to Rome in pursuance of his art, and later made Italy his home. Messrs. Blackwood will publish Mr. James's book.

Arizona is not esteemed a locality wherein pure art doth flourish, lest it be of the aboriginal variety. Yet it is a fact that one of the finest of the book productions of the month has been evolved at Phoenix. It is the "Poker Rubaiyat" of Kirke LaShelle, illustrated and printed by Frank Holme. The artist is one of the best known of newspaper illustrators, with fame for clever work that is high among the managing editors all the way from New York to San Francisco. At the present time he is a resident in Arizona's capital city, where he will probably remain for years to come. These years he proposes to improve in the issuance of books of varying type, yet unique. He has done a couple of works of the hand-made type, with the color blocks cut out with a jack-knife of pocket size, and the limited editions have been consumed as though by fire. Now Mr. Holme is starting on more ambitious plans, wherein he proposes to abandon the jack-knife and apply it long and to utilize all the arts of the artist and engraver. Holme is a corporation, under the style of "The Bandar Log Press." His health failed in breezy Chicago and he was ordered south. Forthwith his friends, mainly of the art preservative, incorporated him, for his and their own benefit. The stockholders number something over a hundred. Among them are George Ade, Charles Austin Bates, R. H. Davis, Charles Dryden, W. W. Denslow, James H. Eckels, Charles Dana Gibson, Elbert Hubbard, H. L. Hamlin, Finley Peter Dunne, Kirke LaShelle, Victor F. Lawson, W. E. Lewis, Dexter Marshall, John T. McCutcheon, T. C. McClure, Charles Warren Stoddard, Julian L. Street, N. B. Tarkington, and a few score of others equally well known in the literary world.

Motherhood is woman's natural destiny—actual barrenness is rare — comforting words to childless women.

Many women are denied the happiness of children simply because of some curable derangement of the generative organs.

Among the many triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is overcoming cases of supposed barrenness. Thousands of children owe their existence to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This great medicine is so well calculated to regulate every function of the generative organs that its efficiency in this respect is vouched for by multitudes of women.

Nine Years Without a Child.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—We had been married nine years and never had children, and now we have a little baby girl nineteen months old, the joy of our life. She owes her existence to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was a constant sufferer. I had pains in my back and sides, especially before menstruation. I had doctored but received no benefit. Hearing so much about the Vegetable Compound I decided to try it, and after taking six bottles was cured."—MRS. T. H. GOULBEY, 1223 Nevada St., East Toledo, Ohio.

Portrait of a Baby Girl Who Owes her Existence to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wrote to you some time ago asking why I could not have a child. I explained that I had displacement of the womb and ovarian trouble, and suffered with backache and headache. You sent me a nice letter in reply giving me full instructions how to treat myself, and in accordance with your directions I took your Vegetable Compound, and followed your kind advice faithfully in every respect, and now I have a little girl, the joy of our home. I never would have had my baby if it had not been for your advice and medicine.

"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for what it has done for me. I hope other childless women will see this letter."—MRS. JOHN UHRLACKEN, 1111 Broadway, Cleveland, Ohio.

Another Happy Case in Brooklyn

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wrote to you a year ago telling you of my troubles. I had pains in the ovaries, menses were painful, and I had never borne children.

"You answered my letter and I followed your advice. I was completely cured. Have just given birth to a fine, healthy babe, and during childbirth had a very easy time.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines are a God send to women who want to be mothers."—MRS. SCHULTZ, 12 Luzner St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Many women whose letters we print were utterly discouraged, and life lacked all joy to them when they wrote Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., without charge of any kind. They received advice which made them strong, useful women again.

SANTA ANA.

SANTIAGO FOX HUNT.

SANTA ANA, May 22.—A number of parties of the "old-timers" of the county, with invited guests from home and abroad, went to the Orange County Park, Santiago Cañon, this afternoon for the annual hunt and barbecue of the Santiago Fox Club. The party assembled this evening at the park, where a larbe barbecue was held, supper being served at 5 o'clock. Following was held the annual business meeting and election, and the evening concluded with a dance at the pavilion. Before sunrise, after a hasty cup of coffee, the hunters will start on the chase with fully forty hounds from the packs of Dr. Nimmo of the San Joaquin ranch, Ed Gaines of Clearwater, G. T. Fords, Judge J. E. Pleasants of Santiago Cañon, and of the Hunting Club. Game has been unusually plentiful in the cañon and hills this year, and the hopes of the hunters are high tonight for an excellent day's sport. Wild cats, coyotes and foxes are the quarry. Tents were provided for the women of the party tonight, while the men made their beds on straw under the giant oaks.

The fox hunts in the cañon have been an annual feature of Orange county sports for the past several years, and for three years past the Fox Club has had the management. The membership of the club includes a large number of enthusiastic sportsmen of Santa Ana and vicinity, and the hunt is participated in by nearly all the older hunters of the county.

FRUIT SHIPPERS' FAILURE.

Porter Bros., the fruit-shipping concern, whose affairs have been placed in the hands of a receiver, held a joint contract with the Fay Fruit Company for the handling of the output of the Santa Ana Valley Walnut Growers' Association for the coming season, similarly to last year, when the two companies took alternate cars of the nuts. The walnut association is secured by a $3500 cash bond for the fulfillment of the contract, each company depositing half the amount. Even should the fairs of Porter Bros. come to such a pass that the terms of the contract could not be fulfilled, officers of the walnut association anticipate no trouble in finding a means of marketing the crop to advantage, as the demand for the output is very active. It is probable that this year the amount of walnuts will be less than seventy-five carloads, or something under last year's crop.

PADDING SKELETONS
That's Postum's Job.

The rapidity with which pure food and drink will win a hard battle against ill health makes people stare sometimes. The most wonderful medicines in the world may be tried without success so long as the body is slugged with coffee. After lying 10 months in bed from his third attack of La Grippe, a gentleman of Bridgeport, Vt. recovered his health almost entirely in two weeks by leaving off coffee and drinking Postum Cereal Coffee at meal times. He says:

"I was reduced in weight from 190 to about 100 pounds and thus remained a poor, helpless skelton for 8 months notwithstanding my physician's liberal prescriptions, besides many boxes and bottles of extensively advertised remedies and dozens of bottles of malt and other tonics.

"Finally in April, I stopped using coffee and other drugs and medicines of every kind and adopted a diet of plenty of Postum and Grape-Nuts. To my surprise in a short time I was able to eat and digest soft boiled eggs for breakfast and beef steak for dinner. I gained flesh and strength rapidly.

"On the afternoon of June 9 I walked out of my residence for the first time in 10 months and nine days. Two weeks later I left the city for my boyhood's home in the old Green Mountain State where I am now living in better health and strength than I have had since my first attack of La Grippe in 1892. I regard my case as having been hopeless so far as medical science was concerned by reason of heart failure, nervous prostration, and as my physician termed it, nearly total paralysis of certain internal organs, but found all this was caused by coffee drinking.

"Before I found Postum I was 70 years old, now I feel 70 years young." Name furnished by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Weakness

Perhaps the most prevalent of all the ailments peculiar to men, yields readily to the mild methods of treatment I employ.

"Weakness" is merely a symptom of local disorder, usually an inflamed condition of the prostate gland. This I overcome by a thoroughly scientific system of local treatment, and the full and normal degree of strength and vigor is permanently restored.

Contracted Disorders

Under my original system of treatment these troublesome ailments are thoroughly cured in about half the usual time required. This is important, because it removes the danger of chronic inflammation being established in the prostate gland. Do not take chances—my method is the safest and surest treatment known.

Varicocele

Varicocele has robbed many a man of his strength and vitality, and if neglected results in a withering and wasting away of the organs involved. I cure varicocele in one week by an absolutely painless process. No cutting, no caustic.

Varicocele Cured
4 to 6 Days

The methods which I employ in the treatment of varicocele and associated diseases for speedy results, have long been approved by the extent of my practice and by my phenomenal success in the case of these conditions. My methods result in the establishment of perfect health. They do not involve loss of time from business and are free from painful, harsh measures, which patients would do well to avoid. I will be pleased to explain to gentlemen who are interested.

DR. MORTON,

MEN

STRICTLY RELIABLE

DOCTOR H'ARRISON

THOROUGHLY RELIABLE AND CAN BE DEPENDED UPON

It seems unnecessary for DR. HARRISON & CO. to say much of themselves. The public know them well and we think favorably. Place establishing their office in Los Angeles they have had a large practice. They are willing the people should judge them by the results of their work. Ailing men visiting them will always be given references among leading business men, who we think will vouch for their ability and integrity. We court the closest scrutiny of our work by physicians and the general public.

VARICOCELE

It is indeed fortunate for men having varicocele that DR. HARRISON & CO. are enabled to say to you that they POSITIVELY CURE EVERY CASE OF VARICOCELE THEY TREAT. It is cured to stay cured. This they give an absolute guarantee to do. To every man suffering with varicocele and wishing to be cured we will gladly introduce him to dozens of leading business men here in Los Angeles that we have cured, and we will give one thousand dollars for a case we have failed to cure that we have treated. Are not these convincing facts?

TREATMENT BY MAIL

If you will send us your name and address we will forward you our book and colored plates of the organs; also our question blank containing a full list of questions bearing on the symptoms of the various diseases we cure. If you will answer the questions and return the blank to us we will be able to inform you at once if it will be necessary for you to come to our office for treatment. A large majority of cases must come to the city and receive our personal attention in order to be cured; on the other hand, we find a very large number of cases which can be cured absolutely by sending the proper treatment. Thus saving the patient time and large extra expense.

CLAREMONT.

BOUND FOR KLONDIKE.

CLAREMONT, May 22.—Edwin T. Brink, of the graduating class, and Clyde Frisbe, of the senior preparatory class, leave Claremont tomorrow en route for the Klondike regions, to be gone until next fall, at which time Mr. Brink will commence a complete course in medicine and Mr. Frisbe will continue his studies at Pomona College, where his services as star center rush on the Varsity football team have made him well known. They expect to take the steamer at Port Los Angeles Sunday morning. A ten days' voyage from Seattle, Wash., will land them in the frozen north, where they will enter the employ of a gold mining company. The Senior Class gave them a spread at Sumner Hall last night.

LORDSBURG.

CHANCE FOR VAST GATHERING.

LORDSBURG, May 22.—Prof. William C. Hannawalt, president of Lordsburg College, left this evening for Bellefontaine, being a delegate to the Annual National Conference of the German Baptist Brethren Church. He is accompanied by Prof. J. M. Cox and six other delegates from the Lordsburg Church. Delegates from all parts of the world will be present and a very large assemblage is expected. At their conference last year at Harrisburg, Pa., 80,000 were in attendance. The first meeting will be held the 30th inst., and will be devoted to the seven schools of the sect in the United States, of which the institution at Lordsburg is the only one on the Pacific Coast. This State is entitled to the regular delegates and at the last district conference held at Colton it was voted to extend an invitation to the annual National Conference to meet somewhere in the district of California and Arizona next year.

This invitation has already been presented to the general committee and will be acted upon at the coming sessions.

The California delegates feel quite confident that this invitation will be accepted and Prof. Hannawalt is enthusiastic for securing the conference for Southern California—which in all probability means Los Angeles.

PARAGRAPHETTES.

The youth and beauty of Claremont, represented in the Ladies' Glee Club of Pomona College, gave a concert tonight in the Woodman Hall to a large and appreciative audience.

The showers of the past few days have increased the season's rainfall to a total of 24.10 inches, an amount exceeded only four times in twenty-six years.

WHITTIER.

DRY TOWN, SURE.

WHITTIER, May 22.—Whittier is evidently to be a "dry" town. The city Council and the city machinery seem to have combined to make it so. A week ago the Council passed a stringent ordinance, enforcing absolute prohibition. Today the pump used in raising water to the city reservoir broke down, and the large reservoir is entirely dry. As a consequence the town is in the grip of a regular water famine. Children went to school this afternoon with dirty faces, and dinner dishes in many a home remained unwashed. A number of brick buildings are being put up, but bricklayers could not get water for mortar-mixing, and work of that nature is at a standstill. The problem was an especially hard one for the hotel keepers and livery men. The small reservoir in Turnbull Canon was connected with the city reservoir this afternoon and with very careful use will probably give enough for absolute necessities until Saturday night, when it is hoped to have the break repaired, and the reservoir again filled. For once in Whittier's history, however, both saint and sinner, the prohibitionist and the man who uses liquor are all on the same level—they all have a good strong thirst, and one that may not be quenched right away.

SANTA CATALINA ISLAND.

FISHING AND OTHER NOTES.

AVALON, May 22.—J. W. Heins, manager of the pipe organ department of the Aeolian Company of New York, has been seeking relaxation from toil in fishing, and finds the sport much to his liking. Yesterday he had good luck.

William Savage essayed a bit of fishing from the wharf. He cast and then laid down the rod for a minute. While his attention was diverted elsewhere a fish snatched his bait and starting off with it, dragged his rod and reel along. It disappeared, and Savage supposed he had seen the last of his fine tackle, but, on peering down into the clear water, although it was twenty-five feet deep, he saw that the reel had caught on a coil of rope which lay on the bottom, and, procuring a row boat, it was soon fished up, a fine rock bass being still impaled on the hook.

J. W. Argenbright of New York, with the Adelaide, made a nice catch yesterday afternoon.

Miss Louise Cochran of St. Paul and C. J. Fay of New York were right in the line of luck last evening, when out with Mexican Joe. Miss Cochran, after a sharp battle, landed a twenty-five-pound yellowtail.

Mrs. F. S. Dennis of New York and J. S. Carhart, with the Violet G., had a boatload of fun with bonita, barracuda and rock bass.

Leslie S. Smith of Armona, Cal., and J. Cline of Chicago, with the Eras, captured a good string.

H. E. Smith, who seems to have a charmed hook, brought in a large catch.

Isaac Millbank and Son, Lawrence, with the Augusta, this morning secured a twenty-eight-pound albicore.

Mrs. F. W. Clark returned yesterday from a week in Los Angeles. Mr. Clark will spend an additional week in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Rabbeth of Redlands came over today. Mr. Rabbeth is the inventor of the "Rabbeth drag."

Mrs. Dewey, an old summer resident, with her son, came over yesterday for a few days.

Mrs. C. Diffenbough and Miss D. I. McNair, who have been at the Windsor a week, returned to Los Angeles today.

A. Newland and wife of San Pedro took quarters at Hotel Windsor yesterday for a few days.

Among the arrivals at the Windsor yesterday are: A. W. Maxwell, El Paso; A. J. Demmell, C. S. Wechman, Waterloo, Ia.; W. O. Cline and wife, Chicago; Mrs. W. E. Cullum, Hazel Cullum, Los Angeles; W. R. Holbert, West Newton, Pa., and Frank Parker, Los Angeles.

Horace B. Stevens, an insurance and real estate broker of El Paso, has taken the Manning cottage on Whitley avenue for the season.

J. Ransome Bransby, superintendent of the Los Angeles Home of Truth, came over yesterday and is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. George Edwin Burnell for a few days.

J. B. Baker, proprietor of the Catalina dairy, has put in his usual summer appearance and is preparing to begin business soon.

Conway Griffith has received the lumber for his new bungalow and begun building.

Sev. W. H. Doggett, rector of the Church of the Angels, is going to take up his residence among them here and now without waiting for the hereafter. He is building a cottage which is perched up on the mountainside overtopping everything in the village and but little below the stage road where it climbs the heights to the westward and where even the angels would wish for an extra pair of wings to reach.

Howard Schoder was in town today looking his part, that of "country jake" to perfection. He is spending a few weeks at Middle Ranch and has become an accomplished vaquero, spending most of his time in the saddle and making a "hand" in all the rounds-ups of the sheep.

LONG BEACH.

TOWN GETS BOULEVARD.

LONG BEACH, May 22.—At a special meeting of the City Trustees Thursday night the formalities attendant upon the city's acquiring possession of a boulevard along the beach front were concluded. The Seaside Water Company relinquishes title to the strip in return for the vacation by the city of certain streets and alleys near Asbury. From Pine avenue to Alamitos avenue the strip is 100 feet wide and from Chestnut avenue to the west city limits it is about seventy-five feet in width.

An unknown man came near to drowning while swimming close to the outer end of the wharf late last evening. He was a strong swimmer, but after being in the water some time was taken sick and was barely able to make his way to the piles under the wharf, where he clung shouting for help. Wharfinger Byerly climbed down the pile and held the rapidly-weakening man up with a pole until Smith Shallenberger came with a rope. They drew him up to the platform and soon had him sufficiently recovered to curse the town vigorously because it did not have a crew and lifeboat to follow all who undertook long swims at sea.

A final meeting of the General Committee having in charge the entertainment of the Presbyterian General Assembly here Saturday afternoon was held last evening. It was decided to appoint all the clergymen in town on a Reception Committee and to have them assisted by the members of the Board of Trade. When the train arrives the guests will be taken at once to the pavilion and luncheon will be served. Souvenirs will be distributed, and if any time is left, a ride about town will follow. The Long Beach Marine Band will furnish music. Announcement is made that Dr. McMillan of New York and Dr. Potter of Oakand will preach in the local Presbyterian Church Sunday.

A small boat belonging to Frank McGinnis broke from her moorings last night and was wrecked on the beach. Conflicting currents carried her through the piling under the wharf twice before she reached the surf, and that helped to break her up.

A. L. Schattman left this evening for New York and will spend the summer in the Adirondacks.

SANTA MONICA.

TROUBLES OF TAILORS.

SANTA MONICA, May 22.—Frank Burns, a traveling tailor, sought and obtained employment of Less Abney, a tailor of this city, a few days ago. Abney left his shop for a while Thursday. When he returned Burns had disappeared and a revolver and a pair of trousers were missing. Abney reported his loss to the police and, finding Burns, demanded the return of the missing articles. Following the demand Abney struck Burns in the face, inflicting wounds which bled freely. Both men were taken before Justice Jenness. Abney was fined $5, and Burns was sent to jail for thirty days.

A new banking house, under the name of "The Merchants' National Bank of Santa Monica" will be opened July 1. T. H. Dudley will be president. The institution will have a capital stock of $50,000.

The new public library board, organized by electing W. Q. Hull president and D. G. Holt secretary. The salary of the librarian was raised to $60 per month. Miss Elfie Mosse was unanimously reelected to that position.

W. E. Devore has been spending a week in the San Gabriel mountains.

Rev. Dr. Francis A. Wilber, of Mt. Vernon, O., and his sister, Mrs. C. L. Dickey, of Columbus, O., are visiting their brother, Rev. H. P. Wilber, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, and also their father here.

The temperance people will open their campaign for the adoption of the Long Beach prohibition ordinance in this city Sunday. A big tent with a capacity for seating 2000 people will be used. All the Protestant congregations of Santa Monica and Ocean Park will unite in meetings at the tent at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. The tent will be used in Santa Monica for a week and then in Ocean Park for the rest of the campaign.

FREE METHODISTS PLAN FOR SEMINARY.

SEVENTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS FOR HANDSOME BUILDING.

School to Open Next Fall at Highland Park—Delegates Elected to General Conference—Pastors Appointed to New Charges Today.

The educational advantages of Los Angeles are to be increased by the addition of a Free Methodist seminary, to be equipped in first-class style, and housed in a handsome $17,000 three-story building at Highland Park.

Yesterday's session of the Free Methodist annual conference for Southern California, Arizona and New Mexico was devoted to the educational interests of the church, and the new school enterprise was the center of interest. It aroused much enthusiasm.

The special School Committee, appointed at the last annual conference, reported the incorporation of the school under the State laws; and the donation by Ralph Rogers of a three-acre tract, and 100 residence lots.

Of this donation the committee reported the sale of lots to the amount of $11,450, all of which goes into the building fund for the new school.

The conference elected as its members of the Board of Trustees, Rev. C. B. Eby, Rev. D. C. Shepard, Rev. Elsworth Leonardson, Henry Bush of La Habra; Prof. J. G. Baird of Los Angeles, and M. C. Sperow of Pasadena.

The California Conference, which has just met in the northern part of the State, has elected as its members of the Board of Trustees, Rev. G. W. Griffith, district elder; Rev. M. L. Winegarden of Alameda; H. L. Kibby of San José.

The conference yesterday recommended to the new board that it elect Rev. C. B. Eby as the financial agent of the seminary.

The details of plans are not all completed; but it is proposed to erect a handsome three-story building on a commanding eminence in block 35 of Roger's Highland Park addition. The site occupies the full block, and the new building will be one of the most conspicuous in the Arroyo Seco Valley.

The newly-elected Board of Trustees will get down to work at once; and it is hoped to have the building ready for the school's opening next fall. Rev. C. B. Eby will present the interest of the school throughout the East during the summer.

CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS.

Thursday's sessions of the annual conference were devoted to the report of ministers and the passing of their characters.

Their annual reports showed a good spiritual state and a healthy growth. A new church has been organized at Santa Maria by District Elder James Seals.

Yesterday the district eiders were elected, and another interesting feature was the election of delegates to the General Conference which meets next month in Greenville, Ill.

Rev. M. N. Downing, transferred to this conference from the New York Conference, was elected presiding elder for the Los Angeles district.

Rev. David McLeod was reelected for the Arizona and New Mexico district.

The Hanford and San Luis Obispo districts are to be supplied with stationed elders, to be appointed by Bishop Hart.

Rev. C. B. Eby was elected delegate to the General Conference, with Rev. David McLeod as reserve delegate.

The lay delegate elected was Prof. J. G. Baird, with Mrs. Nora C. Roberts of Santa Paula as reserve delegate.

Yesterday afternoon the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society held its annual conference, and elected as its delegate to the General Conference Mrs. Nora C. Roberts, with Mrs. C. B. Eby as reserve. Mrs. Hart, wife of Bishop Hart, gave an address on "Removing Difficulties in Mission Work."

Last night Rev. E. Leonardson preached. Today the annual conference will hold sessions, both morning and afternoon, and it expects to close its work about 5 o'clock with the reading by the bishop of the appointments of ministers for the ensuing year. It is understood that many changes of pastors will be made.

On Sunday Bishop Hart will preach at both morning and evening services.

WOMAN IN SERIOUS TROUBLE.

Arrested on a Charge of Having Used Another's Name to Secure Credit at a Grocery.

Mrs. Tillie Denham, wife of a street-railway conductor, was arrested last evening on a charge of obtaining goods by false pretenses, and fortunately for her, the amount secured is not sufficient to make the charge a felony. The complainants in the case are Rivera Bros., grocers at the corner of Temple street and North Broadway. According to their statement, the woman appeared at their store early this month and represented herself to be Mrs. C. M. Patten, and gave her residence as the Aberdeen rooming house, No. 297 Temple street. She asked to open an account with the grocery firm, and was permitted to do so. She ran up a bill amounting to $10.55, and it was noticed that when she took her groceries away from the store she did not go in the direction of the house in which she said she roomed. The members of the firm sent one of their employés to follow her and ascertain where she lived. He ascertained who she is and that she lives at Court and Hill streets. The police were notified and the arrest followed. After the woman had been taken into custody, Ben Castruccio, another grocer, reported that he had been victimized by a woman whose description fits that of the accused, although it is not positively known that she was also a customer of his store.

OCCIDENTAL COLLEGE NOTES.

The programme for the oratorical contest tonight will consist of the three orations, a violin solo by Heloise Desivée Coutelenc and a vocal solo by E. S. Shank of the Immanuel Church quartette. William M. Walker of Occidental drew first place of the speakers; Clare Enyeart, representing U.S.C., will come next, leaving Pomona's delegate, Leonard Withington, the position that is most desired. Dr. Robert F. Coyle will present the awards to the winners, and other Presbyterian General Assembly commissioners may take part.

A close game of baseball is expected this morning between Pomona's nine and that of Occidental. St. Vincent has now almost certainly the championship, but these two colleges are fighting for supremacy. As each has won one game over the other, this will decide the tie. The game will be at Praeger Park at 10 o'clock.

The last two days of this week were given to the students to attend the meetings of the General Assembly, the spring vacation being postponed till this time.

Boycott Letters Good Advertising

Of the thousands of boycott letters of this firm that have been sent out by Rogers, Hay and Biddle, thousands have been handed us by unbridled American citizens who scorn such dastardly tactics of attempted coercion of a reputable firm that is and always has been friendly to labor interests. We are safe in saying that these letters alone have brought us hundreds of new customers who would show their contempt for such cravens as Rogers, Hay and Biddle. Can labor interests longer afford to have their interests ground into the mire by such a contemptible coterie of conspirators?
